Winn	1	The district was not notified by EarlySteps that the student would need an evaluation and an IEP within the time frame necessary. The district supervisor contacted the administrator over the staff member that was to initiate the process. The administrator indicated that this has happened with a few of the students under the same case worker. During this time, the child's mother attempted to contact the EarlySteps case worker repeatedly. When finally given a time, the mother could not schedule it around the child's frequent medical appointments. This issue caused dates to not fall within timelines.	1
