Writing Learning Series for ELA Instructional Leaders

Join the LDOE for the Writing Learning Series for Instructional Leaders to learn how to support strong writing instruction in ELA classrooms. This learning series will guide leaders as they support teachers in leveraging writing opportunities in their high-quality instructional materials (HQIM), ensuring that writing expectations are aligned with the grade-level standards, using exemplars and rubrics effectively, leveraging peer editing, and using curriculum-embedded assessment data to inform intervention.

Registration is required for each 90-minute session. After registering for each session, participants will receive the webinar link in their registration email.
