

Great Hearts Louisiana

Type 2 Charter Application for Great Hearts Lake Charles

Submitted to Louisiana Department of Education
March 27, 2026

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. Mission and Vision. The mission of Great Hearts Lake Charles is to cultivate students' minds and hearts through the pursuit of truth, goodness, and beauty. We provide a rigorous, egalitarian education that prepares all students to think clearly, write coherently, and speak confidently. Our scholars graduate with significant academic accomplishment, but most importantly, our scholars graduate with the strong moral character to serve a lasting good beyond themselves. Ultimately, Great Hearts Lake Charles will graduate young people who are thoughtful leaders, articulate communicators, and compassionate citizens prepared to thrive in college, career, and civic life. Graduates will become leaders of character who pursue wisdom, act with integrity, and contribute to the common good, reflecting Louisiana R.S. 17:3972's goals of expanding high-quality choices, promoting equality of opportunity, and fostering innovation.

2. Anticipated Student Population and Educational Need. Great Hearts Lake Charles will be located in central Calcasieu Parish. In Year 1, we will enroll 312 students in grades K-3. We intend to grow one grade level per year, with a maximum enrollment of 112 students per grade level. At full capacity, we will serve approximately 1,500 students in grades K-12. We anticipate a student population that mirrors that of the Parish: ~63% economically disadvantaged, ~58% White, ~30% Black, 8% Hispanic, and 2% Asian. More than 10,000 district students attend schools rated "C," "D," or "F," representing 34% of all schools. The district's Assessment Indicator scores for K-8 (69.1, "C") and high school (68.8, "C") are also well below the state's "A" benchmark of 90, meaning that, on average, students are not yet demonstrating mastery of grade-level standards at levels necessary to ensure long-term success. This data indicates a clear need for a school like Great Hearts Lake Charles – one that can provide a well-rounded, rigorous, all-honors academic experience that equips students with the knowledge and character to excel in college, career, and civic life.

3. Education Plan. The Great Hearts educational model consists of five key components: Classical, Liberal Arts Curriculum: Great Hearts offers a rigorous curriculum that supports all students through a coherent sequence of courses. Math, science, foreign language, fine arts, and humanities exceed Louisiana state standards and meet Tier 1 criteria. Students engage with the great works – from Plato and Homer to Shakespeare, Jane Austen, and Frederick Douglass – while participating in theater, visual arts, music, and choir. Students study Latin or Ancient Greek as a foundation for modern languages and all high school students complete four years of math and four years of advanced lab science, ensuring strong preparation in STEM and the liberal arts. Great Hearts ensures all students, including those with exceptional needs and English learners, can fully access the curriculum through differentiated instruction, tailored supports, and specialized plans that foster critical thinking and academic success. Academy Ethos: Students are encouraged to create a community of scholarship, leadership and service in their classrooms, extracurricular activities, and their relationships with peers and teachers. An honor code that upholds academic integrity supports a consistent approach to moral formation.

Professional, Passionate, and Uniquely Qualified Faculty: Our teachers are subject-matter experts drawn from K-12, higher education, and professional fields. Their love of learning and deep disciplinary knowledge are central to our approach. Grounded in the Socratic method, teachers focus on eliciting students' ideas and critical thinking rather than simply transmitting information.

Visible Leadership: The Head of School of a Great Hearts academy is the primary instructional and cultural leader, modeling the virtues of the best teachers and administrators. The Head of School mentors and collaborates with teachers, providing continuous feedback, and exemplifying collegiality, fairness, clarity, responsibility, and a love of learning. The broader leadership team and governing board bring extensive experience in managing and governing exceptional schools.

Family Involvement: Like students and teachers, the parents are encouraged to embrace and participate in the school's intellectual and moral vision. As the central role models and teachers in their own children's lives, parents can appreciate the significance of the school's vision and support their children in their journey towards it. Parent engagement, feedback and volunteerism are vital to the school's success.

4. Impact. Great Hearts Lake Charles adheres to Louisiana charter school law by providing a school option to “increase learning opportunities and access to quality education” for all students, while working to “encourage the use of different and innovative teaching methods, [and] educational models” through its classical liberal arts program and intentional school culture.¹ In Calcasieu Parish, one-third of schools are rated a “C” or lower and K–8 and high school Assessment Indicators remain below 70, indicating that many students are not yet college and career ready. In addition, only two schools offer a cohesive K-12 experience for families in CPSB, and no public schools currently offer a comprehensive classical education program, even though the K-12 model and the classical education model have a positive correlation to academic outcomes and positive school experience for all students.²³ Great Hearts Lake Charles directly addresses this need by offering a unique, proven K-12 academic program that provides all students the opportunity to engage in a rigorous, classical liberal arts curriculum that is content-rich and knowledge-building.

As Lake Charles strives to maintain its “development ready community” distinction, Great Hearts Lake Charles will work in conjunction with local business and economic priorities by providing families with a school option that emphasizes academic excellence, personal growth, college and workforce readiness and civic responsibility.⁴ This benefits the broader community by making Lake Charles an attractive site for business development and strengthens the long-term social and economic vitality of the Parish.

5. Great Hearts Louisiana has submitted two prior charter applications: (1) one for Great Hearts Harveston submitted to East Baton Rouge Public Schools on April 5, 2021, which was approved and is now in its third year of operation; and (2) a Type 1 application for Great Hearts Lake Charles submitted to the Calcasieu Parish School Board (CPSB) on October 20, 2025. The CPSB application received a “friendly denial” in January 2026. CPSB's evaluation indicated that the application met all rubric standards but that CPSB preferred the applicant pursue the Type 2 (BESE-authorized) route given CPSB's current strategic priorities.

The present application incorporates feedback from the Type 1 charter application evaluation and includes additional information based upon Great Hearts' ongoing experience operating Great Hearts Harveston in East Baton Rouge. Specifically, we have expanded our assessment narrative in response to CPSB feedback. We also incorporated updated family engagement data and community outreach outcomes, strengthened our Harveston performance narrative with 2024-25 growth data, and described Great Hearts Academic Improvement Plans for our accountability response. Since the prior application, no school leadership changes have occurred; one board member recently resigned (see response to question 27 for further detail).

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM AND CAPACITY

School Establishment

6. a. Great Hearts Lake Charles proposes bringing a new K-12 school to Calcasieu Parish to continue the momentum the Calcasieu Parish School Board (CPSB) has built – and support the community in taking it to the next level. Great Hearts celebrates the gains local educators in CPSB have made over the past few years. Since 2021, CPSB has experienced consistent growth in enrollment, welcoming an additional 4,000 students to its schools.⁵ Since 2017, public schools across Louisiana have experienced an enrollment decline of over 41,000 students, yet Lake Charles is experiencing an influx, creating expanded demand for more high-quality schools in the community.⁶

At the same time, CPSB students have shown continual progress, earning the district an overall “B” grade in 2024 and outpacing the state average for grades 3-12 on the 2024-2025 LEAP assessment.⁷ While CPSB’s progress is real and applauded, there is still work to be done. There are 19 schools, representing over 30% of the parish, that have earned a “C” or “D” rating (see table below).⁸

Letter Grade	Number of Schools	% of Total
A	12	21.8 %
B	24	43.6 %
C	12	21.8 %
D	7	12.7 %

Looking more closely at student achievement data in CPSB, two specific needs arise. First, The district’s Assessment Indicator scores for K–8 (69.1, “C”) and high school (68.8, “C”) are also well below the state’s “A” benchmark of 90, meaning that, on average, students are not yet demonstrating mastery of grade-level standards at levels necessary to ensure long-term success. Approximately 40% of students across the district are performing at the Mastery+ level in all content areas.⁹ While this represents a two point gain from the previous year, it falls short of ensuring college and career readiness for the majority of students in the community. Great Hearts has a proven record of success opening high performing charter schools serving students similar to those in Lake Charles. By offering high-quality seats to families in Lake Charles and Calcasieu Parish, Great Hearts would contribute to the district’s goal of ensuring more students achieve the state standard of Mastery+.

Another specific need is to address the disparities in achievement among specific subgroups of students. English Learners (approximately 3% of the student population) and Students with Disabilities (approximately 18% of the student population) are achieving Mastery+ at concerningly low rates and even underperforming the state average for Basic achievement in some grade levels and content areas.¹⁰ See the table below for more detail on current student achievement in CPSB based on LEAP 2024-2025 results for high school.¹¹

Despite the growth CPSB has shown, there is still an urgent need for more high-quality schools. These gaps in Mastery+ achievement and progress for students with disabilities and English Learners are concerning. Coupled with the positive trend in student population growth, there is a clear demand for more quality seats in proven school models in the area, as many families are still without the option to send their child to a high-performing school. By partnering with parents and community stakeholders to offer our rigorous, proven, classical liberal arts education, Great Hearts Lake Charles can provide these quality seats for the families and students of Calcasieu

Parish. In addition, Lake Charles families currently lack a high-quality, open-enrollment classical option; our program offers college-prep rigor without tuition barriers.

b. Currently, there are no public classical school models available to families in Calcasieu Parish. In CPSB, the only comparable K-12 school models are Starks High School and Bell City High School. Both of these campuses have composite ACT scores above the Calcasieu Parish and state-wide average. Greats Hearts does not yet have a graduating class in Louisiana, but we have 14 fully built out K-12 campuses in Texas and Arizona. At those campuses, with a similar student population, our students have achieved a 24.8 average ACT composite score, well above the state and parish averages, and exceeding the Bell City and Starks averages by 5.1 points and 4.3 points, respectively. This represents a 15-20 percentile difference¹³ and is significant because the ACT college readiness benchmark is Eng 18, Math 22, Reading 22, Science 23; accordingly, a student with a composite score of 24.8 is more likely to be college ready than a student with a composite score of 19.7 or 20.5.¹⁴

This difference also impacts student eligibility for Louisiana TOPS scholarships. For TOPS, a composite score 20 is the floor for the Opportunity award, 23 for Performance, and 27 for Honors. So 24.8 generally qualifies for Performance; 20.5 qualifies for Opportunity; 19.7 is below the usual minimum.

School System	Site Name	2023-2024 Average ACT Composite Score
Louisiana Public School Students	State-Wide	18.4
Calcasieu Parish	Parish-Wide	19
Calcasieu Parish	Bell City High School	19.7
Calcasieu Parish	Starks High School	20.5
Great Hearts Academies	Arizona and Texas Campuses (14 Campuses)	24.8

A stark difference can also be seen in the cohort graduation rates at Bell City, Starks, and Great Hearts Texas and Arizona campuses. At Bell City, 59.6% of the most recent cohort earned an Advanced+Basic diploma, a marker below the state average. At Starks, 50% of the most recent cohort did the same. This represents achievement below both the state and parish average. In comparison, 91%-100% of Great Hearts Arizona and Great Hearts Texas students are earning at least a basic diploma in their state.

Bell City High School	59.6
Starks High School	50
Great Hearts Arizona (11 Campuses)	91%-100% earn diploma
Great Hearts Texas (3 Campuses)	98%-100% earn diploma

We attribute the significant achievement of Great Hearts Academies graduating classes to the cumulative impact of the classical, liberal arts experience. The emphasis on knowledge-building, student discussion, and overall high academic expectations ensures that students are prepared for college and beyond, as indicated by the average ACT composite scores and graduation rates. This is the opportunity and experience Great Hearts Lake Charles will bring to Calcasieu Parish, providing families with a reliable school option that is not currently widely available.

Great Hearts Harveston, our East Baton Rouge campus, opened in Fall 2023 and currently serves students in grades K-9. The student population in East Baton Rouge has a greater number of economically disadvantaged students and English Learners than the student population of Lake Calcasieu.¹⁶ Yet when we compare the total population Mastery+ achievement across grades 4 and 8, we see Harveston student achievement near to or exceeding achievement at the other two campuses. In 4th grade math, Harveston students show significantly stronger achievement, with 61% of students earning Mastery+, compared to 45% and ~33% for Starks and Bell City. In 8th grade ELA, Mastery+ and Basic combined achievement is 83%, while at Bell City and Starks, it is 80% and 67%, respectively. This shows that, while the Mastery+ achievement is not yet where we want it to be, there is a strong foundation to build off. See the tables below for all comparison data.¹⁷

c. The Great Hearts model is directly aligned to supporting subgroups and achieving mastery through a focus on high academic expectations for all, a knowledge-building curriculum, student discussion, and intentional commitment to continuous improvement and support for Students with Disabilities and English Learners. The primary school program uses research-based, highly structured core literacy programs that are highly conducive to delivery in a diverse, open-enrollment setting and to adaptation for varying student needs. The secondary school program, with an emphasis on all students completing a rigorous core offering, dedication to Socratic seminars, and postsecondary preparation, is needed by families seeking to raise their children to be great-hearted leaders, free thinkers, and responsible citizens. Because Great Hearts' curriculum is tightly aligned vertically and horizontally, students and families have an attractive, progressive option that matches their development from early childhood through adolescence and young adulthood. In addition to the progress we see at Great Hearts Harveston, students at our established campuses in Arizona and Texas, including Students with Disabilities and English Learners, consistently outperform their peers at charter schools and traditional public schools in the state. See Section 9a and 9b for more data to support these results.

To meet the needs of students who are academically behind, Great Hearts provides targeted small-group instruction during the school day, before-school tutoring, and dedicated intervention blocks. These supports are designed to pre-teach essential concepts, clarify misconceptions from classwork, and close specific learning gaps. Math and reading interventionists use curriculum-aligned resources and real-time formative assessment data to customize instruction based on individual student performance. Intervention plans are regularly reviewed and revised to ensure they remain responsive to each student's progress.

Within the general education classroom, Great Hearts implements a push-in support model where specialists work alongside teachers to deliver just-in-time assistance. This model ensures students remain engaged with grade-level content while receiving immediate scaffolding as needed. Teachers use strategies such as contextualization, bridging, and fostering metacognitive skills to strengthen comprehension and long-term retention. Instructional teams closely monitor and document all interventions and use student data to refine their approaches, ensuring alignment with state standards and academic expectations.

This structured and responsive model – exemplified across the Great Hearts network – has led to significant academic growth among educationally disadvantaged students. Many students demonstrate more than a year of academic progress within a single school year, highlighting the effectiveness of Great Hearts' commitment to educational equity and excellence. See Section 9b for data on Great Hearts' record of results for Students with Disabilities and English Learners.

In establishing a Great Hearts campus in Lake Charles, we will directly fulfill R.S. 17:3972 by providing a school option to “increase learning opportunities and access to quality education” for all students, while working to “encourage the use of different and innovative teaching methods, [and] educational models” through its classical liberal arts program and intentional school culture.¹⁹ Great Hearts plans to meet and exceed all Louisiana statutory requirements and Department of Education guidelines related to class size, faculty qualifications, and student differentiation and support. In the early elementary grades, classrooms are staffed with a lead teacher and instructional aide instructing classes with an average size of 26 students and no more than 28. In the middle grades, class sizes become smaller to best support instruction by highly qualified lead teachers. In the high school grades, classes as small as 20 to 24 students support Socratic seminars, robust studies in multiple disciplines, and advanced coursework in calculus, the sciences, literature/social studies, and the arts. Great Hearts strives to create classroom environments that are close-knit and personalized, enabling every student to become confident and capable in frequently exercising his or her voice.

By partnering with parents and community stakeholders to offer our rigorous, proven classical liberal arts education, Great Hearts Lake Charles can provide high-quality seats for the families and students of Calcasieu Parish and help the community reach Louisiana’s 2025 goal of A-rated schools averaging Mastery, closing subgroup gaps, and expanding honors-level opportunities to all students. Lake Charles families currently lack a high-quality, open-enrollment classical option; our program offers college-prep rigor without tuition barriers

d. Great Hearts currently works with New Schools for Louisiana as a strategic advisor. Over the next year, Great Hearts Louisiana will seek partnership with McNeese State University for dual enrollment opportunities. We will also cultivate our existing relationships with members of Chamber Southwest Louisiana (Chamber SWLA) to provide internship opportunities and continued collaboration on the foundation for economic development in the parish. In alignment with our school model focus on history, the arts, and community, we will also seek to develop partnerships with local nonprofits including the 1911 Historic City Hall Arts & Cultural Center, The Children’s Museum of Southwest Louisiana, and the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Nature and Science Center. These partnerships can help reinforce the classical, liberal arts curriculum and provide enrichment programming for Great Hearts Lake Charles students.

7. a,b,c,d. Great Hearts Lake Charles will serve an intentionally diverse population of students across all demographics and subgroups. GHLC will be a home for students of all races and learning needs. In alignment with our focus on serving a truly diverse community of students, these anticipated demographics assume that GHLC’s student body will be representative of both the current enrollment in the CPSB. Our goal is for Great Hearts Lake Charles’s student population to mirror the parish within 5% variance across subgroups. Below is an overview of the anticipated student population demographics.

To ensure equity in our student population, GHLC will operate in accordance with Bulletin 126. We will maintain an open-enrollment admission process and implement a lottery system if enrollment interest is over capacity. We will ensure outreach to families is inclusive and intentional across the entire community. We will hold virtual and in-person enrollment events in a wide variety of settings to recruit families of all backgrounds and speak to our plans to serve students of all learning needs.

8. a, b. Throughout the process of designing our Lake Charles campus, the Great Hearts leadership team continues to engage a broad group of professionals, community members, and families interested in enrolling to ensure our school will effectively meet the needs of the students and the community.

Family Engagement: In the summer of 2025, GHA launched a targeted marketing campaign to identify and engage interested families. This included two family engagement events in August at the Central Calcasieu Library and Event Space, in Central Lake Charles. During these events, approximately 20 families heard directly from Dr. Daniel Scoggin, Great Hearts' Academies Officer and Co-Founder, Genevieve Peterson, Great Hearts's Chief Development Officer, and Carley Hopkins, Great Hearts Harveston's Director of Community Engagement. They also had the opportunity to share comments and ask questions. On October 7th, 2025, Great Hearts hosted a virtual town hall for interested families in Lake Charles. Great Hearts also hosted two family engagement events in Lake Charles in January and March of 2026. Approximately 15 parents and community leaders attended. So far, over 200 residents have registered on the Great Hearts Lake Charles interest list. These efforts represent an intentional strategy to build a parent pipeline, educate the community about classical education, and maintain multiple touchpoints through in-person and virtual events.

Professional and Community Engagement: Over the course of the past year, the Great Lakes leadership team has cultivated relationships with key connectors in the Lake Charles community, including:

- Dr. John Noble - a retired physician and long-time Lake Charles resident with important relationships and influence in the community
- Joshua Brown - Director of the Governor's Program for Gifted Children at McNeese State University

Great Hearts has pursued a sustained and intentional engagement process in Lake Charles. Our leadership team has participated in several stakeholder engagement trips to the community to learn from and build partnerships with civic, business, and faith leaders. We have also hosted community leaders, including Dr. Noble, Joshua Brown, and Pastor Rose, at our Great Lakes Harveston campus. During these visits, leaders engaged in classroom walkthroughs and a Q&A with the Great Hearts leadership team. Across these efforts, Great Hearts has consistently sought to listen, build trust, and align its mission with the educational and economic priorities of the Lake Charles community, ensuring a strong foundation of local support and partnership. As of the submission of this application, over 200 families have registered interest in Great Hearts Lake Charles. We will continue to maintain ongoing communication with interested families through email campaigns, invitations to future events, and updates on the application process. We will also leverage partnerships with local churches, chambers, civic organizations to expand outreach to more families and daycares. Great Hearts also plans to continue 1-on-1 and small group meetings with community leaders to build a strong coalition of supporters.

See Appendix 1: Evidence of Community Support for more detail.

Academic Plan

9. a. Great Hearts' educational philosophy is grounded in six basic principles:

Philosophical pillars: Great Hearts believes that the world is ordered and knowable and that the human intellect can attain knowledge of reality through reason, hard work, and a program of study that is both coherent and specific. Great Hearts believe that education should proceed via shared inquiry and honest discussion and that thoughtful depth in a subject is preferable to broad or rapid coverage. In particular, we believe in the power of high expectations and that the greatest number of students benefit when the intellectual and ethical bar is set high in the classroom.²⁶

Unified Core Curriculum: For students to become culturally literate citizens, they must share certain knowledge based in the study of humanities, mathematics, the sciences, and the fine arts. Great Hearts gives students individualized attention, but within a common, compulsory one-track curriculum without the distractions posed by elective offerings. While students learn at different paces, true education is a matter of development over time within a stable learning community where peers are learning a shared body of knowledge, concepts and skills. Another advantage of a unified core curriculum is the potential for drawing cross-curricular connections and helping students develop a richer, more integrated understanding of subjects. This aligns directly to the science of reading research body that shows the correlation between knowledge building and schema and reading comprehension skills in all content areas.²⁷

Liberal Arts Education: Children and teenagers have the capacity and desire to participate in all the liberal arts, including the sciences. They can participate in seminars at a high level. The primary grades are characterized not only by academic rigor and depth of study not often seen in the early years, but also by a student population that is engaged in a joyful and classical study of the liberal arts. The core curriculum exceeds the state standards in duration and content rigor.

Institutional Ethos Conducive to Strong Character Formation: Great Hearts places great value on the practice of virtue and leadership. As such, Great Hearts exhorts students to create a community of scholarship, leadership and service extending from their interactions with peers and teachers to extracurricular activities. Great Hearts teachers have diverse professional backgrounds, are uniquely trained to teach in a manner that is fundamentally Socratic in its approach to students, and fully embrace the Academy's vision of community, learning, leadership and service.

Solid, Sequenced, Specific & Shared: Rather than focusing on transitional ideas and fads, Great Hearts students study a lasting body of knowledge which has helped countless people throughout history engage with the great questions of life. The course framework clearly specifies what is important in language arts, history/geography, math, science, foreign language, and the fine arts. As they progress across grades, children learn new knowledge, concepts and skills that systemically build on what they already know and increase their long-term retention. The curriculum spirals systematically, enabling students to revisit ideas they have already learned, strengthening those lessons while enriching their understanding with new concepts, increased rigor, and greater complexity. A cohesive experience across content areas has been shown to improve academic performance, student engagement, and even equity across subgroups of students.²⁸

Socratic Method: Where it is advantageous to do so, courses are taught using the Socratic method, which develops thinking, speaking and reading skills. Students are actively involved in discovering truths rather than being informed through lectures in class or reading in textbooks. The teachers' responsibility is to create the right questions for discussion. Students find the answers with their reading and reflective activities. This approach supports students in building conceptual understanding, as well as the critical thinking and metacognitive skills needed for achievement for LEAP Mastery+ and the college and career reading that achievement represents.²⁹ This approach can also directly support the language development of English Language learners.³⁰

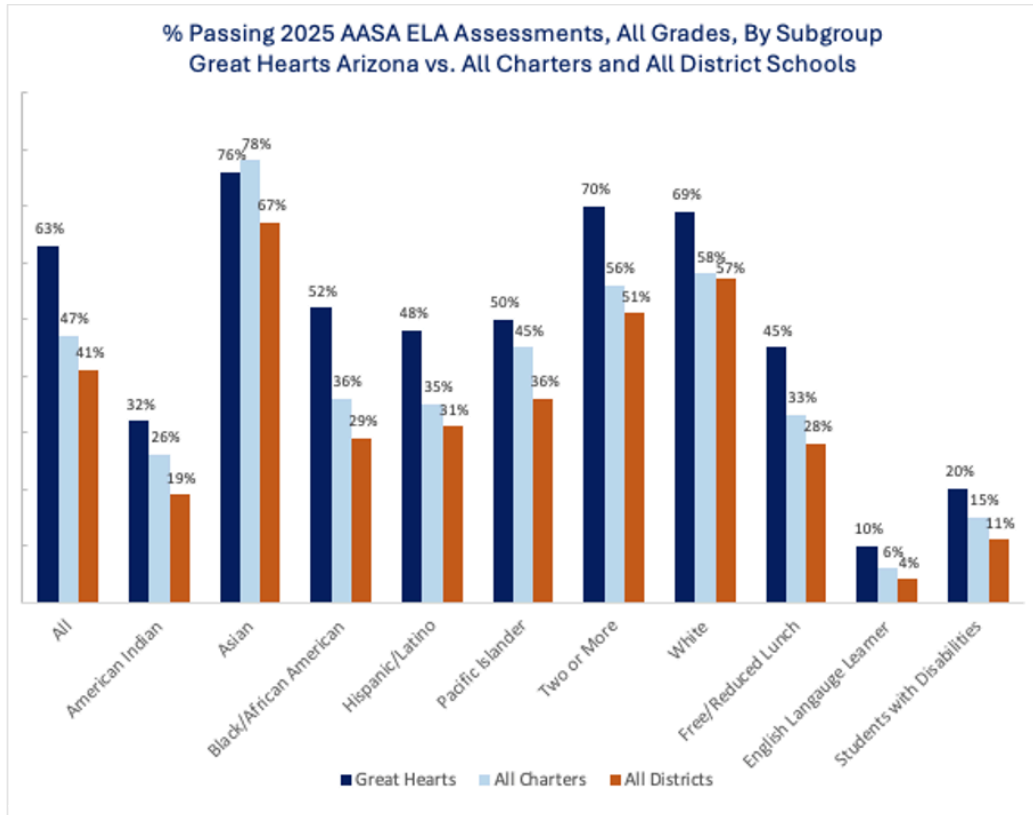

As part of opening our first Louisiana campus, Great Hearts Harveston, in 2023, our leadership team ensured the Great Hearts curriculum is aligned to Louisiana state standards and supports student achievement aligned to LEAP, ACT, Jump Start pathways, and graduation requirements.

In 2025, at our established campuses in Arizona, Great Hearts students, across all subgroups, outperformed their peers at other public charter and traditional charter schools across the state, in both ELA and Math. See the charts below for more details.

Also in 2025, Great Hearts students in Texas saw the same results in ELA, and for most subgroups in Math. See the charts below for more details.

In addition, in 2025 the Great Hearts model supported students in achieving high school graduation at higher levels than the state average at our established campuses in Arizona and Texas.

Students at Great Hearts Harveston are also well on their way to the levels of academic achievement we see at our fully-grown out campuses. See Section 6 for data that supports this.

An academic environment focused on knowledge-building, student discussion, and character education is what the students and families of Calcasieu Parish need to take them to the next level. Our instructional pillars will ensure increasing numbers of students build the skills necessary to achieve LEAP Mastery+, leading them to be the college and career-ready civic leaders the community wants and needs them to be.

b. Great Hearts is committed to ensuring that all students – including those who are educationally disadvantaged, students with disabilities, and English Learners – have equitable access to rigorous, state standards-aligned instruction. The Great Hearts instructional model, rooted in the classical liberal arts tradition, prepares students for success in college, career, and life by cultivating intellectual depth, moral character, and the habits of lifelong learning. Through the study of literature, mathematics, science, history, foreign language, art, and music, students learn to think critically, communicate effectively, and solve complex problems – skills directly aligned with supporting more students to achieve LEAP Mastery+, and college and career readiness.

A central pillar of the Great Hearts approach, the Socratic method, immerses students in a vocabulary-rich environment that strengthens reading comprehension, analytical reasoning, and oral expression. This approach is particularly effective for Students with Disabilities and English Learners who may need additional language development or scaffolding, as it emphasizes discussion, evidence-based reasoning, and the articulation of coherent ideas. To ensure that every student can succeed in this all-honors environment, Great Hearts employs a structured system of academic supports that includes targeted small-group instruction, intervention blocks, and push-in services from specialists. Interventionists and general education teachers collaborate to provide real-time scaffolds while maintaining access to grade-level content. These supports are designed to pre-teach essential concepts, reinforce foundational skills, and close specific learning gaps, ensuring that students with disabilities and English Learners can engage fully with the rich classical curriculum. In this way, Great Hearts combines academic rigor with intentional inclusivity, ensuring that every student – regardless of background or need – is equipped to graduate as a clear thinker, coherent writer, and confident speaker, ready to excel in college and beyond.

Great Hearts Academies has a record of success supporting English Learners and Students with Disabilities. The tables below show the Great Hearts impact on academic performance for students in these subgroups. English Learners at our established Great Hearts campuses in Arizona and Texas achieve anywhere from 5% to 17% ahead of their peers in the state on ELA and Math assessments. Students with Disabilities at Great Hearts campuses achieve between 2% and 11% ahead of their peers in the state on these assessments.

c. Great Hearts Lake Charles will maintain the same approach to academics, curriculum, and culture as our Harveston campus. One difference in the model is our enrollment growth plan. The Harveston campus opened as a K-7 campus in Year 1. We plan to open the Lake Charles campus with grades K-3 in Year 1, so we can focus on building our unique culture and academic program with a smaller group from the ground up. This will also allow us to focus on foundational literacy skills and knowledge-building to ensure students have strong reading comprehension as they move to fourth grade and beyond.

10. a,b. Great Hearts has been perfecting the design of its classical, liberal arts curriculum for two decades. Great Hearts' comprehensive core curriculum is balanced between English, history, science, mathematics, foreign language, the fine arts and physical education. In all of these subjects, the Great Hearts' team prioritizes curricula that meet three criteria:

- The curriculum materials are tried and tested across our 45 campuses. Over the last twenty years, tens of thousands of students have achieved academic success utilizing these curriculum materials. In our fully-grown campuses in Arizona and Texas, where students have been utilizing the curriculum materials year-over-year, Great Hearts student achievement consistently outperforms students at other charter schools and traditional public schools. (See Section 9a for data to support this).
- Our team has also mapped the Great Hearts curriculum materials to ensure they align to Louisiana state standards and the Tier 1 Non-Negotiable criteria and the Additional Criteria of Superior Quality found in the Instructional Materials Evaluation Tool for each content area.
- Standardized testing scores and the placement of graduates into excellent colleges and universities indicate that Great Hearts' approach leads to a high rate of success. The table below shows the accomplishments of our last six graduating classes across our fully grown out campuses.

The Great Hearts' team intentionally adapts and supplements its curriculum to provide all students with robust representations of their racial, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds without the perpetuation of stereotypes or deficit perspectives. As far back as the 1990's and 2000's, Great Hearts' primary school curricular framework, the Core Knowledge (CK) Sequence, has undergone successive rounds of revision to include works of literature, poetry, and speeches from scholars, leaders, and civilizations world-wide. The CK Sequence shines a bright light on heroic leaders throughout American history including slavery abolitionists, civil rights leaders, and other figures that courageously advocated for equal human, voting and legal rights. In the high school grades, students use Socratic seminars to read and discuss original texts, events and speeches from such leaders as Harriet Beacher Stowe, Frederick Douglas, Sojourner Truth, Harriet Tubman, Martin Luther King, Jr., Ralph Abernathy, Rosa Parks, Howard Thurman, and W.E.B. Dubois. This approach ensures a knowledge-rich environment that supports students' schema-building and reading comprehension, two key components to achieving LEAP Mastery+ and college and career readiness.

A central pillar of the Great Hearts approach is the Socratic method, which is especially effective in supporting students who may have had limited exposure to print-rich and knowledge-rich environments, or underdeveloped skills in reading and oral expression. In a Socratic classroom, students are immersed in a vocabulary-rich environment where they are encouraged to form coherent thoughts, articulate ideas, and engage deeply with core texts. This approach is reinforced by regular evaluation of reading comprehension, in-class coaching focused on understanding, and robust classroom discussion grounded in evidence from the text. Teachers dedicate time to coaching writing in response to readings, emphasizing grammar, vocabulary, argument structure, and stylistic development. Modeled read-alouds, embedded vocabulary instruction, and the use of graphic and content organizers further support comprehension and content mastery.

Because Socratic Inquiry is an instructional strategy which allows teachers to constantly assess individual levels of comprehension and respond with questions tailored to student needs, it allows for lively and engaged classroom interactions. By focusing on the depth and quality of student understanding rather than superficial metrics like memorization of facts, the teacher is able to guide all students to accessible agreements, using these agreements as the framework upon which individual student understanding is built. This instructional practice ensures high expectations and adequate, rigorous practice for all students, leading to the higher levels of achievement on state assessments and ACT that Great Hearts academy has seen across all subgroups of students at our established campuses.

A description of each core content areas follows:

English: Students in kindergarten through 5th grades study direct reading and literature; grammar and composition; Spalding phonics, spelling and penmanship. The Spalding method is a well-established multi-sensory phonics and writing program that has proven to yield high literacy in primary grades.

The program begins with formation of letters via dictated instruction, along with the relationship between sounds and letters, which leads to mastering the standard English spelling system. By focusing on phonics instruction, completing it quickly and making it multi-sensory to address multiple learning styles, children rapidly begin to spell, write and read with understanding. Furthermore, students engage with accessible texts to refine their decoding, fluency, and comprehension skills.

As a complete language arts method, Spalding helps children master phonics, letter formation, alphabetic principle, letter-sound awareness, correct spelling, fluent reading, oral/print comprehension, vocabulary, pronunciation, and auditory-visual-verbal motor cognitive development. Spalding is designed to be supplemented by vocabulary-rich literature, which is provided by the Great Hearts Core Reading List.

This program of literature exposes young readers to great writing and develops their ability to discuss it – guided by the teacher – to analyze what they read, express their ideas effectively through speaking and listening to others, and evaluate others' ideas with civility. To teach students grammar and writing composition, Great Hearts integrates Writing with Ease, First Language Lessons, and in grades 3-5, Well Ordered Language.

In middle school (6th through 8th grades), students will engage a full credit every year of Literature and Composition which includes grammar instruction, continuing to progress along the Great Hearts Core Reading List, and writing instruction. In 9th through 12th grades, all students will take Humane Letters, a full-year course that focuses on the American tradition in 9th grade, Modern Europe in 10th grade, and the Ancient World in 11th grade. In the 12th grade capstone year, Human Letters culminates with a senior thesis, which consists of a deep study of three works of literature or philosophy, an analytical paper 15-20 pages in length, and an oral defense before a panel of teachers.

Mathematics: Students take six years of Singapore mathematics, which emphasizes various approaches and mechanisms for solving problems, including manipulatives, and learning how to articulate mathematical concepts as well as apply them. “In kindergarten, students enter Singapore K, and all fifth-grade students will have completed Singapore 5. In 6th through 8th grades, mathematics builds on the Singapore program and progresses from Foundations of Mathematics in 6th grade, through Pre-Algebra in 7th grade, and into Algebra I in 8th grade. The Algebra I course is a high school level course and is offered for high school credit. In 9th through 12th grades, all students will take Euclidean Geometry (9th grade), Algebra II and Trigonometry (10th grade), Honors Precalculus I (11th grade), and AP Calculus A/B.

History: In the primary grades, students take American history, world history, and geography through the Core Knowledge History Curriculum. American history is emphasized at every grade level, along with a different global emphasis in world history and geography in each grade. The lesson sequences are spiraled so that students are verifying and reinforcing concepts that they previously learned before moving on to explore and learn more advanced, age-appropriate concepts. In 6th through 8th grades, there is one history course each year focusing on a particular era: World History in 6th grade, American History in 7th grade, and Louisiana History in 8th grade. In high school, history is integrated into the full-year Human Letters courses to support interdisciplinary studies that broaden students' exploration of how civilizations, cultural trends, and artistic genres develop apart from and in relation to one another.

Science: The Core Knowledge science curriculum is a hands-on experience for students in grades K-5. Students actively engage in qualitative and quantitative observations, measuring, counting, and collecting while learning about a variety of topics, including plants, animals, insects, habitats, weather, matter, physical change, elements, compounds, light, sound and electricity. In 6th through 8th grades, Science is taken every year: Life Science in 6th grade, Physical Science in 7th grade, and Earth Science in 8th grade. In 9th through 12th grades, all students will take Biology (9th grade), Chemistry (10th grade), Physics I (11th grade), and AP Physics II (12th grade).

All Great Hearts schools use the Great Hearts curriculum which is made up of a course scope and sequence used across our network. These courses are structured by a rigorous set of standards across all grade levels and content areas. All instruction at Great Hearts Lake Charles will be designed using the Louisiana Student Standards as a minimum bar of rigor and guided by our normed network standards. Within these parameters, schools have the autonomy to choose from high quality materials that the network makes available to them. All materials used by Great Hearts teachers meet, as a minimum, the Tier 1 non-negotiable criteria outlined in the LDOE Instructional Materials Evaluation Tool.

You can find samples of texts used across our network, and a complete list of curriculum, below.

10. c. Great Hearts will offer a variety of additional classes and courses to students to enhance their overall educational experience. Offerings will include:

Foreign Languages: The Latin language curriculum is an immersion-based multi-year elementary program. In 6th through 8th grades, students take Latin every year as their foreign language offering. In 9th through 12th grades, students have the choice of further study in classical languages (Latin IV and V in 9th and 10th grades, and Greek I and II in 11th and 12th grades), or the choice of a modern language for all four years (French I-IV or Spanish I-IV).

Fine Arts: In kindergarten through 5th grades, students take six years including choral music and studio art at all grade levels. The emphasis is on introducing students to master artists and their works in art and music, with different time periods and cultures featured at appropriate grade levels. The curriculum is supplemental with activities and hands-on experiences beyond lessons, which are designed to enhance students' understanding and appreciation for the material covered in the courses. In 6th through 8th grades the fine arts are semester courses – each year, students take a semester of Music (performance and theory) and Studio Art. In 9th through 12th grades, students continue to take semester courses including Music, Studio Art, and Drama.

11. a,b,c,d,e,f. Great Hearts has developed a completely new plan for Great Hearts Distance Learning (GHDL), which would be applied in response to the ongoing or future pandemics, instances of flooding or hurricanes where students cannot safely travel to school, or similar situations that may prohibit from students traveling to or being in-person safely. In the instance that Great Hearts must enact the use of its Distance Learning plan, all students will have a computer device provided by Great Hearts. Students will be enrolled in courses and taught by teachers from their own academy with regular video contact. In some cases, distance learning students will be consolidated into full sections. In other cases, students will be in a blended section with in-building peers.

During hybrid learning, lower school students will experience lessons and video contact with their teacher every day, and upper school students will have three lessons on average with each classroom teacher per week, including both synchronous and asynchronous video. Humane Letters seminars will take place for all high school students. Participation in these activities will be required for student attendance. Zoom tutoring will be available, and students will be assessed every week and held to the same academic standards as their in-building peers.

Distance learning students will learn the same subjects and take the same courses as they would in person. They will receive instruction that is equivalent, but not identical: lessons delivered by teachers may be over live video or may be pre-recorded; lessons and tests may be shorter and more frequent than in the classroom; independent student activity may be unsupervised rather than under the watchful eye of the teacher. While distance learning students will progress through the curriculum at a similar pace to their in-building peers and reach the same endpoint, they may spend less time on some topics and more time on others to ensure that the most essential knowledge and skills are mastered for future years.

All students will have a daily program of regular, structured school in which they must participate. Some will be live, synchronous Zoom video classes, lessons, and activities which take place at scheduled, regular times. Daily engagement through Google Classroom will be required. The GHDL model will not be one of independent work with occasional teacher interaction; it will be one of regular online instruction and contact with teachers and peers at their school supported by independent work. The new GHDL is not homeschooling; it is, rather, school at home.

Students will be responsible for daily work and teachers will actively assess student progress. Discrete grades and scores will be given for activities, assignments, and assessments; there will be no “pass/fail” grading at the end of the quarter or semester. Tracking student progress will be led by daily attendance and engagement tracking and the assessment strategy will be implemented both online and in person for comparison and intervention.

All special population students with individual plans and accommodations will have their related services met remotely both through asynchronous and synchronous instruction, creative scheduling and progress monitoring, all based on state and federal law. Furthermore, every campus will have a plan to reach out to families who are absent and will seek to re-engage families and meet their unique needs.

During hybrid learning, Great Hearts will provide accommodations for students with disabilities as outlined in their Individual Accommodation Plans (IAPs) and Individualized Education Programs (IEPs). These accommodations are implemented through collaboration and sharing of plans between general education teachers and special population staff through their individual lesson planning, lesson delivery, and monitoring, to meet each individual student's needs. In addition to their regular classroom schedule, small group and individual sessions are offered through the Google classrooms, Zoom and individual office hours for those requiring additional support.

It is not enough for distance learning students to be academically engaged in school. Opportunities are also present for social and emotional engagement with teachers and peers. Part of this will be satisfied by daily, synchronous video lessons and classes, but schools will also create new forms of online community to keep students connected to each other and to their school. Class celebrations, themed social events, school assemblies, and other activities will be created to complement the new plan for distance learning.

All faculty attend orientation and training annually, and LEAP 2025 alignment and curriculum internalization will be a regular aspect of professional development and training, which extends to the Great Hearts Lake Charles model. Finally, to assess the effectiveness of hybrid learning, Great Hearts will track daily key metrics related to engagement, attendance, parent satisfaction, and other key measures. Regular reflection and debrief meetings of staff will gather feedback and make adjustments. Also, criterion and norm- referenced assessment data will help Great Hearts track, intervene, and improve the program.

Central to remote learning is the interaction between grade-level teachers and students facilitated by the Canvas learning management system (LMS), which may be the most advanced, reliable and user-friendly central hub available. Over the past 10+ years, Canvas has been tested and refined in hundreds of educational environments. Because of its robust design and capabilities, Canvas functions as both an LMS and a content management system (CMS), which simplifies the interface for all users. Canvas contains an incredible array of features and integrates seamlessly with other tools, such as Google Classroom and Zoom, which Great Hearts finds essential to delivering a high-quality education. All teachers receive technical and instructional training in Canvas and the other tools that Great Hearts uses during summer full-day trainings and throughout the year. Great Hearts employs qualified technical engineers and content designers to train and assist teachers in developing lessons throughout the academic year.

Academic Goals

12. a,b,c. Great Hearts Lake Charles has set ambitious – but realistic - goals for its first five years of operation. We are also aware that the Louisiana School Performance Score calculation goes into effect this year – 2025-2026. Upon the completion of this school year, Great Hearts will take into account the impact of the updated accountability model on school performance scores and may adjust our goals accordingly. However, we expect our goals for absolute performance on LEAP 2025 to remain consistent.

Performance	Baseline (CPSB 2025 District Score)	Year 1 2027-2028	Year 2 2028-2029	Year 3 2029-2030	Year 4 2030-2031	Year 5 2031-2032

Great Hearts Lake Charles will not have a high school graduating class until 2036-2037, which will be Year 10 of operation, and thus is contingent on the school being awarded a charter renewal. Though this academic performance data will not be utilized when determining the school's performance score or in consideration when determining its initial charter renewal, Great Hearts has a goal of a 100% graduation rate, and will ensure that all high school students are on track to graduate at the culmination of their fourth year of high school.

Baseline Data Collection and Ongoing Data Plan. Great Hearts Lake Charles will establish baseline data within the first 30 days of the school year using a multi-measure screener battery: DIBELS (Dynamic Indicators of Basic Early Literacy Skills) for foundational reading skills in grades K–5; NWEA MAP benchmark assessments in ELA and Math for grades 2–9; Singapore Math foundational fluency checks and Foundations literacy screener for K–1; and the English Language Proficiency Screener (ELPS) for all newly enrolled English Learners within 30 days of enrollment, as required by state law. In accordance with R.S. 17:3911, Great Hearts Lake Charles will administer all state-required assessments including LEAP 2025 (grades 3–9), NAEP, and applicable alternate assessments for students with disabilities. Internally, MAP benchmark assessments will be administered three times per year (fall, winter, spring), and DIBELS progress monitoring will occur at a minimum monthly for students identified for Tier 2 or Tier 3 reading intervention.

Data Analysis and the Data-to-Instruction Feedback Loop. Great Hearts Lake Charles will use a structured MTSS (Multi-Tiered System of Supports) framework as the backbone of its data analysis and instructional response process. The MTSS Coordinator and campus leadership will lead monthly data team meetings at which teachers, interventionists, and instructional coaches review MAP, DIBELS, and curriculum-based assessment results to: (1) identify students falling below grade-level benchmarks by subgroup; (2) confirm or adjust Tier 1, 2, or 3 placement for each identified student; and (3) set or revise individualized academic growth targets. For students receiving targeted or intensive interventions, progress will be monitored bi-weekly using curriculum-based measures and reviewed against individual growth targets. MTSS data review meetings will be held every four to six weeks to assess intervention effectiveness and make real-time adjustments to the type, duration, and intensity of support. A quarterly Steering Committee review—modeled on the formal process documented in the Great Hearts Academic Improvement Plans—will evaluate whole-school and subgroup performance trends and recommend programmatic or PD adjustments.

Student Performance Goals and Goal-Setting Process. At the start of each year, teachers will work with their Head of School and the MTSS Coordinator to develop Student Learning Targets (SLTs) for each class that are aligned to LEAP 2025 proficiency bands and MAP normative growth expectations. SLTs will identify: current performance baseline (BOY MAP/DIBELS score or prior LEAP score); the measurable end-of-year growth target; and the interim milestones at which progress will be evaluated. SLTs will be documented and tracked through the network’s instructional coaching platform. School-level goals will be reported annually to the charter board and updated based on mid-year data review.

d. Great Hearts is committed to hiring and retaining distinguished faculty members, not only those with the intellectual and pedagogical capacity to be master teachers but those committed to educating all students and serving as virtuous role models in every way. Teachers arrive from a broad array of cultural backgrounds, and therefore, receive specific training to create a welcoming and uplifting classroom for every learner. All professional development, described below, is directly tied to the findings of the data analysis cycle described above.

When teachers join Great Hearts for their first year, they receive 2.5 weeks of intensive onboarding and training at a network-wide summer institute. The first days are often described as ‘drinking from a firehose’ as incoming teachers learn about the culture of the organization and the elevated sense of purpose in Great Hearts academies. Approximately 95 percent of teachers report, after those first several days, “I am inspired and feel like I signed up to work for the right place.” In later days, teachers drill down into the specific expectations of classroom instruction and culture before completing curriculum training specific to their teaching assignments. After coming together for a network-wide summer institute, they return to their campuses to receive more training and meet with their grade-level or department leadership for practical tools to continue their planning and preparation.

Academy leaders take a short-cycle feedback approach to teacher observation and coaching. Most school leaders are in a teacher's classroom every 1-2 weeks observing a class and providing feedback resulting in practical improvement before the next observation. This short-cycle approach allows the teacher to improve incrementally while maintaining high accountability. Teachers report satisfaction with this approach.

Teachers actively collaborate with their peers to plan lessons in addition to being part of a larger network of teachers and drawing from a wide range of resources. Teacher professional development occurs on-campus weekly and monthly in ways that are intimate and responsive to particular school needs.

Professional development also happens at a regional and national level through discipline-specific workshops and lectures that leverage the scale of the network to bring in high-quality resources and speakers. Teacher in-services are often practical, but they also cater to their intellectual interests. In the course of a year, they may hear a lecture on the nature of historic inquiry, read a Great Book together, or attend a concert or play together as life-long learners. The goal of all these shared experiences is to create a place for consistent improvement and development of the teacher – whether they stay in the classroom or move to school leadership. On average, established Great Hearts schools retain approximately 85 percent of faculty each year – a higher rate than comparable public schools.

Teachers also receive training to ensure that they celebrate diverse voices that reflect the pluralism across the tradition. A key part of this exposure is fostering an awareness of the role of liberal arts education for figures such as Martin Luther King Jr., Frederic Douglass, and others. Teachers receive practical training on serving all students with proper respect and dignity and attending to the unique needs that students have when entering the classroom. Special training will be provided so that teachers build awareness and cultural competency tools to make sure students who come from a background different than their own are respected and cultural differences bridged to the best of the teacher's ability and the academy capacity. This awareness includes taking every student on their own individual terms while providing all students with the support needed to flourish in our program.

School leaders will be responsible for coaching teachers and setting the tone early in the academy's life to understand and engage the community. The role of the parent organization will be crucial in equipping school staff with the needed perspective to embrace the surrounding community and build productive partnerships between faculty and parents to support children's health, well-being, and quality of education.

At the heart of Socratic Inquiry is the art of crafting and posing subject-appropriate questions which develop students' ability to listen, think critically, and respond thoughtfully to their peers. All Great Hearts teachers are continuously immersed in this model; new faculty receive three weeks of intensive district-level training in Socratic Inquiry and other supporting strategies at the beginning of their tenure, eventually joining veteran faculty for site-based and network-sponsored in-service training throughout the academic year, both of which provide further opportunities for honing the craft. Through this training, teachers learn that a lesson with well-executed Socratic Inquiry begins with how it is planned. Teachers learn the skill of backwards planning – starting the process by clarifying "big questions" about the topic to be studied and working backward from those big ideas to produce cogent Socratic questions which form the core of each lesson.

Another important part of the Great Hearts teacher training is to maximize the use of class time. Teachers learn to structure the day beginning with bell work, progressing through the core of the lesson content, and finishing with a lesson wrap up that often includes an exit ticket. In addition to careful lesson planning, teachers implement clear classroom procedures and routines for taking attendance, getting the attention of the class, distributing materials, and transitioning between activities. The Great Hearts Teacher Playbook outlines effective strategies, many of which are taken from “Love and Logic” or “Teach Like a Champion” best practices, for implementing these procedures and routines. School-level instructional coaching provided throughout the year ensures consistency and efficiency by helping teachers to understand how adhering to our recommended “visible structures” will improve their instruction.

Louisiana Accountability System: Academic Performance

13. a,b,c. As a collective, Great Hearts Academies, with over 30,000 students in kindergarten through 12th grades, has achieved strong results on state assessments and in high school graduation rates. The data provided in the Overview Template shows that students at 36 of our 45 campuses are outperforming their peers across the state in state testing for ELA and Math. All of the Great Hearts campuses that are fully enrolled K-12 have a HS Cohort Graduation rate higher than the state where they are located.

Great Hearts Harveston (GHH), located in East Baton Rouge Parish, is Great Hearts Louisiana’s only current Louisiana campus. GHH is in its third year of operation (2023-24 was Year 1) and currently serves students in grades K-9. In 2024-25, GHH served approximately 539 students (52% Minority, 64.7% Economically Disadvantaged, 3.3% English Learners) and received a School Performance Score (SPS) of C and a Progress Index rating of C. As a school in its second year of formal state accountability evaluation, these scores reflect expected start-up variance.

We have identified two areas of focus based on current student achievement data that does not yet meet the requirements outlined in Bulletin 126:

- Increasing performance in ELA at our Harveston campus to meet and exceed the state average
- Continuing and accelerating support for Students with Disabilities and English Learners, as these subgroups of students lag behind our school proficiency rates in ELA and Math.

Great Hearts Louisiana submits this application under the belief that GHH’s structured Academic Improvement Plans, described in 13.d, below, and the strong multi-year outcomes of GHA’s 44 out-of-state campuses, described in 13.e, below, collectively demonstrate the operator’s capacity to open, operate, and continuously improve high-quality schools.

d. When necessary, Great Hearts Academies schools adopt Academic Improvement Plans to remedy performance deficiencies and track subsequent progress. For example, in response to current SPS performance, Great Hearts Harveston adopted a Lower School and Upper School Academic Improvement Plans (AIPs) for the 2025-26 school year. In alignment with the Great Hearts Academic Improvement Framework, each plan identifies 3 – 5 core priority areas for improvement, names measurable goals for each priority, and details a clear action plan for achieving these goals, including owners and metrics of success. For GHH, key remediation strategies include: (1) structured small-group reading and writing intervention blocks; (2) expanded co-teaching models for inclusion classrooms; (3) enhanced EL scaffolding aligned to the Core Knowledge curriculum; (4) weekly data team meetings tied to formative assessment cycles; and (5) professional development focused on literacy and SWD-specific instructional practices. The AIPs include quarterly monitoring benchmarks and clear accountability structures for progress review by school and network leadership. Progress on AIP targets will be shared with GHH's board and with BESE as part of the ongoing accountability relationship. Based on AIP interventions currently underway and our experience implementing similar AIPs across the country, we project Great Hearts Harveston will achieve a B letter grade by 2026-27.

e. Great Hearts Academies believes in a long-term commitment to our classical liberal arts curriculum and the evidence base linking key components such as knowledge-building, student discussion, and character education to academic achievement. Great Hearts' 44 out-of-state campuses in Arizona and Texas demonstrate that the model produces strong, sustained results once fully established. Campuses with 5+ years of operation consistently outperform district and state averages in ELA and math, often achieving proficiency rates of 70–85% in established schools. Additionally, the Great Hearts Academies that have been in operation for 10 or more years show consistently stronger results in academic achievement for students with disabilities and English Learners – and significantly smaller gaps between the achievement of these subgroups of students and overall student achievement at each campus. Great Hearts Lake Charles will benefit from codified systems, experienced CMO leadership, and the operational and academic lessons of the GHH launch—all of which reduce start-up risk and position GHLC for earlier and stronger academic outcomes than were achievable at GHH. This data supports the durability and scalability of the Great Hearts model as student success increases with their exposure to our rigorous curriculum and instructional supports year-over-year.

Assessments

14. a,b,c,d,e. Great Hearts conducts consistent, ongoing assessments to measure student achievement and progress throughout the year. Since students still inevitably have learning gaps, Great Hearts schools supplement its strong curriculum with the use of the proven systems of NWEA's MAP benchmark system and DIBELS to monitor individual student achievement and growth. Through site-based and network-level professional development, teachers and school leaders are taught to analyze formative assessment and benchmark data to inform and adjust full class instruction practices to provide additional support for students who require it.

At the end of each quarter, each student's academic progress will be thoroughly evaluated, and a formal report will be posted for the family. Once a year, a longer narrative semester evaluation will be emailed home or posted where it is accessible to the family. One required parent teacher conference will be held each year. Students do not attend these conferences.

A liberal arts education requires a special kind of evaluation – one that offers a narrative account of the student's development in depth of inquiry, sense of wonder, specific areas of mastery, needs for improvement, and dispositions toward learning and others. The narrative evaluation is much more meaningful than the assignment of a single letter grade or a percentage.

Below, the chart provides an outline of the various state assessments that will be administered across grades PreK-12 as appropriate. Parents/guardians will be notified of the dates of administration of these tests, which take place in the spring. Under Louisiana law, there is no right of opt-out from mandatory assessments required in all public schools.

Grade Level	Assessment(s)	Design	Rationale
PreK*	GOLD	Formative assessment administered periodically	Combines: (a) observation of areas of learning & development; with (b) completion of tasks predictive of numeracy & literacy readiness.

ELL K-12	English Language Proficiency Test (ELPT)	As needed & required	Assesses the English-language proficiency of students who meet participation criteria for English Learners (ELs) from grades K-12.

In addition, Great Hearts will consider participating in LEAP 360, an optional, free assessment system that allows student learning to be measured at the beginning, middle, and end of each academic year. LEAP 360 can be administered in a manner that allows it to be used as a diagnostic, interim, and K-2 formative assessment. A related instructional resource, called EAGLE, may be used to provide teachers with sample questions so that student learning is aligned with state assessments and content standards.

For its own internal assessment of student growth and educational effectiveness, Great Hearts will administer other formative assessments at different points in the year. The results of these tests do not have a bearing upon student grades. No individual students' test scores will be released to any third parties.

- Internal Assessments. For its own internal assessment of student growth and educational effectiveness, Great Hearts will administer assessments at various points in the year. These assessments include Singapore math (K-5) and grade level content exams. Each assessment is aligned to academic expectations and student outcomes in core content classes.
- External Assessments. Great Hearts will use NWEA MAP grades 3-12 and Amplify DIBELS K-3. Data gathered from these assessments will be used to inform student progress and identify areas in need of academic support and intervention. Student growth and progress will be measured from beginning of year to end of year.
- State Assessments. Students will be assessed according to state requirements. All tests will be conducted during the school year according to the state testing schedule. These include the state achievement assessment LEAP 2025 for 3rd through 12th grade students and ACT for high school students.

- Formative Assessments. Formative assessment types will include, but are not limited to, exit tickets, key word outlines, papers, quizzes, exams, projects, verbally summarizing key takeaways, and active participation in Socratic discussions. Students with disabilities will receive accommodations or modifications based on their IEP or 504 Plan. Formative assessments will be used internally to assess student growth, educational effectiveness, and to make the correct judgment about this specific student in this specific class.

Great Hearts teachers use data and inputs from frequent formative, authentic and standardized assessments to gauge what students are learning, design continuing assignments, guide the preparation of lessons, and make instructional decisions that result in course corrections and adjustments in scope and sequence throughout the academic year. Teachers meet as grade-level teams and with on-site instructional administrators during weekly professional development periods so that they can make adjustments on a daily, weekly, and monthly basis. These adjustments occur under the oversight of Great Hearts' central curriculum and instruction team, which includes a Vice President of Curriculum and five-person administrative team. Rather than dictating curriculum and scope and sequence centrally, Great Hearts' team utilizes a "train the trainers" model to identify exemplary faculty members and equip them to deliver structured professional development presentations and extend support to teachers at each campus.

Students found to need academic support, as evidenced by a progress report, may be referred to tutoring. Students will have ready access to tutoring and a variety of other supports.

When a student falls into the D or F range for a course, a special progress report will be officially emailed or posted for the parents/guardians. Teachers will also call parents when students encounter academic challenges, reaching out both to inform parents of the student's difficulties and to discuss plans regarding Providing access to a classical education to students with disabilities is central to Great Hearts' philosophy of education, which seeks to enrich the lives of all children. Great Hearts believes that the unnecessary removal or compartmentalizing of any student because of special needs would result in an impoverished experience for the entire class. As such, Great Hearts includes students with disabilities to the maximum extent possible in general classroom mediums while supporting their development of strategies and skills through specialized instruction. Great Hearts has established policies, procedures, and best practices in supporting Special Populations and students who are at risk and the most vulnerable. Great Hearts programs and services are aligned with state and federal laws and are designed to allow every student the opportunity for success and ensure a Free Appropriate Public Education (FAPE) for all students. Great Hearts' inclusive approach to the liberal arts education allows for all students to achieve at their highest potential.

Struggling Students

Great Hearts Academies is committed to supporting all students, especially those who face academic or behavioral challenges, through a comprehensive Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). This framework ensures early identification and intervention for struggling learners using a tiered approach grounded in high-quality instruction, universal screening, and data-informed decision-making. Students are identified for support through benchmark assessments such as DIBELS and NWEA MAP. These tools, administered multiple times throughout the year, help monitor student progress and determine the appropriate level of intervention.

Struggling learners are those whose academic performance or behavioral development significantly lags behind grade-level expectations. These students may demonstrate challenges in foundational skills, cognitive functioning, social adjustment, or engagement with learning. When data indicates a need for support, students are placed into one of three tiers. Tier 1 includes rigorous, differentiated instruction provided to all students in the general education classroom. Tier 2 offers targeted small-group interventions during designated blocks such as Lyceum or the reading block, using evidence-based intervention programs. Tier 3 provides intensive, individualized support for students who do not respond adequately to Tier 2 interventions, with daily instruction led by trained interventionists and monitored through frequent progress checks.

Students are placed into intervention groups based on multiple data points, including benchmark scores, classroom assessments, teacher observations, and attendance or behavioral records. For example, students scoring below the 30th percentile on NWEA MAP or demonstrating consistent underperformance on classroom assessments may receive 60 minutes or more of weekly intervention. In early grades, students not progressing toward reading proficiency by third grade receive additional support and are monitored closely using DIBELS progress monitoring assessments.

Quarterly MTSS meetings and administrative data reviews ensure that interventions are effective and equitable. These reviews assess whether students are responding to interventions and whether any subgroups are disproportionately represented in Tier 2 or Tier 3, signaling a need to adjust Tier 1 instruction or identification practices.

In alignment with Louisiana's Individual Academic Support Plan (IASP) requirements, students in grades K–5 who score below proficiency on literacy or numeracy screeners—or below Mastery on LEAP assessments—receive targeted academic support through high-dosage tutoring embedded within the school day. Through the Great Hearts model of intervention, there are already periods built into the day that facilitate opportunity for IASP students to receive high-dosage tutoring at least three times per week in small groups of no more than four students, led by trained personnel using LDOE-approved materials.

If students continue to struggle despite Tier 3 support, they may be referred to the School Building Level Committee (SBLC). The SBLC is a general education decision-making team composed of administrators, teachers, interventionists, parents, and other relevant professionals. It reviews all data collected during Tiers 1, 2, and 3—including benchmark scores, classroom assessments, attendance, behavior records, and intervention progress—to determine next steps. These may include refining the current intervention plan, initiating a Section 504 evaluation, or referring the student for a comprehensive evaluation to determine eligibility for special education services under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEA 2004). Throughout this process, parents are treated as equal partners and are invited to participate in meetings, share insights, and support implementation of strategies at home.

Parent involvement is essential at every stage. Great Hearts encourages families to reach out proactively if they have concerns, and staff members are committed to responding within 24 hours. Families are informed of their child's intervention placement, progress, and goals, and are invited to participate in SBLC meetings and support learning at home. By maintaining a collaborative, data-informed approach, Great Hearts ensures that students receive the support they need to access the curriculum and grow intellectually and morally.

To track the efficacy and equity of the RTI process at Great Hearts, administrators and interventionists meet quarterly to review data to make two determinations:

- Are the majority of students responding to their interventions, signaling the effectiveness of the programming?
- Are any student subgroups over-represented throughout the school and grade levels, signaling an inequitable implementation of Tier 1 universal instruction, intervention, and identification.

Great Hearts' three-tiered model is as follows:

Tier 1: High-Quality Classroom Instruction, Screening, and Group Interventions. Within Tier 1, all students receive high-quality and rigorous instruction provided by qualified personnel to ensure that their difficulties are not due to inadequate instruction. All students are screened on a periodic basis to establish an academic and behavioral baseline and to identify struggling learners who need additional support.

Students identified as being “at risk” through universal screenings, such as NWEA MAP assessments, and/or results on state- or district-wide tests receive supplemental instruction during the school day in the regular classroom. The length of time for this step generally should not exceed 8 weeks. During that time, student progress is closely monitored using a validated screening system such as curriculum-based measurements. At the end of this period, students showing significant progress are generally returned to the regular classroom program. Students not showing adequate progress are moved to Tier 2.

Tier 2: Targeted Interventions. In the primary and middle school grades, Great Hearts implements research-based programs to enable students to develop strong core literacy skills, including Spalding Reading, Singapore Mathematics and the Core Knowledge Sequence. These programs use explicit, sequential methods to enable students to learn reading through phonics, learn mathematics concepts in progressive fashion, and read age-appropriate texts that build concept and knowledge mastery in a spiraling fashion that reinforces mastery. Students not making adequate progress in the regular classroom in Tier 1 are provided with increasingly intensive instruction. Intensity varies across group size, frequency and duration of intervention, and level of training of the professionals providing instruction or intervention. These services and interventions are provided in small-group settings in addition to instruction in the general curriculum. In the early grades (kindergarten through 3rd grade), interventions are usually in the areas of reading and math. A longer period of time may be required for this tier, but it should generally not exceed a grading period. Students who continue to show too little progress at this level of intervention are then considered for more intensive interventions as part of Tier 3.

Tier 3: Intensive Interventions and Comprehensive Evaluation. At this level, students receive individualized, intensive interventions that target the students' skill deficits. Students who do not achieve the desired level of progress in response to these targeted interventions are then referred for a comprehensive evaluation and considered for eligibility for special education services under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 (IDEA 2004). The data collected during Tiers 1, 2, and 3 are included and used to make the eligibility decision, support and future improvement, including how the parent can assist. Teachers and other school staff may also contact parents via phone and email to determine if additional supports, inside or outside of the classroom, may benefit the student as well. Great Hearts also encourages parents and guardians to reach out and contact their child's teachers if they have any concerns or if they believe their child may be having difficulty. Teachers and staff members are available via email or phone, and will always respond to parents within 24 hours.

Diverse Learners and Student Supports

15. Great Hearts provides a continuum of services and supports through differentiation of instruction for all Special Populations including students with disabilities, English Learners, and at-risk students, while providing a challenging, rich, and rigorous curriculum. In Special Education and Section 504, the specialized teams develop Individual Education Plans (IEPs) and Individual Learning Plans (ILPs) that meet the needs of students with disabilities.

Students with Disabilities: Great Hearts ensures that testing and evaluation procedures and materials, which are utilized for the purposes of evaluation and placement of students with disabilities, are selected in compliance with Bulletin 1508 and administered so as to not be racially, culturally, or gender discriminatory. Assessment and procedures are provided and administered in the student's native language and/or most proficient mode of communication and in the form most likely to yield accurate information on what the student knows and can do academically, developmentally, and functionally, unless it is clearly not feasible to do so. Upon completion of the evaluation, if the student is found eligible for Special Education and related services, Great Hearts convenes an initial IEP team meeting for each eligible student with a disability and for each student for whom an evaluation for special education services is conducted. The IEP Team committee is:

1. The group that interprets the evaluation and determines the child's educational needs;
2. The group that develops the IEP; and
3. The group that determines the educational placement of the child.

The IEP Team includes at least the following members:

1. The parent/legal guardian of the child
2. An individual qualified to interpret the results of evaluations
3. An officially designated representative of the school who can speak to the school's educational program
4. A special education teacher
5. At least one general education teacher

Great Hearts ensures that all members of the IEP team have the opportunity to participate in a collaborative manner in developing and implementing the IEP. The IEP team must consider the following: (1) the strengths of the child; (2) the concerns of the parents for enhancing the education of their child; (3) the results of the initial or most recent evaluation of the child; and (4) the academic, developmental, and functional needs of the child.

The IEP team must determine needed special education and related services, the creation and implementation of an Individualized Learning Plan (ILP), and necessary program modifications or supports. The ILP and aligned modifications and supports will be provided to the child to enable the child to advance appropriately toward attaining the annual goals and be involved in and make progress in the general education curriculum, and be afforded an equal opportunity to participate in extracurricular and other nonacademic activities including, to the maximum extent appropriate, in nonacademic settings and services.

Great Hearts ensures that to the maximum extent appropriate, children with disabilities are educated with children in the general education setting. Special classes, separate schooling, or other removal of children with disabilities from the regular educational environment will occur only if the nature or severity of the disability is such that education in regular classes with the use of supplementary aids and services cannot be achieved satisfactorily. Great Hearts is also intentional in arranging for the provision of nonacademic and extracurricular services and activities, ensuring that each child with a disability participates with nondisabled children in the extracurricular services and activities to the maximum extent appropriate to the needs of the child.

A continuum of alternative placements is available to meet the needs of children with disabilities for special education and related services. The continuum includes instruction in regular classes, special classes, special schools, home instruction, and instruction in hospitals and institutions; and makes provision for supplementary services such as resource room or itinerant instruction, to be provided in conjunction with regular placement. Extended School Year Services Extended school (ESY) services are provided to the child with a disability beyond the normal school year, in accordance with the child's IEP, and at no cost to the parents of the child.

All students that have an IEP or 504 accommodation plan participate in all state standardized assessments and benchmark assessments that are implemented at the beginning, middle and end of the year for the use of progress monitoring. These assessments reveal targeted needs in supporting the performance targets and accountability measures for all students. Progress monitoring for students with disabilities occurs on a regular basis per their IEP, ensuring that students are progressing to meet their annual IEP goals.

Quarterly progress monitoring of the ILP and aligned IEP goals is reported with the issuance of student report cards.

Each Great Hearts school has a highly trained and certified team to oversee and meet the needs of special populations and at-risk students, to include a dedicated coordinator for each program that is responsible for the compliance, required documentation, facilitation of required meetings, and leads campus teams in the implementation of daily instruction for students with special needs and unique learners. In addition, Great Hearts teams include certified teachers trained in their area of instruction, as well as teacher apprentices that have received training related to their work under the supervision of our certified educators. Great Hearts works diligently to provide specialized training for general and special education teachers and staff to better support special needs students, as well as training that is more specific to diverse and unique student needs.

Great Hearts offers a special education program that includes a full continuum of related services that include, but not limited to educational support, speech and language services, physical therapy, occupational therapy, counseling, as well as visual and audiological services. Our students receive related services from individuals licensed by the state of Louisiana in their specific areas of support services.

Great Hearts Campus Special Programs consist of the following staff and supports:

- Exceptional Student Services (ESS) Team including a Lead ESS Coordinator, One or more ESS Coordinators, ESS Teachers, and ESS TA's/Paraprofessionals as needed.
- An English Learner (EL) Team including an EL Coordinator, Certified EL Teachers and TA's
- Section 504 Coordinator(s)
- Interventionist(s)
- School Counselor(s)

The Regional and National ESS Director and ESS Regional Team supports all Special Programs campus teams, thus providing leadership and training for the implementation of Special Programs that advance the achievement of students served through Exceptional

Student Services (Special Education), Section 504 , EL/Language Program, Counseling and Crisis Intervention, and Hospital Homebound Services. The Regional Team collaborates with parents, campus coordinators, head of schools, teachers, and support personnel regarding instructional issues. The Regional team assists in monitoring compliance with all state, federal and local requirements under the supervision of the Regional Exceptional Student Services Director.

Great Hearts has established practices that provide for continuous professional development to all teachers and staff to meet the unique needs in the planning, delivery of robust curriculum and instruction, and accountability for the success of every child. Great Hearts' professional development encompassed consistent Socratic seminars, curriculum specific training, prescriptive instructional strategies, and supports for our unique and exceptional learners. Professional development in data systems that aid in the efficacy of each special program that supports progress monitoring, the closing of achievement gaps, as well as the achievement, performance, and accountability of all students.

Tracking the efficacy and equity of the Special Education program begins in the RTI and identification processes as administrators and interventionists meet quarterly to review data to make two determinations:

- Are the majority of students responding to their interventions, signaling the effectiveness of the programming?
- Are any student subgroups over-represented throughout the school and grade levels, signaling an inequitable implementation of Tier 1 universal instruction, intervention, and identification.

Similarly, the same questions and data are analyzed quarterly in regards to student representation in Special Education and ILPs.

English Learners: Great Hearts' specialized language program, The English Learner (EL) Program, addresses the needs of students through procedures established by the Louisiana Department of Education and federal law. The program provides classroom environments which facilitate language learning and ensures appropriate placement, services, and monitoring of EL students.

Students are initially identified for EL services through a Home Language Survey and English Language Proficiency Screener. Students identified as EL receive services through an EL Pull-Out Program in-class support model. Great Hearts has certified EL coordinators, certified EL teachers (as needed), and trained apprentice teachers within the program. Ongoing professional development of the EL staff is provided throughout the school year and regional team meetings for collaboration, standardization and compliance are held monthly. The EL Coordinators are supported by Regional EL Specialists and/or a Director.

The EL instruction program provides individualized linguistic accommodations for classroom teachers, small group instruction during ELAR and as needed support in all other subjects. All instructional support is aligned with the general education classroom curriculum, LEAP 2025, and English Language Proficiency Standards and encompasses Structured English Immersion Instructional Strategies. The progress of ELs is monitored through class grades, standardized assessments, and the annual English Language Proficiency Test (ELPT).

Working closely with the campus testing coordinators and the regional testing coordinator, assessment results are analyzed to track student progress both in academics and English language acquisition. Assessment results and student progress is communicated annually to parents. English Learners are reclassified as English Proficient (EP) based on results from the state's ELPT and other required academic data. When students meet the state's exit criteria, they are exited from EL services in accordance with Louisiana Department of Education guidance, with parent notification and approval documented as required.

EL Coordinators at each campus provide ongoing professional development in English Language support and state assessment for language proficiency to all classroom teachers throughout the school year. ELs are a part of the general education classroom composition and receive the same education as their grade-level peers. They are included in all extra-curricular and cultural/community building activities.

Great Hearts effectively communicates with parents in their native language through a translation agency and translated documents. During the school year, Great Hearts invites the parents of English learners to an information night to present program information and answer questions.

Academically Advanced Students: Great Hearts is committed to cultivating the hearts and minds of all students through the pursuit of Truth, Goodness, and Beauty. Great Hearts offers a significantly advanced, rich, and rigorous liberal arts curriculum that promotes and supports all student talents and gifts and continues to inspire and challenge them toward pursuit of excellence. This holistic approach, of content in the Languages, the Arts, Mathematics, the Sciences, Humanities and Philosophy, integrated into rigorous and rich curriculum, allows for every child to explore their own curiosity and sense of wonder, that creates critical independent thinkers, life-long learners that become well-rounded human beings that will lead the future. All Great Hearts Lake Charles, students will be expected to follow the same course sequence as other students in the Great Hearts network. While students will learn at different paces, Great Hearts believes that true education is a matter of development over time and within a stable community. Great Hearts gives students individualized attention, but within a liberal arts core curriculum that is advanced by nature of the content.

The Great Hearts model has been influenced by the research of leading educational psychologist Carol S. Dweck (author of Mindset) in giving students a common course of study and not implementing a gifted and talented program. Because of this founding philosophy, Great Hearts Lake Charles will not offer specific gifted/talented instruction. Rather, Great Hearts will continue to work diligently with teachers to differentiate their instruction in the classroom so that all students of all levels are challenged and supported.

Behavior Management

16. a,b,c,d,e. Great Hearts Lake Charles takes an intentional approach to behavior management by cultivating a unified and intentional school culture grounded in the pursuit of truth, goodness, and beauty. The goal is to graduate thoughtful leaders of character who contribute to a more just and humane society. This culture supports Louisiana's commitment to equitable and inclusive learning environments under Bulletin 126 by promoting respect, belonging, and high expectations for every student. Classrooms are designed to be structured and distraction-free, creating spaces where all students – regardless of background or ability – can engage fully in learning. Shared practices such as the honor code and student uniform foster community identity and mutual respect, while daily interactions reinforce responsibility, empathy, and perseverance.

The Great Hearts culture is proactive, not punitive. Teachers guide students in developing self-discipline, integrity, and social awareness through Socratic dialogue, character reflection, and shared accountability. Academic and behavioral expectations are clear, consistent, and compassionate, ensuring students understand that mistakes are opportunities for growth. The integration of academics, the arts, and athletics provides students with multiple pathways to demonstrate leadership and character. Enrichment programs, mentorship, and extracurricular offerings build confidence and strengthen interpersonal relationships, contributing to a safe and inclusive climate that prevents behavioral issues before they arise.

Family partnership and student voice are central to maintaining a positive culture aligned with state expectations for engagement and equity. Parents are invited to collaborate through service, volunteering, and regular communication about student growth, while students are empowered to take ownership of their community through leadership opportunities, class discussions, and peer mentorship. This intentional culture, centered on respect, virtue, and inclusion, proactively shapes student behavior, promotes social-emotional development, and ensures that every student at Great Hearts Lake Charles is supported to thrive academically and personally within a just and caring school community.

All discipline information is communicated in the Family Handbooks and introduced to parents during the annual Parent Information Night, which takes place each summer before the school year begins. All parents and guardians are asked to attend; translation services are available for ELL parents. Parent Information Nights are held in the evening and significant advance notice is provided to parents, with the aim of removing conflicts and having as many parents as possible in attendance.

Great Hearts implements a behavior management system for the purpose of the common good of the Academy and its maintenance as a place of learning and moral development. Great Hearts believes that habits of behavior play a significant part in forming habits of mind. Teachers and staff members will make every effort to enforce all rules consistently, informatively, and with a heart of mercy for the student's overall well-being, thereby creating safe and nurturing places to learn.

Great Hearts students strive to make the most of their educational opportunities and recognize the benefits of mutual encouragement, respect, courtesy, and helpfulness. Nevertheless, students are young and human, and they will make mistakes in speech or behavior – they are still learning how to appropriately comport themselves. Though behavioral mistakes require correction and reminding, not all may need corrective action. That said, mistakes that are disruptive to other students and to teachers cannot repeatedly occur and interrupt learning, nor will deliberate or intentional choices.

The philosophy of Great Hearts is that students are young adults in the making who will learn civil, polite, and respectful conduct by the example of their teachers and other adults. Consequently, students will be treated with respect and courtesy by staff and will be expected to treat not only all adults on campus with such respect, but one another as well. Several examples of such respect are a student's willingness to refrain from talking in class when others have the floor; a respect for the property of the school and of other students; a willingness to refrain from sarcastic or critical comments towards others; and a willingness to ask (and give) forgiveness when someone has been wronged.

Great Hearts' guiding policy is to be fair, firm, and consistent in the application of discipline for inappropriate behavior. Great Hearts reserves the right to exercise reasonable judgment as an individual circumstance might dictate, but the following guidelines for discipline are provided as standard tenants.

One corrective action response is that students may be assigned detention or lose the privilege of lunch- time recess or extra-curricular activity, or be required to perform some work detail, such as cleaning, depending on the nature and frequency of offenses such as: littering; possession and/or chewing of gum on campus; being late to class; talking out of turn or otherwise disrupting class; use of profanity or disrespectful speech toward other students; uniform and dress code violations; or other inappropriate behaviors. If a student repeatedly violates any of the above, the parent may be contacted, and other disciplinary measures may be taken.

Detentions can be serious in nature and a high number of detentions can indicate a student's general unwillingness to cooperate with the school. If a student has received five detentions for any reason in a school year, then he or she may be suspended for a duration determined by the head of school. If a student has received six detentions for any reason in a quarter, then he or she will be suspended for a duration determined by the head of school. A student may be suspended for a lesser number of detentions if many of the detentions are received for the same offense (such as tardiness), or if the head of school and Dean determine that the accumulated detentions are of a serious nature and warrant immediate action.

In the case of more serious misbehavior, such as forging a parent's signature, lying to an adult, cheating on exams and/or academic assignments, fighting, theft, willful destruction of property, defiance of authority, disrespect of adults, leaving campus without permission, skipping class, etc., the parent will be contacted, and other disciplinary measures taken.

Threats of violence and physical, verbal or sexual harassment are illegal and will result in parent contact and, depending on the nature of the offense, may result in other disciplinary measures, including notification of law enforcement authorities, suspension, and expulsion.

The head of school or Assistant head of school may suspend any student for up to 10 school days for serious cause, including, but not limited to the following:

- Defiance of authority of Academy staff
- Disregard or disobedience of school rules and regulations as outlined in the Family Handbook
- Verbal abuse of adults or students
- Disruptive or disorderly behavior
- Violent or threatening behavior
- Bullying or harassment
- Fighting
- Destruction or theft of school property or personal property
- Truancy
- Persistent absenteeism that is not due to certifiable medical illness or disability
- Persistent tardiness
- Excessive accumulation of infractions

The school officials involved shall make reasonable efforts to verify facts and statements prior to recommending a discipline response.

In cases of suspension from school, the head of school shall present the family with the reasons and evidence for suspension and provide the family with an informal opportunity to respond.

The parent/guardian will receive a formal written notice of suspension. During out-of-school suspensions, students are provided the opportunity to complete classroom assignments, homework, and exams. Depending on the severity of the offense, the student's past behavior, and other circumstances, the school may choose to impose in-school or out-of-school suspension. There is no right to appeal a short-term (less than 10 days) suspension imposed by the school.

The head of school may recommend to the Disciplinary Hearing Committee suspension for over 10 days and/or expulsion of a student for serious cause. The parent/guardian will be notified of the intent to suspend for over 10 school days or expel the student, and a hearing shall be held in accordance with the Academy's policies and procedures. If a student is being recommended for a long-term suspension or expulsion, the parent/guardian will be provided with a complete copy of the Academy's Long-Term Suspension and Expulsion Policy and Procedure regarding these discipline procedures.

Great Hearts is committed to meeting all requirements of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, the IDEA, and state laws regarding disciplining of students with disabilities, including conducting Manifestation Determination Reviews (MDRs) when determining suspension or expulsion for students with disabilities. In accordance with R.S. 17:416.2, all students who are expelled or suspended for longer than ten days will be provided with academic instruction at an alternative setting. As such cases are rare, plans for alternate setting instruction are developed on a case-by-case basis and designed with consideration for the needs of the individual student and family.

Great Hearts collects annual data on long-term suspensions and expulsions that are disaggregated by sub-group (gender, race, ethnicity, economically disadvantaged, and IEP/504) to ensure that no subgroup is disproportionately represented in disciplinary categories. We monitor subgroup participation rates in absenteeism, tardiness, behavior referrals, assignment of detentions, and suspensions. When it becomes evident that a subgroup is experiencing difficulty, the nature of the response varies by campus and region, but all administrators are equipped to review data, find irregularities, and systematically employ a root-cause identification and solution modification process.

For example, at one school, Great Hearts explored the pattern by grade level to identify whether a particular teacher or administrator needed to be addressed. Within particular categories of infractions, the team examined patterns, such as time of day, location in the school, and supervisory arrangements (hallway passing, in-classroom, lunch periods, recess, etc.). Rather than make assumptions about what lay behind the patterns, Great Hearts brought the patterns to the attention of the affected teachers and administrators so that they could work through them to identify root causes. At a Texas campus, leaders observed a challenge with the SPED population, and addressed it by digging more deeply into the data to see whether there are particular diagnostic categories that require greater teacher awareness and training. Great Hearts is also considering changing recess patterns to reduce student density during transitional periods where there is large-group supervision.

To minimize exclusionary disciplinary practices, Great Hearts trains all faculty in Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports (PBIS). In essence, PBIS centers on affirming positive student behaviors and recognizing and rewarding active participation and exemplary conduct. At the same time, teachers ignore or under-react to negative behaviors, thus making it clear that they are unwelcome and unworkable in a healthy classroom environment. Students who require discipline are addressed individually away from the class, which avoids shaming and the stigmatizing of students, as well as minimizing the dynamic where students act out for the attention and entertainment of their peers. All teachers are trained in PBIS during intensive full-day summer institutes and weekly professional development sessions throughout the year. PBIS is the routine classroom management system that teachers use in Great Hearts classrooms with support from dedicated deans, assistant head of schools, and the campus head of school.

See Appendix 2: School Model Master Plan

Parent and Community Engagement

17. a, b. Great Hearts believes that a classical education – typically available only at elite private schools to those with the financial means to afford it, excluding all low-income and most middle-income families – should be accessible to all young people, regardless of socio-economic status, including families that have not previously considered a classical education as an enrollment option. To this end, Great Hearts will deploy strategic and intentional outreach in the community to reach a diverse audience segmentation. In its outreach, Great Hearts will convey that its programming is broadly appealing and fully accessible to all families, and through community engagement will identify any areas in which the program does not seem accessible.

In the spirit of community engagement, once the school is established parents will be encouraged to embrace and participate in the school's academic and ethical vision. As the central adult role models and teachers in their own children's lives, parents can appreciate the greater significance of the school's vision and the long-lasting value of such an education, and they can support their children in their journey towards it. Volunteerism is vital to the school's prosperity.

Great Hearts views its campuses as not just schools but as community and cultural gathering places. Grandparents, extended family members, and community members at-large are welcomed to the campus on a regular basis for events such as student performances or open enrollment open houses.

The Parent Service Organization (PSO) is a service organization within each Great Hearts Academy. All parents and guardians of students are members of the PSO. The purpose of the PSO is to serve the school's students and teachers through coordinating and assisting programs and activities that are critical to their success. Involvement in the PSO is structured according to service committees, with each committee devoted to a specific area of school life. At the beginning of each school year, each campus hosts a meeting for the PSO at which individuals who are interested can sign up for different volunteer opportunities, including hearing and vision screenings, school celebrations, festivals, and other activities.

Academy Advisory Committees (AAC) are established at each campus as well. A volunteer group unique to each academy, each AAC consists of parents from the school community and representatives from school administration and support services staff. Its purpose is to bring together school stakeholders, facilitate communication, foster understanding, build relationships, provide opportunities to discuss and offer input on issues of interest at the school, and support the head of school in his/her responsibilities to improve school life.

Great Hearts school leadership, regional leadership, and board members are committed to hearing and addressing concerns brought by any member of the Great Hearts and Lake Charles community, including students, parents or guardians, and other community members.

The following is a description of how parent/guardian, students and/or community concerns will be addressed at Great Hearts Lake Charles based on the plan/policies set forth in the family handbook.

Classroom teachers and key members of the site management team - including the dean of students, assistant head of school, and head of school - are in constant contact with parents. At the start of the year, they meet parents during informational meetings, open houses, and orientations. As the year progresses, they see parents daily staffing the pick-up and drop-off lines, handling drop-in visits, and through other means. Teachers send out weekly newsletters, post special messages celebrating student accomplishments, and contact parents to schedule calls when student challenges arise. Through these interactions, many staff members initiate strong relations with families, open up communication lines, and make themselves available when parents voice concerns.

When a parent has a concern, s/he is expected to start by addressing it with the classroom teacher through a conversation. If that interaction does not resolve the matter, it will be taken up between the dean of students or assistant head of school and the parent. Teachers are trained to raise unresolved matters with the dean or assistant head of school, and the parent also has a direct channel of communication. By engaging in a threeway meeting with the parent, teacher and administrator, a second attempt is made to resolve the matter and take appropriate action to remedy it.

If the concern remains unresolved, a meeting is scheduled with the head of school. To set the stage for a successful conflict resolution, the head of school obtains background information, reviews communications, and gets briefed on the material issues that caused the conflict. Using his/her judgment, the head of school will call together the parties required to resolve the conflict, frequently starting with a meeting with the parent(s) to listen to their concerns and seek to understand any root causes

Once the head of school has met with the parent, the matter may be resolved, documented, and/or elevated to the regional president and/or board of directors if it remains unresolved. This sequence of steps is called for in the grievance policy documented in the Great Hearts family handbook, which is distributed among all parents, addressed in orientations, and provided to teachers as part of structured trainings.

Overall, all teachers, administrators, parents, students, and other community members are encouraged to address conflicts at the lowest level with a focus on constructive problem solving and healthy conflict resolution. The only exception is a situation in which a student's or staff member's safety is put at risk, in which case a community member is encouraged to go directly to the head of school with a concern.

If a concern is not resolved through direct communication or a written notice of concern, parents, students, and community members are encouraged to follow the school's grievance process, which provides a pathway for escalation from the head of school to the executive director to the board of directors. Two principles guide this process: (a) staff are to attempt to resolve grievances as quickly and fairly as possible; and (b) all parties are encouraged to resolve concerns at the lowest level possible.

If the parent concern is about a board policy or decision, all governing board meetings are public and include a “call to the public.” During this time, any member of the public may ask to speak to voice concern about particular policies and decisions. All board meetings are publicly posted using a formal notice of meeting so that members of the public have access to meeting times and locations.

This grievance procedure is just one structure in the overall administrative effort to resolve concerns as fairly, transparently, and constructively as possible in the best interests of students and the health of the entire school community.

See Appendix 3: Grievance Policy

GROWTH PLAN

18. a, b, c, d, e. Great Hearts Lake Charles will adopt the same policies and practices as existing schools in the Great Hearts Louisiana network with regards to the following aspects: promotion and graduation policy; instructional leadership roles; hiring processes; food services; and transportation. Teacher and school leader evaluation policies will also remain the same at the Lake Charles campus.

19. By expanding to Lake Charles, Great Hearts Louisiana will broaden our reach to serving an additional 1,456 of students and families in the state of Louisiana. Continued growth in the state is consistent with Great Hearts’ national model of growth. Since inception in 2002, our network in Texas has grown to 17 total schools and in Arizona to 23 total schools. We have learned that statewide expansion not only increases access to more families, but also improves the overall quality of Great Hearts schools within the state.

We believe expansion improves overall school quality because:

1. Replication facilitates success. Great Hearts Lake Charles will benefit by learning from Great Hearts Harveston. Our new school will be able to implement academic and operational practices that have been proven and codified, helping the new school avoid typical road bumps that may come in start up. As described previously, Great Hearts has a documented network effect showing that multi-site networks develop stronger coaching capacity and teacher retention than single-site campuses.
2. Talent begets talent. With more campuses across the state, our network is able to develop strong educator pipelines and training programs to strengthen teacher and leader retention and broaden the funnel of staff interested in and prepared to excel in our schools.
3. Resources are easily shared. Statewide growth also allows our academies to share curriculum, technology, and network staff, creating efficiencies and improving services network-wide.

20. a, b, c. Great Hearts Louisiana is a non-profit corporation under applicable Louisiana non-profit law. Great Hearts Louisiana (GHLA) has not been involved in any current or past litigation or arbitration proceedings as an organization. No GHLA school has had its charter contract terminated, voluntarily closed, or failed to be renewed by an authorizer. GHLA currently operates one campus under charter: Great Hearts Harveston, authorized by East Baton Rouge Public Schools in 2021, which opened in August 2022 and is currently in its third year of operation. At the Great Hearts America (GHA) network level, no schools in the GHA Louisiana or Texas networks have closed. One campus in the GHA Arizona network (Great Hearts Scottsdale Prep) voluntarily closed in 2019 due to facility constraints unrelated to academic or financial performance. There have been no non-openings in the GHLA portfolio: Great Hearts Lake Charles received a Type 1 charter approval from CPSB in January 2026 but GHLA is pursuing the Type 2 state-authorized pathway per CPSB's recommendation rather than opening under the Type 1 approval. This constitutes a strategic pathway decision, not a failed opening.

ORGANIZATIONAL PLAN AND CAPACITY

Staffing

21. Great Hearts Lake Charles does not intend to contract with a management or educational service provider.

GHLA is incorporated by a Sole Member, Great Hearts America (GHA), an Arizona-based non-profit organization. GHA is the parent non-profit to all of the Great Hearts regions across the country. GHA ensures governance and organizational support and oversight to the Directors of GHLA to ensure that the fiduciary duties of care (exercising sound, legal, and ethical board best practices and acting on an informed basis), loyalty (giving uncompromised allegiance when making decisions affecting GHLA), and obedience (acting in good faith and in furtherance of the law and GHLA's goals and mission) are consistently exercised by the Directors. As Sole Member, GHA retains the final authority to approve new members to the GHLA board.

In addition to being the Sole Member of the GHLA corporation, GHA provides essential management support to ensure the faithful and consistent implementation of the Great Hearts model. Areas of expertise and direct service that GHA provides to GHLA and each of its schools include:

- Strategic planning and goal-setting
- National teacher and leader talent recruiting
- Teacher professional development and onboarding
- Human resources and payroll
- Accounting
- Accounts payable
- Facility financing
- Best practices in school and enrollment operations
- Best practices in special education
- Best practices in classical pedagogy, teacher coaching, and evaluation
- Classical curriculum and lesson plans aligned to Louisiana state standards
- Analysis of academic outcomes and school improvement / intervention planning
- Analysis of teacher, parent, and constituent satisfaction and a school improvement dashboard
- Fundraising & community resource engagement

GHLA will hold a state-compliant and GHLA-board approved management agreement for the expertise and services provided above. GHLA leverages the scale of GHA to not only access high quality and mission-aligned services but to receive them at less cost than if GHLA attempted to recreate all of these services independently.

In turn, the state-level GHLA team is responsible for:

- Grounding in & compliance with applicable authorizer, state, and federal policies and laws
- Authorizer and state reporting
- Regional and campus-level budgeting
- Financial projections
- Procurement
- Hiring of staff and teachers
- Management and oversight of schools, leaders, teachers, and staff
- School operations, including enrollment and maintenance of all student level records
- Special education services
- School lunch programs
- Academic performance
- Implementation of school improvement plans
- Facility oversight and maintenance
- Ongoing reporting to the GHLA Board on school performance and meeting of goals

With the strong coordination of the GHA and GHLA teams, the GHLA board has the tools to fulfill its fiduciary responsibility to oversee the high-performing school to be created and grown within the Calcasieu Parish.

22. The direct reporting line will run: (1) from the board of directors to a the executive director of Great Hearts Louisiana; (2) from the executive director to the head of school of the Great Hearts Lake Charles campus and director of finance of Great Hearts Louisiana; (3) from the head of school to the assistant head of school, dean and faculty members. All campus employees will have a direct reporting line to the head of school unless the head of school, at his/her discretion, chooses to have employees report directly to the assistant head of school or other members of his/her leadership team.

The board of Great Hearts Louisiana will directly manage one employee, the executive director of Great Hearts Louisiana. The executive director or superintendent will, when the Lake Charles regional office is built out over time as the first school expands and subsequent schools are opened, manage all statewide leaders, including the Director of Finance, who will also have a co-reporting relationship to the GHA finance team. The head of school will report to the executive director, and accountability, oversight, and evaluation of the head of school will be led and conducted by the executive director.

Great Hearts America is an umbrella 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that raises significant ongoing philanthropic commitments and secures low-interest facilities financing so that it can retain an accomplished executive team, support the network's growth in existing regions, and enable entry into new regions in a judicious, high-quality manner.

To bridge Great Hearts into Lake Charles, the co-founder of Great Hearts America, Dan Scoggin, is devoting significant personal time to making site visits, generating resources, and otherwise overseeing Great Hearts' growth into Louisiana. Dan Scoggin brings a wealth of depth and experience having played instrumental roles in leading Great Hearts' development over the past 25 years.

To support the establishment of Great Hearts Lake Charles, Great Hearts America is providing executive leadership services in the following areas: (a) marketing and communications; (b) human resources; (c) curriculum and instructional quality; (d) operational supports; (e) finance; and (f) development. In the early going, Great Hearts America's engagement will be intensive, but as a dedicated local team is built, Great Hearts America will transition some services out of a hands-on execution stance while some services will remain with GHA for the best outcomes and coordination across the national Great Hearts network.

23. Great Hearts Lake Charles is currently budgeting for the following staffing plan aligned with our growth.

	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5	Full Scale

24. Great Hearts Academies is committed to hiring and retaining extraordinary teachers, who are passionately committed to cultivating our students' hearts and minds. We seek highly skilled professional educators, who can foster a depth of inquiry in their classrooms and a sense of wonder in their students, hold high academic standards, and guide students as they grow into virtuous members of society. Great Hearts has a unique hiring profile which prioritizes cultural and philosophical alignment and mission-fit, over a particular set of credentials, and it employs a rigorous, multi-layered screening process. As a result, historical hiring data has shown that Great Hearts must attract at least seven candidates for every hire that it makes. Great Hearts has successfully met and exceeded this goal over the last five hiring seasons, even as the national network and hiring scope has grown exponentially.

Great Hearts has also worked to ensure its application process is streamlined and user-friendly, resulting in fewer passive or lost candidates who find it online but delay applying due to application length or complication. Further, among those who do apply, Great Hearts employs a series of touchpoints - prompts and interactions (including the opportunity to complete a brief video interview at their convenience) - which encourage continued interest in those who otherwise may not have heard from Great Hearts.

Overall, while the search, identification, and successful engagement of academic talent remains a tremendous charge, Great Hearts is committed to an uncompromised set of standards in finding the individuals who are truly at the heart of its project. Great Hearts believes the intentional and strategic work of the last decade represents a reliable foundation for continued recruitment of the best faculty in the country.

At Great Hearts Academies (GHA), neither the employee nor the company is committed to an employment agreement for a fixed period. Employment with GHA is at-will. These changes may occur at any time, with or without notice. There is no concept or practice of tenure at GHA. GHA will use fair and non-discriminatory procedures in determining which employees will be offered an employment agreement for the following year.

Great Hearts may also check against publicly available databases of criminal offenders and sex offenders.

25. Great Hearts Academies is committed to hiring and retaining extraordinary teachers, who are passionately committed to cultivating our students’ hearts and minds. We manage growth and teacher turnover by implementing a thoughtful, methodical, and proven teacher recruitment strategy. We seek highly skilled professional educators, who can foster a depth of inquiry in their classrooms and a sense of wonder in their students, hold high academic standards, and guide students as they grow into virtuous members of society. Great Hearts has a unique hiring profile which prioritizes cultural and philosophical alignment and mission-fit, over a particular set of credentials, and it employs a rigorous, multi-layered screening process. As a result, historical hiring data has shown that Great Hearts must attract at least seven candidates for every hire that it makes. Great Hearts has successfully met and exceeded this goal over the last five hiring seasons, even as the national network and hiring scope has grown exponentially.

Identifying and building relationships with philosophically aligned colleges and universities, specific liberal arts, honors, great books programs, and even individual professors have formed the backbone of Great Hearts' efforts to attract both new college graduates and experienced alumni. The expansive network of relationships that Great Hearts has built for over a decade includes about 150 "target schools" across the country. The Great Hearts connection to these pipelines is strengthened by university campus visits by the Talent team and alumni, as well as "reverse recruiting trips" wherein professors and leaders from higher education are able to tour Great Hearts campuses, interacting with Great Hearts leaders, faculty, and students - visits which engender further enthusiasm and provide first-hand knowledge of the organization to academic contacts who advocate for and refer Great Hearts to their graduates and colleagues who have a calling to teach in public schools.

Great Hearts also devotes significant attention to increasing its presence and student awareness on the campuses of local colleges and universities. Great Hearts focuses on building relationships with professors and programs within local universities, such as LSU and McNeese State, within both Education departments and the broad swath of academic content major areas from which it primarily recruits, such as history, mathematics, Latin, and engineering. Great Hearts has also found that presence in local academic circles, as well as word-of-mouth promotion from families and current employees, are effective mechanisms for growing familiarity with Great Hearts as a wonderful place to work in the community at large, amongst working professionals in and outside of industry.

Great Hearts desires to build partnerships and cooperative programs with local colleges and universities that it believes will be instrumental in continuing to meet growing hiring needs. Nationally, Great Hearts has developed partnerships with several institutions of higher education such as St. John's College in Sante Fe, NM, and Annapolis, MD, Templeton Honors College at Eastern University, and the University of Dallas. These institutions share the Great Hearts commitment to liberal arts education and have allocated scholarships specifically for Great Hearts teachers to participate in their programs. Great Hearts partners with these institutions to ensure that their programming is tailored to serve the needs of teachers in classical liberal arts schools. An example of one such program is a partnership with the University of Dallas (UD), where it helped to establish a Master of Arts in Teaching program focused on Classical Education. Students take classes at UD during the summers and complete practicum work on Great Hearts campuses during the Fall and Spring semesters. Additionally, Great Hearts piloted a SPED "Teacher in Residence" program in cooperation with other university and community college program that allows students to work provisionally on Great Hearts campuses in Special Education while they complete their certification. Both programs have the effect of introducing Great Hearts campuses to additional students and graduates who are yet more likely to be motivated and quality candidates.

Beyond these targeted higher education measures, Great Hearts has invested significant time and money in increasing and refining its presence on a number of online recruiting platforms, such as LinkedIn, Indeed, and Glassdoor, and most recently, Handshake, which allows it to search for, identify, and directly message college seniors, graduate students and alumni from around the country, about Great Hearts teaching opportunities. Great Hearts has also worked to ensure its application process is streamlined and user-friendly, resulting in fewer passive or lost candidates who find it online but delay applying due to application length or complication. Further, among those who do apply, Great Hearts employs a series of touchpoints - prompts and interactions (including the opportunity to complete a brief video interview at their convenience) - which encourage continued interest in those who otherwise may not have heard from Great Hearts.

Overall, while the search, identification, and successful engagement of academic talent remains a tremendous charge, Great Hearts is committed to an uncompromised set of standards in finding the individuals who are truly at the heart of its project. Great Hearts believes the intentional and strategic work of the last decade represents a reliable foundation for continued recruitment of the best faculty in the country.

26. For a detailed overview of Great Hearts' hiring plan for the first five years of operation and at scale, including the number of new employees to be hired across each role, see our response to question 23 of this application. The hiring plan is organized around annual grade level additions and enrollment growth and corresponding increases in staffing needs. The timeline for staff hiring is as follows:

Year 1 - All new hires (12 total) by June 2027

- Head of School hired by January 2027
- Assistant Head of School/Deans hired by March 2027
- SPED/intervention staff hired by May 2027

In all subsequent years, new staff will be hired by the May prior to the upcoming school year. Generally, leadership positions are prioritized 4-6 months before the school year; teaching positions are prioritized by April before the school year, and filled on a rolling basis. All hiring timelines will be managed by the GHA talent team with support from the Louisiana Director.

This staffing overview aligns with the budget provided in the Overview Template. As a slow growth model, Great Hearts Lake Charles will make a significant number of new hires each year, with an emphasis on teachers and teachers aides each year. Great Hearts' leadership understands that, as a network of public charter schools, our "product" is our people. Great Hearts cannot provide a high quality of education if it does not recruit, select, prepare, equip and retain the best possible employees in every position, from janitor and bus driver to classroom teacher and counselor to dean and head of school. Because of this primacy that Great Hearts gives to people, it has allocated significant resources to all aspects of HR functions. Great Hearts is confident that these functions are serving the network well in Arizona, Texas, and Louisiana.

Recently, Great Hearts America was awarded a $34M federal Charter Schools Program grant to support expansion and replication efforts across the country, including in Louisiana. This grant allows for dedicated funding in support of teacher recruitment and training, significantly increasing our capacity to identify, attract, and hire the highest quality staff for each of our new charter schools. CSP funding will also be leveraged to ensure the success of our training programs, which include intensive full-day institutes for a minimum of 3-5 weeks in June and July prior to opening in early August 2027.

School Leadership Team Capacity

See Appendix 4: Resumes of Leadership Team

Head of School Note: The permanent Head of School for Great Hearts Lake Charles has not yet been hired. Jason Doughty, Executive Director of Great Hearts Louisiana, will serve as interim Head of School pending the hire of a permanent Head of School, which is targeted for Fall 2026. Mr. Doughty’s resume is included in Appendix 4. The job description for the permanent Head of School position is also provided in Appendix 4. Great Hearts has a rigorous Head of School selection process that includes multiple rounds of interviews, demonstration lessons, leadership simulations, and community stakeholder input. The Head of School candidate pool will be drawn from GHA’s internal leadership pipeline as well as external recruitment, with a preference for candidates with Louisiana teaching certification and familiarity with the classical education model.

Board Composition and Residency: The Great Hearts Louisiana board currently consists of five members. The board currently has one open seat due to the recent resignation of Katie Fetzer. This seat will be refilled within 90 days of her resignation and a new board member for this seat is being recruited from the Lake Charles community. The five current members bring expertise in finance, legal, academics, management and operations, and community relations. Pursuant to Louisiana charter school law, 60% of charter board members are required to be residents of the school's parish. As clarified in the LDOE's 2025-2026 Technical Assistance materials, the 60% residency requirement is currently non-evaluative due to a conflict between state statute and BESE policy. Great Hearts Louisiana is actively recruiting Lake Charles and Calcasieu Parish community members for open board seats and is committed to meeting the residency requirement prior to the school's opening. The board composition table is provided above; full resumes are provided in Appendix 5.

See Appendix 5: Board Member Resumes

28. The leadership of Great Hearts takes very seriously the need to establish a corporate structure, including all aspects of governance, fiscal, managerial and operational practices, that can be entrusted with public revenues to operate a charter in the Calcasieu Parish, both initially and ongoing.

To meet these objectives, Great Hearts Louisiana (GHLA) has been incorporated as a Louisiana non-profit organization. GHLA is the entity with a qualified board of directors that would enter into the charter contract, maintain a governing board that meets all legal requirements, and operate as the public charter school meeting all fiduciary requirements. GHLA currently holds a charter with East Baton Rouge Public Schools for an existing campus. As the charter holding entity, GHLA is subject to: (a) all applicable Louisiana non-profit, public school, and charter school laws and policies; (b) Federal IRS non-profit laws and reporting requirements; and (c) all obligations of the charter contract with Calcasieu Parish.

Under Federal IRS reporting requirements, GHLA must complete annual filings and disclose information on its reporting activities, which will be audited annually. Under Louisiana state reporting requirements, GHLA must demonstrate compliance with State conflict-of-interest reporting and all other requirements. Through annual audits performed by independent auditors and transparent local, state and federal reporting, GHLA will demonstrate that it is meeting all conflict-of-interest requirements and exercising its fiduciary obligation to utilize public revenues properly and prudently.

29. New board members are carefully vetted in a multifaceted screening process. All board members receive board training on both the Great Hearts mission and their fiduciary responsibility. Board members must also be approved annually by the Member, Great Hearts, America, for continued service. The board convenes in public session at least four times a year and engages its fiduciary responsibility in authority over the executive team and through scrutiny of the school's performance. The board reviews the annual financial audit, ongoing financials, charter compliance, family satisfaction and faculty retention, and above all, the charter's academic performance and accountability, drilling down to the level of performance on interim assessments, with a focus on subgroup performance and growth. Alongside the regional and national Great Hearts teams, the board annually evaluates the performance of the school leader and holds him or her accountable for school health and performance according to established annual goals.

Regarding committees, GHLA will begin with the foundational standing committees including, but not limited to, Governance, Legal, Finance, Facilities, Community Engagement/Outreach, and Human Capital. And, from time to time, ad hoc committees may be created to address unforeseen issues such as a Disaster Recovery Committee. Each committee, whether standing or ad hoc, will be responsible for ensuring that their convening, and subsequent reports, are targeted towards the organizational and financial health of GHLA, as well as the academic performance of our scholars. Moreover, Great Hearts believes that the above mentioned structure will allow staff, families, and the broader Lake Charles community, to engage the Directors at the committee level for a granular perspective to streamline the governance process and attempt to problem-solve from the ground up.

30. Great Hearts Louisiana aims to meet all operational expectations and indicators, as evidenced through site visits and data submissions and reviews, inclusive of the following areas: special education and ELL program, student enrollment, student discipline, health and safety, governance, facilities, Title I and other Federal Programs, and student information systems and state mandated data reporting. 31. A dashboard will be leveraged to monitor the academic, organizational/legal, and financial goals of Great Hearts Lake Charles. The dashboard will contain data that measures the current performance of the schools against the goals that will be identified in a short-term, mid-term, and long-term Strategic Plan. The dashboard will be updated monthly to allow the Directors, in conjunction with the Executive Director and Head of School, to anticipate trends that are projecting inconsistent with our anticipated outcomes. The dashboard will also allow Great Hearts to identify performance gaps early and prompt the Directors to begin to mobilize additional resources or supports to close the performance gaps. Additionally, the dashboard will allow our scholars, staff, families, and community members to see the steps being taken by the Directors and head of schools so that they may “plug in” as partners to not just meet the goals but exceed them.

In the instance that the school is trending toward not meeting goals, the Directors will meet to: (1) Identify trends in the data to understand why goals are not being met, (2) design an improvement plan with clear, specific, and mission-aligned goals, (3) consider board expansion to ensure sufficient expertise, and (4) implement a monitoring and accountability system to track milestones aligned with the larger improvement goals. Should the board not see sufficient progress, they will take action with difficult decisions such as changes to leadership.

32. a, b, c. As mentioned above, a dashboard will be created to monitor the ongoing progress of the school. Regarding renewal standards, the Directors will begin to engage the Executive Director and head of school at least twelve months before the charter contract is scheduled to be evaluated for renewal. If the dashboard indicates that renewal is not likely, the Directors will convene an ad hoc Accountability Committee tasked with developing tactics and strategies to maximize GHLA’s chances of a successful renewal. Furthermore, the Accountability Committee will likely work simultaneously with the Community Engagement/Outreach Committee to ensure that community stakeholder perspective is received and potentially implemented in the renewal plan. The board regularly monitors the performance of each school using a range of metrics, including evaluation of disaggregated student performance outcomes on state assessments. The board meets six times a year (and in some instances monthly). Further, the board reviews college enrollment, persistence, and degree attainment data of its graduates to ensure that Great Hearts continues to prepare students for rigorous postsecondary learning. The board selects, manages and evaluates the Executive Director of Great Hearts Louisiana.

33. a. Great Hearts Lake Charles will leverage the Great Hearts America Director of Finance for Louisiana, Holly Manuel, to implement financial management and accounting for the school. To ensure financial health of the school and legal compliance with requirements and restrictions for the use of public funds, Ms. Manuel will implement the following practices for financial planning, accounting, purchasing, and payroll.

Dedicated campus leadership, including the head of school and Director of Finance, will manage financial planning, accounting, purchasing and payroll, with the support of Great Hearts America's national team, which includes a veteran Chief Financial Officer and highly qualified staff, under the oversight of the board of directors of Great Hearts Louisiana. The Great Hearts Louisiana board will meet regularly and will review the Great Hearts Lake Charles regional and school-level financial performance; it will also have a finance committee to provide additional financial oversight.

Financial Planning, accounting, purchasing, accounts payable and payroll will be conducted under the supervision of Great Hearts America's national team and in accordance with all applicable Louisiana state requirements so as to: properly segregate duties; maintain strict internal controls; avoid the improper mingling of funds; honor all financial obligations; ensure that payroll is consistent and timely; use funds in strict accordance with restricted and unrestricted purposes; and ensure the short- and long-term financial well-being of the Great Hearts Lake Charles region.

Financial Position. The Great Hearts Louisiana Board will be trained on state financial and charter governance requirements so that it can uphold its fiduciary responsibilities in accordance with all applicable state statutes and LDOE rules. The Board will exercise its oversight responsibilities by regularly reviewing financial statements, requesting additional information as needed to monitor and understand the organization's financial position, and scrutinizing the financial statements including, when needed, bank account reconciliations. The Board will approve the annual budget, all expansion requests and related financing of such along with purchases made above certain thresholds defined in its policies. The Board will have the right to select the auditor, provide input into the audit, and review the annual audited financial statements.

33. b. Great Hearts Louisiana will hire a School Business Administrator dedicated to the Lake Charles campus. This position will be filled based on demonstrated qualifications set forth in a job description that includes finance, accounting, and compliance expertise relevant to Louisiana public school operations. The School Business Administrator will work under the oversight of the Great Hearts Louisiana Director of Finance and the Great Hearts Louisiana board.

The Board will utilize the following fiscal controls and financial management policies to remain informed regarding the network's financial position:

- Financial policies & procedures manual: Management will prepare, and the Board will review and approve, Great Hearts Lake Charles's financial policies and procedures manual. The manual will be implemented, periodically reviewed, and updated so as to ensure that there is adherence to a clear standard of practice within defined non-profit accounting and resource-management parameters.

- Expert Network Support: Great Hearts America's financial leadership will review monthly results and discuss with the Great Hearts Louisiana Finance team and appropriate management. Necessary corrective actions will be created and implemented.
- Review of quarterly financial statements: The Board reviews financial statements monthly, including a balance sheet, income summary, quarterly actual-to-budget comparison, statement of cash flows and financial forecast.
- Routine Finance Committee Meetings: The Board Treasurer and Finance Committee will meet regularly with the CFO, the finance team, and other school and network leaders to review financial records, including the most recent reconciliation of accounts and budget-to-actual variance reports. Statements will be sent to the Board on a regular basis.
- Annual budget approval: The Board reviews and approves the school's annual budget each year as described above.
- Audit compliance: The Board works with the finance team and has hired an external auditor to ensure that an annual audit is completed in accordance with all applicable state requirements. The Board Treasurer, with the support of the CFO and network team, prepares management's response to each audit finding.

34. New board members are carefully vetted in a multifaceted screening process. They receive orientation regarding the Great Hearts academic model, accountability measures, school policies, and family and staff engagement. In compliance with Louisiana state regulations, all board members annually complete a 1-hour training program offered by the Louisiana Board of Ethics to stay current on conflicts of interest rules. Additionally, each board member submits a Tier 3 Financial Disclosure Statement that identifies their personal financial information from the previous year.

35. The board convenes in public session six times a year. The Corporation and the Board will comply in all respects with the Louisiana Open Meetings Law and Open Records Act. The Governing board bylaws specify the following processes and procedures to ensure compliance:

- Public Notice of Meetings: Public notice of all meetings of the Board, of the Executive Committee, of the Member (when transacting business concerning the Corporation) and of all committees authorized by the Board (collectively, the "Applicable Meetings" and singly an "Applicable Meeting") will be given pursuant to and as required by the Louisiana Open Meetings Law - La R.S. 42:11, (referred to as the "Open Meetings Law"), for so long as the Open Meetings Law applies to charter schools. Notice of all the Applicable Meetings, except as otherwise provided by state law, regulation, the Articles of Incorporation, or these Bylaws, will be posted as described below at least 24 hours before the time of the meeting, pursuant to La R.S. 42:19(A)(1)(b)(i).
- Posting of Notice: Notice to the public of any Applicable Meeting will be posted at the Corporation's administrative offices in a location convenient to the public at least 24 hours before the time of such meeting.
- Emergency Notice: Emergency meetings as may be allowed under the Louisiana Open Meetings Law shall be posted up to 24 hours before the meeting.
- Internet Posting: Notice and the agenda of all meetings of the Board of Directors will also be posted on the Corporation's internet website, if any, concurrently with the notice posted at the Corporation's administrative offices, or as otherwise required and authorized by the Louisiana Open Meetings Law.
- Agenda: At each regular meeting of the Board, the Board will establish the order of business in an Agenda approved by the President and as presented in the notice of the meeting. However, the President may modify the order of business. The agenda will identify all matters to be presented to and considered by the Board. Matters not disclosed in the agenda and the meeting notice available to the public will not be deliberated or be considered by the Board, except as permitted by the Louisiana Open Meetings Law, if any.

- Facilities: To be maintained by a facility tech who will be responsible for building maintenance, managing all local building contract services, (for example, lawn and tree service, air conditioning service, any building project management).
- Purchasing/AP-Purchasing: To be done primarily by the Director of Operations with managerial oversight and support from GHA, and when the purchase is above defined thresholds in policy, purchases will also require board approval. Using our approved vendors, the Director of Operations will assist teachers and administration in ordering supplies. Once invoices arrive at the school, they will be processed by the OM in our automated accounts payable system. Once approved, the invoice will be paid.
- Student Records: The Director of Operations’ responsibility is to collect, maintain, and ensure all required documents have been collected from the families and current. All student record files are maintained and stored in a locked cabinet.
- School Safety/Security: The school will use the Raptor School Security system that will monitor and background check all people entering and exiting the building. The system also manages the volunteers from background checks to entry in and out of the building. The third module manages the evacuation and reunification of students and families in the event of an evacuation. The school will complete an Emergency Operations Manual written specifically for the school site detailing all emergency procedures and appointing specific duties for school personnel. The safety procedures will be monitored by a Facilities Support Staff, under the supervision of the Head of School.

Student Enrollment and Recruitment

38. The target student population for Great Hearts Lake Charles schools is an ethnic and economic mix of children, including English learners and students with disabilities. In full compliance with Louisiana R.S. 17:3991(B)(3)(a)(i), Great Hearts Lake Charles will be an open-enrollment, tuition-free public school that admits all students through a random lottery when applications exceed available seats. No student will be denied admission based on academic performance, language proficiency, disability status, or family background. To ensure that families from all backgrounds are aware of and have equal access to the application process, Great Hearts will implement a multifaceted recruitment approach that combines broad marketing with direct grassroots engagement. Beginning in September of the year before opening, Great Hearts will launch high-level marketing efforts that include earned media (public relations), digital advertising (social media and streaming ads), direct mail (letters and door hangers), print ads (local publications and newspapers), and billboards. These strategies will ensure awareness across all neighborhoods of Lake Charles, including racially and socioeconomically diverse areas.

At the same time, Great Hearts will allocate significant staff and financial resources toward in-person outreach. Starting in October, Great Hearts will host introductory town halls, “meet the leader” nights, and open houses at the school site. Recruitment teams will table at neighborhood hubs such as the MLK Community Center, Ward 3 Recreation Center, and Drew Park Center, and partner with local churches including Greater St. Mary Missionary Baptist Church, First United Methodist Church of Lake Charles, and St. Margaret Catholic Church. Early childhood centers across the parish and civic partners such as the Southwest Louisiana Economic Development Alliance, the Imperial Calcasieu Human Services Authority, and the Kiwanis Club of Lake Charles will also be engaged. These efforts will extend into North, Central, and South Lake Charles to reach the full diversity of the community.

The application itself will be accessible both online and on paper, available in English, Spanish, and other languages as needed. Parents can submit applications from any internet-connected device, including cell phones, and will not be required to appear in person, eliminating transportation barriers. The enrollment window will remain open for several months, giving families with varying work schedules ample opportunity to apply.

For families requiring additional support, Great Hearts will provide translation services, technology access at the school site, and connections through community partners such as Calcasieu Parish Public Library branches and McNeese State University’s community outreach programs. These measures ensure that every family, regardless of language, technology access, or socioeconomic status, has equitable access to the enrollment process.

Lottery. If a lottery is required, the Great Hearts lottery will be conducted by the school’s Director of Operations and will be hosted publicly for full transparency; parents may attend the lottery event. The lottery will be conducted per the enrollment preferences that Great Hearts will use for enrollment, which are detailed below in order of priority:

1. Siblings of current Great Hearts students
2. Children of Great Hearts employees and staff members

The submitted application will indicate if the applying student qualifies for any of the aforementioned enrollment preferences. The first lottery round will consist only of the applicants who qualify for the first preference; each student applicant will be issued a corresponding number, ensuring a blind lottery. The lottery administrator will pull an application number for the specific grade level, one at a time, until all available seats have been filled or until there are no student applicants remaining. If seats are still available after all applicants from the first preference have been pulled, the lottery administrator will conduct an identical lottery with the applicants who qualify for the second preference, again until all available seats have been filled or until no applicants with that priority remain. The lottery will continue in this manner through all preferences, and then through general applications.

In the event that there is a surplus of applications for any grade level, a waitlist will be created for that grade level. Students will be placed on the waitlist in the order of how their numbers are chosen via the lottery. The waitlist will be managed by the school site; parents may contact the school directly to request to know where in line their child is on the waitlist at any time. Students will be admitted from the waitlist when a seat in the appropriate grade level becomes available, often due to a current student moving to a different school, district, or state, or to a new student selected during the lottery not accepting their seat or registering for the school.

After the lottery is held, all parents will be informed of their child's enrollment placement by the school. Students who were chosen, either via automatic admittance (if the number of applications did not exceed the number of available seats) or via the lottery, will then be asked to register. Great Hearts will communicate with all newly enrolling students by mail, email, and phone call, and will provide them detailed instructions on how and when to complete registration, offering assistance as needed. During registration, Great Hearts will collect documentation from families to verify residency and other pertinent information to ensure all students are enrolled appropriately.

To summarize, the timeline for all recruitment and enrollment activities will be as follows:

September (Year Before Opening)

- Launch marketing: PR, digital ads, mailers, print, billboards

October – Onward

- Outreach: town halls, open houses, community centers, churches, civic partners

Financial Plan

39. Great Hearts America was recently awarded a federal Charter School Programs (CSP) grant of $34M. Louisiana was awarded approximately $6M of this total, with $2M dedicated specifically to the startup of Great Hearts Lake Charles. Resources from the CSP grant will also support the Great Hearts America team to add additional personnel so that the new Lake Charles campus will receive expert start-up assistance.

40. A core component of financial planning is contingency planning. The contingency plan consists of: (1) budget development process; (2) finance committee oversight; (3) board budget review/approval; (4) budget review & analysis; (5) period budget revisions; and (6) budget crisis plan. In the event that the network is faced with a budget shortfall, the CFO of Great Hearts America, Director of Finance of Great Hearts Louisiana, and Finance Committee will meet to develop a budget shortfall and action plan. If the shortfall is projected to be significant, a budget crisis plan may be implemented to ensure the integrity of academic programs remain intact. Budget crisis steps may include but are not limited to:

- Prioritizing mission critical expenses directly related to delivery of classroom instruction, including line items related to instructional contracted services, instructional supplies and equipment, and instructional personnel;
- Protection and use of reserves;
- Delay or deferment of large capital purchases;
- Reduction in non-essential expenditures not directly related to the delivery of classroom instruction including: non-instructional contracted services; non-instructional occupancy services; non instructional supplies and equipment; non-instructional miscellaneous products and services; and non-instructional personnel.

Financial planning also consists of budget management & oversight. Great Hearts Lake Charles will maintain a conservative approach to budgeting, maximizing revenue projections while minimizing expenses. When faced with optimizing costs, Great Hearts will consistently work to protect the organization's mission and maintain resources to most effectively deliver the academic program students need to succeed. The Head of School, Director of Operations, and Director of Finance will meet regularly to develop the annual operating budget, assess the school's budget-to-actual position, review the cash flow position, update forecasts and ensure that the appropriate accounting is being completed on a timely basis. In addition, the leadership of Great Hearts Louisiana will meet with the Board's Finance Committee regularly to approve the annual budget, review YTD results, variances, actions to be taken, forecasts, cash position and ensure on-going financial stewardship is occurring. Lastly, a financial package with timely, high quality financial statements, in compliance with GAAP and applicable Louisiana laws, will be issued and presented at regular board meetings.

The initial step in the budget development process is to analyze the projected variances in revenue and expense in the current fiscal year. Once those variances have been analyzed, the GHA CFO, Director of Finance, and school leadership develop next year budget targets, which will meet the network's academic goals for the upcoming school/fiscal year. The targets and related assumptions are reviewed, first with the Finance Committee and then reviewed and approved by the entire board. Once targets have been agreed upon, then detailed budgeting can take place to align with the targets. Through the use of the targeting approach, less time is spent on the budget as funding decisions are discussed and agreed to upfront. This approach avoids the process of submitting a wish list budget only to have to turn around and make cuts. The target approach represents a more strategic way to budget and ensure that the valued investment discussion occurs at the beginning of the process.

The CFO, Director of Finance, and school leadership also work together to ensure that there are no fiscal year operating budget deficits. Should there be a year where revenues are projected to decrease, the CFO, the finance team, and school leadership work together in the target setting process to make the appropriate adjustments to the operating costs to ensure school and organizational solvency. The Board's Finance Committee works closely with the CFO to review and approve proposed actions in cases where revenues would be projected to decrease.

41. The Director of Finance will oversee budgeting, compliance, and internal controls to ensure the school's financial operations are managed with expertise and transparency, under the oversight of the GHA CFO and GHLA Board Finance Committee. Great Hearts Lake Charles will maintain a conservative approach to budgeting, maximizing revenue projections while minimizing expenses. When faced with optimizing costs, Great Hearts will consistently work to protect the organization’s mission and maintain resources to most effectively deliver the academic program students need to succeed.

See Appendix 7: Financial Manager Resume

42. Great Hearts Harveston’s 2023–24 Annual Audit identified a finding related to compliance with the Louisiana Government Budget Act (LGBA) and BESE Bulletin 126. Expenditures exceeded the approved budget by more than 5%, which triggered a requirement for a budget amendment that was not timely completed. The overage resulted from an unanticipated revenue source—the Louisiana Pre-K CSP (LPCSP) Grant received in January 2024—that was not reflected in the original approved budget. Remediation steps have been completed. Great Hearts Louisiana has implemented revised internal procedures to ensure that budget amendments are filed promptly whenever revenues or expenditures are projected to exceed the 5% threshold required under LGBA, and that new grant awards are reflected in approved budget amendments prior to expenditure.

43. a, b. The following is an outline of the primary components of the budget-management process:

Budget Approval: Great Hearts will ensure transparency throughout the budget process by following all applicable laws and statutes as it relates to allowing for public comment and input prior to board approval of the budget. The proposed budgets will be available for public review at the school site prior to approval by the Board. The Director of Finance presents the proposed budget to the full Board for approval at the May/June board meetings. The full board reviews the proposed budget to ensure it is in line with its goals/targets for the network. The Director of Finance and the Finance Committee address questions from the full Board. There is also time allotted for public questions and comments. If no modifications are required, the Board will reconvene for final approval in accordance with the Louisiana Government Budget Act. If modifications are required, the Director of Finance will make the required changes and present any material impacts to the Finance Committee prior to the Board reconvening for final budget approval.

Budget Review & Analysis: Prior to each board meeting, the finance team presents the monthly financial statements to school leadership and the Finance Committee. The finance team will provide detailed explanations for all significant budget variances on the income statement and related actions. The finance team will address questions from the Finance Committee.

RE: Great Hearts Lake Charles Letter of Support

To Whom it May Concern,

I trust you are well! Four of my six children have attended Great Hearts Harveston in Baton Rouge for the past three years, and I also currently serve as the Treasurer of the Great Hearts Louisiana Board. This letter is an expression of my hearty support for Great Hearts Louisiana opening a new school in the Lake Charles community.

Great Hearts is a national operator of public schools offering a classical education to children in the communities they serve. Great Hearts was founded more than 20 years ago with a mission to cultivate the minds and hearts of young men and women through the pursuit of Truth, Goodness, and Beauty. Today, Great Hearts operates 45 brick-and-mortar public charter schools, 2 online public charter schools and, 2 private Christian schools across Arizona, Texas, Louisiana, servicing 30,000 students in grades K–12. Great Hearts academies are so successful in every community where they open that there are often waitlists to attend.

Nationally, Great Hearts academies are extremely successful:

- Average SAT score is 220 points above the national average.
- 93% of graduates immediately matriculate into higher education
- 72% of graduates receive merit-based college scholarships
- 48% of graduates choose to study a STEM major in college

Great Hearts currently operates one school in Louisiana: Great Hearts Harveston in Baton Rouge. The school opened in Fall 2023 and currently serves 670 students in grades K-9. Fall 2025 parent survey data indicates strong parent satisfaction at the school, including 92%+ of parents satisfied with their child's academic progress and with the curriculum. Additionally, 90% of current parents intend to re-enroll in the next school year.

Over the years, my husband and I have both homeschooled and have enrolled our children in Catholic and charter schools in Baton Rouge. As a Great Hearts parent now for the past three years, I can testify that the curriculum, quality of instruction, school culture, and robust academic intervention assistance at Great Hearts have far surpassed anything we were able to achieve at home or felt our children received at their other schools. Our family is very happy at the school—and we are there to stay.

As a Great Hearts Louisiana board member for the past two years, I have been privileged to serve in a capacity that gives me a deeper insight into Great Hearts America as an organization. From the Great Hearts founders themselves to every employee and administrator I have met, these are people of strong personal character who have many years of experience, strong research, business savvy, and highly-developed processes for ensuring the success of every school. Each and every one of them also has a contagious and real passion for making a high-quality classical education possible for students of any and every background and ability.

I can also testify to the well-developed processes, hard work, and good discernment at every level that goes into running a Great Hearts school. Like any new school, Great Hearts Harveston has had its share of unique challenges in these first three years of operation, but it's been a privilege as both a parent and board member to watch an outstanding administration tackle them with grace and wisdom—and with an incredible amount of boots-on-the-ground support from Great Hearts America. Every Great Hearts school simply could not be in better hands.

I have every confidence that the establishment of a new Great Hearts school in Lake Charles would offer the city an outstanding new school option that would attract a wide variety of families and students—and would serve them well.

Thank you for your time and for your support of this charter application. I warmly invite you to contact me if you have any questions.

Kind regards,

Erin Franco

Treasurer, Great Hearts Louisiana

Parent, Great Hearts Harveston

To whom it may concern:

I am writing to offer my strongest support for the approval of a new Great Hearts Academy campus in Lake Charles, Louisiana. As the Founder and CEO of the Classic Learning Test (CLT), I have had the privilege of working closely with schools and leaders across the nation who are committed to academic excellence and the renewal of classical education. Great Hearts stands among the very best of these institutions.

For more than two decades, Great Hearts has provided a rigorous liberal arts education that forms students intellectually and morally, preparing them not only for college but for lives of purpose, civic engagement, and cultural leadership. Their model consistently produces exceptional outcomes—measurable academic achievement combined with a deep respect for truth, goodness, and beauty.

Louisiana stands to benefit tremendously from the establishment of another Great Hearts campus. Families in Lake Charles deserve access to schools that are both academically excellent and rooted in a strong educational tradition. Great Hearts has demonstrated again and again that this combination is possible—and transformative for communities.

I strongly encourage the Board to support this opportunity and to welcome Great Hearts' expansion in Lake Charles. Their presence will enrich the educational landscape of the region and provide a model of excellence for the entire state.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Letter of Support for Great Hearts

I understand that Great Hearts Louisiana is seeking to open a new school in the Lake Charles community. As an elected member of the East Baton Rouge School Board and as the parent of a 12-year-old, I am happy to express my strong support for Great Hearts. I am familiar with Great Hearts' record of success both through my service on the school board and through the direct observation of my daughter's experiences as a Great Hearts student for the past 2 years.

As you know, Great Hearts is a national operator of public schools offering a classical education to children in the communities they serve. Great Hearts was founded with a mission to cultivate the minds and hearts of young men and women through the pursuit of Truth, Goodness, and Beauty. Today, Great Hearts operates 45 brick-and-mortar public charter schools, 2 online public charter schools and, 2 private Christian schools across Arizona, Texas, Louisiana, and soon Florida, serving 30,000 students in grades K-12.

I'm certain Great Hearts has communicated to you already their national success statistics, the high average SAT scores, graduation rates, college scholarship rates, and so on. As a school board member, these statistics, and the local performance of their school in Baton Rouge, are why I support Great Hearts.

As a parent, I have a more qualitative evaluation. Before Great Hearts opened, my daughter attended another high-performing charter school in Baton Rouge, but she was not very happy. It, like Great Hearts, has exceptional statistics for academic performance. But my child wasn't happy, and she was not developing a joy of learning.

Since starting Great Hearts 2 years ago (as she entered 5th grade; she is in 7th now), I've seen remarkable change. Great Hearts' pursuit of Truth, Goodness, and Beauty is not an empty slogan, they live it. My daughter has developed a joy in learning and reading that she didn't have before. Great Hearts is responsible for that.

I remember a particular episode that for me illustrated the strength of the school. I was at an evening school event that included both parents and children. Many of the children, including my daughter and her friends, were out on the playground. When we had wrapped up the adult business, I went outside to watch their play. Relevant to this story is that they had recently been learning Jabberwocky, the Lewis Carroll poem, in class. The children were being children outside on a playground, loud and rambunctious. And I watched and listened in awe as they chased each other around, loudly reciting the Jabberwocky at each other, taking turns with the lines. There was no adult telling them to do so, looking over their shoulder. They were simply delighting in a thing they had learned at school that week.

This has carried over in many other areas. Not just literature, but also math and science and art. My child is not a straight-A student, but she is learning so much at Great Hearts... and is gaining a great spirit.

Both as a parent, as a past member of a charter school board (of a different charter school), and as an elected member of the Baton Rouge School Board, I've watched the creation of several new charter schools. I'm not sure I've seen any of them have as successful a first 2 years as Great Hearts has had. The data bears this out: enrollment is growing year over year, currently at 670 students in grades K-9. Some 92% of parents expressed satisfaction with their child's academic progress and the Great Hearts curriculum, and 90% intend to re-enroll next year. My wife and I are in that number.

I believe the establishment of a new Great Hearts school in Lake Charles will attract students' enrollment and enhance community relations because of the proven and trusted Great Hearts model.

I am confident that the proposed Great Hearts Lake Charles school is prepared to provide the same stellar leadership and innovative teaching and learning to the Lake Charles community as it has brought to Baton Rouge. I am happy and proud to support the school's charter application

Sincerely,

To Whom it May Concern,

I write to express my strongest support for Great Hearts Louisiana opening a new school in the Lake Charles community. I am a founding member of the Great Hearts Louisiana board, the parent of a Great Hearts Harveston student, and a college professor with a deep interest in education, so I have a broad perspective of the positive contribution that a Great Hearts academy can make in your community.

I helped found the Great Hearts Louisiana board after researching the national footprint of Great Hearts and its academic success in every educational market it has entered. Founded with a mission to cultivate the minds and hearts of young men and women through the pursuit of Truth, Goodness, and Beauty, Great Hearts is a national operator of public schools offering a classical education to children in the communities they serve. Today, Great Hearts operates 45 brick-and-mortar public charter schools, 2 online public charter schools and, 2 private Christian schools across Arizona, Texas, Louisiana, and soon Florida, serving 30,000 students in grades K–12.

Nationally, the Great Hearts schools have had great success:

- Average SAT score is 220 points above the national average.
- 93% of graduates immediately matriculate into higher education
- 72% of graduates receive merit-based college scholarships
- 48% of graduates choose to study a STEM major in college

Great Hearts Louisiana currently operates one school – Great Hearts Harveston – in Baton Rouge. The school opened in Fall 2023 and currently serves 670 students grades K-9. 2025 Parent survey data indicates strong parent satisfaction at Great Hearts Harveston, including 92%+ of parents satisfied with their child’s academic progress and Great Hearts’ academic curriculum. Additionally, 90% of current parents intend to re-enroll in the next school year.

The keys to the success of Great Hearts, as I see it, are, first, that they hire faculty, staff, and administrators who themselves pursue truth, goodness, and beauty, which they then reflect on to their students. Second, their overall curriculum does an excellent job of making sure that the students master the fundamentals before advancing to more complex tasks – they like to say that “they go slow at first, so they can go fast later.” Third, their innovative and effective intervention program for students who are behind in mastering those skills has allowed those students to quickly enter into the curriculum. We have seen excellent gains in reading and math over the last year as the result of that intervention program.

I believe the establishment of a new Great Hearts school in Lake Charles will attract students' enrollment and enhance community relations because of the proven and trusted Great Hearts model.

Great Hearts Lake Charles is prepared to provide the stellar leadership and innovative teaching and learning the Lake Charles school system needs. We appreciate your support of the schools' charter application.

Sincerely,

Recommendation for Great Hearts School

Moving to Baton Rouge from Lake Charles, my family and I were unfamiliar with the local school systems and unsure of what to expect. Discovering Great Hearts has truly been a blessing during this transition.

As we began researching the school, we were drawn to its classical education model and values. The more we learned, the more confident we felt that this was the right fit for our family. After touring the school and meeting with the leadership team, we were struck by their intentionality, passion for students, and commitment to excellence in education.

Most importantly, through prayer and reflection, we felt a strong sense of peace from God that this was where we were meant to send our children. That reassurance has only been confirmed by the positive experiences we've had since enrolling.

One of the things that stood out most to us was the school's intentional focus on classical literature and timeless texts that shape character and cultivate wisdom. We believe that exposing our children to these rich works, rather than relying heavily on modern digital tools, helps develop deeper thinking, imagination, and a love for learning. In a world that is increasingly dominated by screens, it was refreshing and important to us that Great Hearts limits the use of technology in the classroom and instead prioritizes meaningful, human-centered learning.

The classical model at Great Hearts aligns with our family's values and has challenged our children in ways that traditional models have not. The emphasis on character, virtue, and a well-rounded education has made a profound impact on their development both academically and personally.

For families in Lake Charles or surrounding areas who are considering a classical education, I would highly encourage you to give Great Hearts a chance. I truly believe it could be a life-giving investment for your children and your community—just as it has been for ours.

Re: Great Hearts of Lake Charles Letter of Support

To whom it may please,

For the past thirty-nine years I have consistently served the Lake Charles area community as a pastor, as an educator, and as a community volunteer in constructing quality, affordable housing. In the education sphere I have had thirty-four years of experience in the Catholic School System and eleven years working with and for the three charter schools operated by the Lake Charles Charter Academy Foundation.

Today I offer my support for Great Hearts Louisiana opening a new school in our community. I believe that if one supports “educational choice”, that choice must be supported when a unique, quality choice is offered. With its classical model of education and its demanding, rigorous curriculum, I believe that GREAT HEARTS offers such a different and unique choice.

Great Hearts is a national operator of public schools. Great Hearts’ mission is to cultivate the minds and hearts of young men and women through the pursuit of truth, beauty, and goodness. Great Hearts operates forty-five brick and mortar public charter schools, two online public charter schools, and two private Christian schools across Arizona, Texas, Louisiana, and soon Florida, serving 30,000 students in grades K-12.

But they not only operate schools. Great Hearts operates successful schools:

- Average SAT score is 220 points above the national average.
- 93% of graduates immediately pursue higher education.
- 72% of graduates receive merit-based college scholarships.
- 48% of graduates choose to study a STEM major in college.

Great Hearts Louisiana operates Great Hearts Harveston in Baton Rouge. The school opened in the Fall of 2023 and now serves 670 students in grades K-9. The 2025 Parent Survey data indicates strong parent satisfaction with Great Hearts Harveston. 92%+ of parents are satisfied with their child’s academic progress and 90% of parents indicated their plan to re-enroll for the next school year.

I believe there is a segment of our community who want more than is currently being offered by our school systems. I believe that there are families who are considering coming to our community who want more than they see in our schools now. Great Hearts will provide the stellar leadership and innovative teaching that we need in the Lake Charles community. Thus, I have no hesitation in offering my support to the Great Hearts charter school application.

Sincerely,

Dear Louisiana State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education,

I am writing to express my professional and personal support for the Great Hearts Lake Charles charter school application.

I am the director of the Governor's Program for Gifted Children (GPGC), a statewide residential summer program for gifted middle and high school students that has taken place at McNeese State University in Lake Charles since its inception in 1959. I have been the director of this program since 2008 and have a great interest in improving the educational opportunities available to all of Louisiana's children.

I know that Great Hearts' application materials are full of impressive statistics indicating their model's success throughout the country, as well as specifically in Baton Rouge at their Great Hearts Harveston campus. I would like to share my personal perceptions based on what I have learned about Great Hearts over the past year or so through online research, observations at Great Hearts Harveston in Baton Rouge, and several meetings with the team that is proposing the Lake Charles school.

Here are the most impressive parts of the Great Hearts approach to me:

- The two instructors in every K-5 classroom, a primary and an assistant. I saw this in action in Baton Rouge and I was greatly impressed at how the primary teacher was leading the class while the assistant was helping the students individually stay focused, on task and with any concepts they were struggling with at the moment. I also observed the Headmaster of the school casually help a student as well – indicating that this encouraging culture is modeled from the top down.
- The focus on reading and writing (and really all classroom learning) without screens and technology. While I am sure there is adequate training in later years, the fact that these young students don't have a laptop open in front of them just to read the assigned work or type out their classwork is an approach that I believe can only benefit them in their future educational endeavors and communicates to them that the subjects and values they are learning in class are "real" and not just another facet of their increasingly online lives.
- The interweaving of a civic education and culture with the school curriculum is outstanding. From the very beginning of their educational journey, the students are exposed to a culture that is based on the values that make all of us good humans, and this is reinforced with examples of those values being communicated through classical literature, philosophy and scientific reasoning.

- The attention paid to all of the students, no matter their educational background. At the Baton Rouge school I saw a great diversity of students from all backgrounds and it was clear that some of them needed some extra help to adjust to the Great Hearts model – especially with the focus of rigorous reading. These students were provided with extra individualized tutoring during the class day to give them every opportunity to succeed and not feel discouraged if they weren't exactly on level with their peers.

I could list maybe another ten points like this (I haven't even mentioned my absolute favorite aspect of Great Hearts – the teaching of Latin starting in Kindergarten!) but I wanted to emphasize the things that I think make Great Hearts such a wonderful educational opportunity for all students in Louisiana. I can say that I would have sent my three daughters to this school without any question if it was available when they were in elementary school.

In short, the Great Hearts Lake Charles school will offer the families of Lake Charles the opportunity to send their children to an outstanding school as part of a public education. I am not naturally a proponent of charter schools in general but if all charter schools offered the type of focused, individualized attention combined with an excellent, rigorous curriculum that Great Hearts does, I would support them 100%.

Sincerely,

Appendix 2: Draft School Model Master Plan

Great Hearts Lake Charles Master Plan for Discipline

Positive Behavior Support

In order to assure classroom management using positive behavioral supports and effective disciplinary tools, Great Hearts Lake Charles will identify data-driven academic, career and technical, discipline/behavioral performance results in the School Improvement Plan (SIP). Great Hearts Lake Charles will establish and use a school-based leadership team to meet on a regularly scheduled basis to review data and guide the positive behavior process. This leadership team shall, to the extent possible, include representatives of the school administration, both regular and special education teachers, parents, guidance counselors, and school bus operators (It may also include other groups, e.g., food services workers).

The leadership team will use a decision-making process utilizing a data-management system that allows graphical representation of discipline issues. Said data system will permit regular and efficient monitoring and evaluation of the effectiveness of the implementation of a school-wide system of discipline. School data collection shall include, but not be limited to, average referrals per day per month, referrals by problem behavior, referrals by location, referrals by time, referrals by student, referrals by staff, individual student report by month and by year, and referrals by grade level. Environmental changes may be made as indicated by data. For instance, increased monitoring, schedule changes, or changes in recess structure may help to alleviate congestion or over-crowding at certain times during the day.

The team will uniformly use the two BESE-approved forms, i.e., "School Behavior Report Form" and "School Bus Behavior Report Form," to report incidents of alleged discipline violations. The referral system will be utilized consistently and appropriately.

The leadership team will review and revise any Zero Tolerance Policy of Great Hearts Lake Charles to ensure that the policy is in compliance with R. S. 17:416.15; the policy does not violate R. S. 17:416 (H) which prohibits disciplinary action against any pupil reasonably acting in self-defense; and that inappropriate referrals are not made to agencies serving children.

The leadership team will review and revise its policies and procedures for handling suspensions and expulsions at Great Hearts Lake Charles to ensure that suspension/expulsion policies are consistent with R. S. 17.416; suspension/expulsion policies are consistently and fairly executed; and alternative interventions, consistent with best theory and practice, to suspensions/expulsions are used including, but not be limited to, counseling, conflict resolution, social and family responsibility, peer mediation, and stress and/or anger management.

The leadership team will make referrals, as appropriate, to Alternative Education Programs that are designed to offer variations of traditional instructional programs, as well as strategies for the purpose of increasing the likelihood that students who are unmotivated or unsuccessful in traditional programs, or are disruptive in the traditional school environment, remain in and be successful in school.

The leadership team will review the current Code of Student Conduct of Great Hearts Lake Charles to assure that it is in compliance with R.S.17:416.12, R.S. 17:416.13 and Section 4114 of the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 (NCLB). They will refine consequences to create a reward/incentives program for positive student and teacher behavior and ensure the delivery of consistent reinforcement. The team will define consequences for rule violations that are clear, reasonable, and consistently enforced and which support maximum time in instruction.

The leadership team will monitor, evaluate and modify the school master plan, as needed, throughout the school year.

Great Hearts Lake Charles Master Plan for Discipline

Great Hearts Lake Charles adopts the following clearly defined behavioral expectations in these five (can be less) basic rules. (Keep them simple and positive, e.g., "Keep your hands to yourself." "Respect others." "Be kind.")

1. Listen first, speak second
2. Treat others as you want to be treated
3. Gratitude is the greatest virtue
4. Seek truth with humility
5. Our character is our destiny

These rules shall be posted in prominent places around the school site, e.g., hallways, cafeterias, gymnasiums, and classrooms. These rules shall be provided to parents and shall be known by all students and school staff.

Each teacher at Great Hearts Lake Charles shall develop lesson plans and teach expectations across each school setting by providing direct instruction on expected behaviors at the beginning of the school year and reinforced throughout the year for all students.

Great Hearts Lake Charles shall design programs for students with special needs so that the students are challenged and engaged in school curriculum, and are appropriately placed so they remain in school rather than being suspended/expelled or becoming drop-outs.

The principal of Great Hearts Lake Charles shall submit annual reports to the district's Discipline Policy Review Committee.

Great Hearts Lake Charles Master Plan for Discipline

process of their children's learning require the participation and coordination of numerous state and local, public and private agencies shall be encouraged. Great Hearts Lake Charles shall seek to make connections through a variety of local and culturally sensitive methods to facilitate parents/family members/access to local/regional family strengthening programs available in the community. (Programs can be specifically identified, as applicable, e.g., Families Helping Families, Regional Family Resource centers, Parent Information Resource Center, Families In Need of Services [FINS] programs and other family strengthening programs exhibiting peer to peer support systems and positive mental health initiatives).

Great Hearts Lake Charles shall seek to identify the mental health needs of its students and match those needs with available local resources including public, nonpublic and/or volunteer organizations (These can be specified to the extent possible). Pending inclusion of mental health services in the Medicaid Health Services Program (School-Based), the availability of mental health services will be expanded in

Inter-Agency Cooperation

Great Hearts Lake Charles shall seek to improve communication, coordination and collaboration between schools and agencies serving children; shall foster cooperation regarding the sharing of data about children, youth and families involved agencies serving children; and shall work in cooperation with other schools/districts/communities/regional planning boards to facilitate the successful re-entry and transition of youth formerly in state custody into their diverse school/community settings in order to encourage the continuation of education and their access to other needed services in order to prevent recidivism.

If the student has been expelled, the transferred records shall include the dates of the expulsion and the reason(s) for which the student was expelled.

FUNDRAISING EXPERIENCE

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS MEDICAL BRANCH, Galveston, Texas

Director of Advancement Services and Annual Giving (1/99 – 8/04)

UTMB's Office of University Advancement was in the process of reorganizing its development efforts to focus on major gifts when I was hired. I was brought in to lead six employees in advancement services and annual giving, with the goal of creating the infrastructure necessary to support a first-class major gift effort. In my final year at UTMB I assumed additional responsibility for our research operation, bringing the total number of employees reporting to me to ten. I was also responsible for inaugurating a compliance program for over 400 university endowments valued at over $300 million. Under my leadership, our office supported our development efforts through the following accomplishments:

- Drafted, proofed, submitted, and recorded over 75 endowment gift agreements and gifts. Developed institutional policies regarding endowments and institutional endowment compliance plan. Serve as institutional representative on UT System compliance committee.
- Created and led university-wide endowment compliance committee. Developed risk assessment tools to identify endowments that carried greatest risk to the university.
- Developed on-line training program for endowment compliance that was required for all faculty and staff who had fiduciary responsibility for endowment expenditures.
- Met with key faculty and deans to review endowment compliance efforts and develop strategies for appropriate uses of endowment funds.
- Created institutional donor recognition dinner for major gift contributors. Most recent dinner included 350 attendees and over 25 honorees recognized for gifts of at least $50,000.

- Developed Faculty Awards Luncheon, an annual luncheon where contributors of endowed positions met faculty who had been appointed as holders of professorships and chairs in the previous year.
- Responsible for small major gifts portfolio, with gifts totalling over $2 million over five years.
- Worked with volunteer leaders of UTMB President's Cabinet to grow membership of $1,000+ lead annual giving contributors from 220 to over 300.
- Managed institutional facilities naming program by assigning minimum naming requirements for all buildings on campus, as well as individual areas within buildings.
- Developed new management reports to track contacts, proposals, next steps, and prospect lists.
- Developed new monthly reports and revised existing reports to track progress toward institutional fund raising goals.
- Worked to electronically input information from rating and screening sessions and led successful effort to conduct Grenzebach, Glier, and Associates Prospect Profile electronic screening.
- Created on-line data request and gift submission web page for internal use of employees.
- Identified address correction firms and implemented program to update addresses continuously. Increased number of good addresses by 14% and good phone numbers by 23%. Removed over 750 duplicate addresses from database.
- Instituted expectation that all gift receipts would be mailed within 24 hours of office receiving check.
- Implemented payroll deduction giving for faculty and staff, as well as on-line giving option for all contributors.
- Led effort to develop stewardship tabloid Legacies for over 1,500 major gift and lead annual donors.
- Centralized annual giving efforts for all four UTMB schools, resulting in increased time for directors of development to spend on major gifts.
- Began to electronically track attendance at special events to provide better information on scope of individual involvement with university.

Section 7. Secretary. The Secretary will attend all meetings of the Board and record all votes and proceedings of the Board in a book to be kept for that purpose and will perform like duties for all committees of the Board, as necessary. He or she will give, or cause to be given, notice of the meetings to Directors and the Member and will perform such other duties as may, from time to time, be prescribed by the Board or the President, under whose supervision he or she will act. He or she will have custody of the seal of the Corporation, and authority to affix the same to any instrument requiring it, and, when affixed, the seal may be attested by his or her signature. The Board may give general authority to any officer to affix the seal of the Corporation and to attest the affixing thereof by his or her signature.

Section 8. Other Officers. The President will recommend to the Board for its approval such additional officers as may be necessary to the business of the Corporation, who will perform such duties and responsibilities as may be prescribed by the President.

ARTICLE VI COMMITTEES

Section 1. Standing Committees. The Board may, in its discretion, authorize such standing committees and advisory boards as it deems appropriate. Membership on standing committees and advisory boards will be determined by the Board. The principal matters relating to that committee's or advisory board's areas of responsibility are for the purpose of making recommendations to the Board. Another purpose is to advise and make recommendations to the Board on any matters pertaining to the policy of the Corporation that may be requested from the Board. The chairperson of each standing committee or advisory board will be determined by the Board. It will be the responsibility of the chairmen of standing committees and advisory boards to notify members of meetings. However, no quorum will be required in order for a standing committee or advisory board to meet or to act. Chairpersons of standing committees and advisory boards will decide whether or not minutes of a committee or advisory board meeting are to be recorded. The President will be an ex-officio member of all standing committees and advisory boards, except committees or advisory boards where he or she is specifically designated as a voting member by the Board.

Section 2. Special Ad Hoc Committees. Special Ad Hoc committees may be appointed and discharged by the Board for special tasks as circumstances warrant. A special ad hoc committee will be limited to the accomplishment of the task for which it was created and will have no power to act except as specifically conferred by the Board. Upon the completion of the task for which appointed, the special ad hoc committee will be discharged.

Section 3. Extent of Authority. No committee may exercise the authority of the Board, Sole Member, in filling vacancies on any committee of the Board.

ARTICLE VII SOLICITATION, ACCEPTANCE, AND INVESTMENT OF FUNDS

Section 1. Solicitation and Borrowing of Funds. The Corporation may solicit contributions or borrow funds from any persons or Corporations as the Directors deem appropriate, upon terms and conditions consistent with the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation and subject to the provisions of Sections 2 and 3 below.

Section 2. Acceptance of Funds. The Corporation may, upon prior, written approval from the Member (which approval will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), accept contributions, grants, and gifts from any persons, partnerships, Corporations, government entities, or other entities upon such terms and conditions consistent with the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation and these Bylaws.

Section 3. Borrowing Funds. The Corporation may, upon the prior written approval from the Member (which approval will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), borrow funds for capital improvement, operations or other uses which the Board deems reasonably necessary and consistent with the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation and these Bylaws.

Section 4. Investment of Funds. The board will direct all investments of the Corporation's funds subject to the Member's periodic review and in accordance with applicable Louisiana law.

ARTICLE VIII INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AND AGENTS

Section 1. Non-Liability for Debts. The private property of the Directors and Officers will be exempt from execution or the liability of any debts of the Corporation, and no Director or Officer will be liable or responsible for any debts or liabilities of the Corporation.

Section 2. Indemnification. Each Director, Officer, employee, and agent of the Corporation will be indemnified by the Corporation to the fullest extent permitted by law, as provided in the Articles of Incorporation.

ARTICLE IX

FISCAL YEAR

The fiscal year of the Corporation will commence on July 1st of each year and end on June 30th.

ARTICLE X AMENDMENTS

The Bylaws and the Articles of Incorporation may be amended by the Member, in consultation with the Board and subject to the Board's final, written approval.

ARTICLE XI CONFLICT OF INTEREST

Section 1. Definitions.

(a) "Conflict of Interest." - A conflict of interest occurs when a Director places himself or herself in a position where his or her personal financial interests or those of his or her family are or may be antagonistic to his or her fiduciary duty to the Corporation.

(b) "Family" - Includes, but is not limited to, grandparents, parents, spouses, partners, children, aunts, uncles, siblings, in-laws, and other relatives of a similar degree of closeness.

Section 2. Reporting and Disqualifications. Directors will report possible conflicts of interest to the President, or if the President is the interested individual, to a Vice-President, pursuant to La R.S. 17:3991 et seq. The President (or Vice-President) will make a full report to the Board prior to any action on the transaction by the Corporation. Upon report of a possible conflict, the Board will conduct an investigation and determine whether a conflict of interest does exist and whether it is substantial. If the Board determines that a substantial conflict of interest exists, the interested individual will not vote on the transaction presenting the conflict. The interested individual may vote only if the Board determines that no conflict exists or the conflict is not substantial. No investigation or determination by the Board will be required if the interested individual voluntarily agrees to refrain from voting on the transaction presenting the potential conflict of interest. The interested individual may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum.

Section 3. Valid Transactions. Any transaction undertaken by the Corporation in which a Director or member of his or her family has a financial interest, will be valid, notwithstanding the presence of the interested person at any meeting at which the transaction is acted upon, if the procedures outlined in Section 2 of this Article have been complied with prior to the meeting.

ARTICLE XII MISCELLANEOUS

Section 1. The Corporation may establish categories of support so that persons who regularly contribute may receive due recognition for the continuing support of the Corporation.

Section 2. It will be the policy of the Corporation to cooperate with other individuals, agencies, and organizations sharing its goals in whole or substantial part so as to avoid needless duplication of effort and to make maximum use of limited resources.

Great Hearts Lake Charles

Section 3. Prohibition Regarding Lending. The Corporation will specifically not lend money or use its credit to assist its Directors, whether or not employees or officers.

Section 4. These Bylaws of the Corporation will supplement the Articles of Incorporation and will provide for and govern the basic operation of the Corporation.

Section 5. The Corporation will not be authorized to issue memberships.

Section 6. The Corporation will comply in all respects with the Open Meetings Law (La R.S. 42:11 et seq.), the Louisiana Public Records Law (La R.S. 44:1 et seq.) and other law applicable to Louisiana's open-enrollment charter schools chartered to Corporations which qualify under § 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

BLANKET ADDITIONAL INSURED - PRIMARY AND NON-CONTRIBUTORY

This endorsement modifies insurance provided under the following:

BUSINESS AUTO COVERAGE PART

A. The following is added to SECTION II - LIABILITY COVERAGE, Paragraph A.1. Who Is An Insured:

Additional Insured if Required by Contract

If you agree in a written contract, written agreement or written permit that a person or organization be added as an additional "insured" under this Coverage Part, such person or organization is an "insured"; but only to the extent that such person or organization qualifies as an "insured" under paragraph A.1.c. of this Section.

If you agree in a written contract, written agreement or written permit that a person or organization be added as an additional "insured" under this Coverage Part, the most we will pay on behalf of such additional "insured" is the lesser of:

- (1) The Limits of Insurance for liability coverage specified in the written contract, written agreement or written permit; or
- (2) The Limits of Insurance for Liability Coverage shown in the Declarations applicable to this Coverage Part.

Such amount shall be part of and not in addition to the Limits of Insurance shown in the Declarations applicable to this Coverage Part. Regardless of the number of covered "autos", "insureds", premiums paid, claims made or vehicles involved in the "accident", the most we will pay for the total of all damages and "covered pollution cost or expense" combined resulting from any one "accident" is the Limit of Insurance for Liability Coverage shown in the Declarations.

B. The following is added to SECTION IV - BUSINESS AUTO CONDITIONS, Paragraph B. General Conditions, subparagraph 5. Other Insurance:

Primary and Non-Contributory

If you agree in a written contract, written agreement or written permit that the insurance provided to a person or organization who qualifies as an additional "insured" under SECTION II - LIABILITY COVERAGE, Paragraph A.1. Who Is An Insured, subparagraph Additional Insured if Required by Contract is primary and non-contributory, the following applies:

The liability coverage provided by this Coverage Part is primary to any other insurance available to the additional "insured" as a Named Insured. We will not seek contribution from any other insurance available to the additional "insured" except:

- (1) For the sole negligence of the additional "insured"; or
- (2) For negligence arising out of the ownership, maintenance or use of any "auto" not owned by the additional "insured" or by you, unless that "auto" is a "trailer" connected to an "auto" owned by the additional "insured" or by you; or
- (3) When the additional "insured" is also an additional "insured" under another liability policy.

C. This endorsement will apply only if the "accident" occurs:

1. During the policy period;
2. Subsequent to the execution of the written contract or written agreement or the issuance of the written permit; and
3. Prior to the expiration of the period of time that the written contract, written agreement or written permit requires such insurance to be provided to the additional "insured".

D. Coverage provided to an additional "insured" will not be broader than coverage provided to any other "insured" under this Coverage Part.

ALL OTHER TERMS, CONDITIONS, AND EXCLUSIONS REMAIN UNCHANGED.

The information the board will collect; b. The specific measures and metrics to be used; and c. The timeline and frequency of evaluation.	OPC. 32.1 The applicant group articulates a specific set of standards that the school leader must satisfy to keep the school on track to achieve its vision. As GHLA currently operates under a charter contract for Great Hearts Harveston, this requirement is already in effect, yet the current board roster includes only five members, representing an inconsistency between the bylaws and the current board composition.

A review demonstrates that most team members' roles align with their professional background and experience — for example, the chief people officer brings over 20 years of staffing and talent development experience at Great Hearts, the chief academic officer brings nearly two decades of academic leadership experience, and the director of finance brings over 13 years of corporate finance experience. However, the board chair is assigned facilities management responsibility, which assigns an operational role to a board member in a manner that blurs the distinction between governance and operational responsibilities. Great Hearts Lake Charles - Response to Stage 1 Initial Memo

EPC.9.1. As described in the application, “Great Hearts’ educational philosophy is grounded in six basic principals” (pp. 11-14). These philosophical pillars describe how we uphold our culture of high expectations and implement the classical school model and aligned academic plan.

EPC.10.1, 10.2. Great Hearts currently operates a Type 2 charter school in Louisiana that implements the curriculum and educational plan described in this application. This curriculum, approved by the LDOE as meeting the quality indicators of state instructional materials review rubrics, is already meeting the standards, as proven by our outcomes at the existing school. This classical liberal arts curriculum has been approved, vetted, and tested across Great Hearts’ 45+ K-12 charter schools in 3 states. (We do have one correction: the curriculum referenced as Dolciani Mathematics should read Carnegie Mathematics, an LDOE-approved curriculum.)

EPC.10.3. As described in the application on p. 23, Great Hearts will offer additional courses “to enhance their overall educational experience”. These courses all have scopes and sequences designed by Great Hearts and implemented at our 45+ campuses across the country. Student demonstration of proficiency is differentiated by course:

- Choral Music (K-5) and Drama (9-12) - student performance, with performance criteria established in the course materials
- Studio Art (K-5), Fine Arts (6-8), and Studio Art (9-12) - student portfolios, with performance criteria established in the course materials
- Music Theory (9-12), Latin (K-12) - final exams and course work, according to standard established in the course materials

EPC.11.3. The Great Hearts Distance Learning plan would leverage existing device inventory and technology policy that is shared with students and families at the start of the school year. Should distance learning be enacted, all students will be permitted to use school devices at home for the full length of the hybrid learning period. The school leader will be responsible for ensuring devices are disseminated to all children, assessing internet connectivity, and acquiring and providing hot spots as needed. In the instance that device inventory is lower than necessary to serve all students and staff, the school leader will contract with our procurement vendor to have fast access to additional devices within 2 weeks and prioritize students without individual device access at their homes during distribution.

EPC.13.1, 13.2. Great Hearts Harveston is currently in its 3rd year of operation; the school has made academic gains each year and currently has a “B” rating in Student Progress. As stated in the application, “as a school in its second year of formal state accountability evaluation, these scores reflect expected start-up variance” (p. 28). Students enrolled at the Harveston campus often enter 2+ grades below level, requiring significant remediation.

As described in the application, the Harveston campus is currently implementing an Academic Improvement Plan (AIP) to “remedy performance deficiencies and track subsequent progress” (pp. 28-29). This plan is implemented for the full campus and tracked to ensure support across all subgroups, including the Black or African American subgroup, which is a known performance deficiency in EBR. By way of the AIP, the campus is currently implementing the following intervention strategies. While many interventions are implemented school-wide, we also target interventions to subgroups of students who are underperforming:

- (1) School-wide assessment and tracking of student growth: student achievement progress monitoring on 4-6 week cycle; MTSS tracking of all student achievement growth for Tier 1, 2, and 3 students; ongoing assessment through nationally-normed tests (MAP)
- (2) Individualized, data-aligned interventions in ELA and Math, using: Lexia Core 5 (ELA, grades 4-9); IXL (ELA, grades, 3-9); F&P LLI and Spalding; Heggerty Kindergarten Phonemic Awareness (K); Moving with Math: Foundations and Moving with Math: Algebra
- (3) Tier 3 interventions during the school day: Pull outs during non-core subjects (ELA, 40 minutes 5x week for grades K-2; ELA, 30 minutes 5x week for grades 4-9; Math, 30 minutes 4x week grades for grades K-9)

As a result of these interventions, the school has experienced significant growth. NWEA MAP data shows improvement in student achievement and growth from Spring 2025 to Spring 2026 across grades 2-9 for African American/Black subgroups in ELA and Math. Median percentile for reading (MAP Growth) went up from 38th in Spring 2025 to 48th in Spring 2026; median percentile for Math grew from 38th to 42nd over the same time period. Based on this and other data, we expect to see continued improvement in both growth and achievement for this (and all) subgroups.

EPC.14.1. GHLC has one correction to this section: the school will not offer PreK and these assessments were included in error due to offerings in other states. As described in the application, the format of each assessment is included in the “design” column of the assessment table (pp. 30-31), which describes the frequency, alignment, and type of each assessment. All internal assessments are aligned with the grade, subject level, and frequency of the corresponding curriculum. For example, grade level unit exams are implemented at the close of each unit in each subject area, in alignment with the school curricula (see application p. 31).

EPC.14.2, 14.3. GHA’s existing Type 1 charter school in Louisiana uses the same assessment tools as described in this application, which are proven successful. Our supplemental classical liberal arts curriculum and corresponding network standards have been tested, vetted, and approved across multiple states. Network standards are in addition and a complement to the existing state standards, which are prioritized. For additional content that is offered — such as music, art, and other courses not required in Louisiana public or public charter schools — we have internal standards and benchmarks, described above, in response to EPC.10.3.

EPC.15.1. On p. 35, the application states that "The IEP team must consider the following: (1) the strengths of the child; (2) the concerns of the parents for enhancing the education of their child; (3) the results of the initial or most recent evaluation of the child; and (4) the academic, development, and functional needs of the child." This data, including information from progress monitoring, regular IEP reviews, and assessment results, is used by the IEP team to identify goals – and aligned progress monitoring – and develop specially designed instruction that leverages the child's strengths to address gaps in learning or academic and functional skills.

EPC.15.2, 15.4., 15.6. According to research, best practices for addressing disproportionate and over-identification of students with disabilities, English learners, and academically behind students include implementing MTSS frameworks with fidelity, strong referral and evaluation policies, using disaggregated data by subgroup to drive decisions, and involving multidisciplinary teams and families in developing individualized plans. Each of these strategies are core components of Great Hearts’ approach and all are described in the charter application (pp. 32-38).

EPC.15.3. EL teachers use content from the general education classes as the first source of curriculum for EL students, and the school implements English 3D to supplement core instruction for EL students. To develop ILP for students identified as having EL needs, the EL Coordinator reviews EL screening or assessment data, school benchmark scores (DIBELS, NWEA MAP, etc.), and gathers information from the child’s teacher, parents, and student (if appropriate). Once data is collected, a meeting is held between members of the school and the parent(s) to develop the ILP. Once the ILP is developed, we will provide updates on progress to parents once per quarter, and meet with parents when there are areas of concern. Information regarding communication to parents in their native language and translation services is found on p. 38 of the application.

EPC.15.5. Specific, evidence-based intervention programs to be used for Tier 2 intervention programs include:

- ELA - Lexia Core 5 (4-9); IXL (3-9) ; F&P LLI and Spalding (Mac and Tab - 1:1); Heggerty Kindergarten Phonemic Awareness (K);
- Math - Moving with Math: Foundations; Moving with Math: Algebra; Singapore utilize additional resources for on-level and challenge except for K;
- Phonics - Spalding, small group instruction to remedy phonics deficits; 1:1 reading with young students, small group reading remediation (reteach)

Core Knowledge is not used for intervention.

EPC.16.5. As stated in the application, “Great Hearts is committed to meeting all requirements of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, the IDEA, and state laws regarding disciplining of students with disabilities, including conducting Manifestation Determination Reviews (MDRs) when determining suspension or expulsion for students with disabilities. In accordance with R.S. 17:416.2, all students who are expelled or suspended for longer than ten days will be provided with academic instruction at an alternative setting. As such cases are rare, plans for alternate setting instruction are developed on a case-by-case basis and designed with consideration for the needs of the individual student and family.” (p.41) When alternative school placement is needed, the school plans to partner with Calcasieu Parish Public Schools to determine safe, individualized placement options.

GP.20.2, 20.5. There was an editing error in the application. Great Hearts Scottsdale Prep never closed and is still in operation. Teleos Preparatory Academy, operated by Great Hearts Academies, closed due to a facility non-renewal — the lease was not renewed and the school was unable to find another location to continue operations. The majority of students transferred to other Great Hearts charter schools in Phoenix. Moving forward, Great Hearts has structured facility leases with renewable options to prevent this from happening again.

OPC.21.1., 22.1. Great Hearts America is not an Educational Service Provider per the definition of the Louisiana Department of Education. Great Hearts America is a nonprofit organization that serves as the Sole Member of Great Hearts Louisiana, a separate 501(c)(3). The local Louisiana Board of Directors governs school leadership and finances locally. Teachers are also employed locally.

OPC.24.1. On p. 47, the application describes how candidates are evaluated and selected for position offers, using “a unique hiring profile which prioritizes cultural and philosophical alignment and mission-fit over a particular set of credentials”, employing “a rigorous, multi-layered screening process”. Disciplinary procedures for employees, including the progressive discipline process from initial counseling through formal action and potential dismissal, are described in detail in the Employee Handbook, which is approved by the Great Hearts Louisiana Board of Directors. On p. 48, the application states, “background checks will be completed for all Academy Employees...and any other school Employees who might reasonably be expected to be placed in a position of supervisory or disciplinary authority over school children”. This includes third-party contracted staff.

OPC.25.1. Great Hearts ensures class coverage in all instances of teacher absence, including leave, sabbatical, and mid-year vacancy. At the lower school, teaching apprentices are assigned coverage for lead teacher absences. At the upper school, teachers have two prep periods, and teachers on prep are identified for coverage. If that is not sufficient, the talent recruitment team identifies a pre-cleared substitute pool, though this is rarely needed as coverage is typically handled in-house. For sabbaticals, a sabbatical is planned for in advance and the standard hiring process is implemented, as any sabbatical replacement would be a full-time, longer-term employee.

Appendix 4.2. As detailed in Appendix 4, pp. 108-110, the job description for a school leader candidates explicitly requires candidates to have expertise in the core functions of school leadership, including evidence of competency in “in hiring and managing teachers of the highest caliber, effectively implementing a classical liberal arts and civic-minded curriculum, establishing a studious and decorous school culture, and maintaining healthy enrollment.” A “record of leadership” is required to fulfil the numerous academic, operational, and financial responsibilities detailed in the job description.

Appendix 5.2. As detailed in Appendix 5 on p. 119 and 121, Ty Gose has extensive governance experience, including serving on the boards of three nonprofit organizations in a number of roles, including as chairperson. As noted in the application, Mr. Gose has built three entire divisions within his current firm, managing a significant budget and team for each division.

OPC.28.1, 28.2. As described on p. 52 of the application, GHLA must demonstrate compliance with State conflict-of-interest reporting and all other requirements.” As the board of directors is currently operating a charter school authorized by LDOE, the board demonstrates that it meets all conflict-of-interest requirements on an annual basis through audits that are provided to the authorizer. The governing bylaws submitted with the application (Appendix 6) include a Conflicts of Interest article that contains a specific, operational process for identifying and resolving conflicts of interest, including explicit recusal requirements. The bylaws require any director with a potential conflict of interest to: (1) disclose the conflict to the board prior to any related discussion; (2) answer questions about the matter; and (3) recuse themselves from both the discussion and the vote on the matter. This recusal procedure directly addresses the standard's requirement for an operational process to identify conflicts and steps to ensure they are avoided.

OPC.30.1. GHLC will demonstrate strong financial practices resulting in a fiscally viable and responsibly maintained organization by meeting a minimum financial performance score of 80%, annually, through performance on annual audits and documentation of appropriate use of funds in accordance with law and policy. The school will maintain acceptable fund balances in alignment with the recommended ranges according to state guidance for Years 1-5 (YR1: >2% / YR2: >3% / YR3: >4% / YR4: >5% / YR5+: 3.75-7.5%), have no evidence of significant or consecutive material findings in the areas of the annual external audit, use federal and state funds in a fiscally responsible and legal manner, and make timely submission of financial reports.

OPC.32.1, 32.2. As described on p. 56 of the application, “a dashboard will be leveraged to monitor the academic, organizational/legal, and financial goals of Great Hearts Lake Charles”. The dashboard will include metrics aligned to the school’s strategic plan, which includes all metrics defined by the CSPC. The head of school is held accountable by the Great Hearts Louisiana board according to evaluation standards detailed in this dashboard, that include: 1) parent and staff satisfaction, 2) student and faculty retention, 3) academic performance, including SPS scores and year-over-year growth metrics, 4) financial metrics including the results from the annual audit, and 5) and suspension rate targets aligned to CSPC thresholds.

The school leader is evaluated annually at its May or June meeting by the board of directors according to the metrics outlined above. Data is collected from a variety of sources, student enrollment and retention data and disciplinary information, for instance, is compiled from our SIS; academic benchmarks data is compiled quarterly from our NWEA MAP system; and the LEAP data is reviewed comprehensively when data is released in the summer and fall. Great Hearts also conducts an extensive family and staff survey process and that data is reviewed in full at the May or June meeting.

OPC.33.1, 33.2, 33.4. As described on p. 57 of the application, all financial policies and procedures for the school are detailed in the board-approved Financial Policies and Procedures manual. These policies are implemented across all GHLC campuses and include comprehensive control protocols and approval limits per staff and board fiduciary responsibilities in the areas of Purchasing and Procurement, Accounts Payable, Financial Statement and Audit Review, Payroll, and Financial System-Based Access Controls. These Board approved policies are available for review upon request.

OPC.34.1. The board attended training with LAPCS. New board members will attend LAPSA's foundational board training, offered annually. At the annual board meeting, the board will receive training on two goals derived from their annual self-evaluation, conducted using a tool provided by BoardOnTrack that evaluates composition of board members as well management functions.

Appendix 6. At the time of submission, the board had 5 members due to resignations in early 2026. Since the submission, the Board has added two new members, Brian Haymon and Adam Reed. Adam Reed resides in Lake Charles.

FPC.36.1., 36.2. On p. 60 of the application, the board chair is described as having facilities management expertise, not responsibility. Mr. Gose's background in commercial real estate is directly applicable to the school's facility planning needs. Mr. Gose is included as a member of the charter application team, not as a member of the operational leadership team. In his function as board chair, Mr. Gose provides strategic support, advice, and connections to facilitate operational activities. The director of operations is not included on the charter application team, but will assume day-to-day facilities management responsibility upon approval.

FPC.37.2. GHLC is aware of the statutory requirement to provide free transportation for all students residing more than one mile from the school, and our Harveston campus currently adheres to this requirement. The transportation budget covers approximately 60% of projected enrollment, based on Harveston's utilization pattern adjusted upward to reflect Lake Charles community access characteristics as indicated by parent interest surveys and information session feedback. GHLC anticipates this assumption will be sufficient to cover all students entitled to transportation under the one-mile requirement. GHLC will also provide all transportation required by a student's IEP regardless of distance, consistent with IDEA obligations. General IEP transportation is included within the 60% budget allocation; for students requiring more specialized transportation services, GHLC will seek reimbursement through the Louisiana High Cost Services Pool.

FPC.38.3. On p. 60, the application explicitly cites RS 17:3991(B)(3)(a)(i) and states the school "admits all students through a random lottery when applications exceed available seats" and "no student will be denied admission based on academic performance, language proficiency, disability status, or family background." A random lottery with an explicit statutory cite IS non-discrimination. The statute's protected characteristics don't need to be recited verbatim in an application that implements a lottery system compliant with that exact statutory provision.

FPC.39.2. The submitted budget accidentally did not include the salary of an incremental assistant head of school in Y4. This position will be added to the budget. GHA's salary scale will be adjusted if necessary, but has not proven to be a barrier to hiring in other regions. Great Hearts recruits nationally for talent and starts new schools with a core group of current Great Hearts leaders and teachers, in addition to recruiting locally. A single ESS coordinator is included with the budget in alignment with the anticipated demographics of the student population. ELL coordinators and teachers will be hired should the student population present this need. GHLC will not contract with an educational service provider. Facilities costs reflect a plan to lease in Y1-Y3 and enter into financing for new construction in Y4 and beyond.

FPC.40.1. In a standard to moderate shortfall scenario, defined as not meeting the budget but not still maintaining a positive fund balance for the fiscal year, the organization would elect to make one, more, or all of the following adjustments: (1) Reduce expenditures on materials and supplies; (2) Consolidate extracurricular activities; (3) Reduce professional development budget for elective PD involving travel; (4) Reduce any school leader bonuses. In a crisis shortfall scenario, defined as having a negative fund balances for the fiscal year, the organization would elect to make one, more, or all of the following adjustments: (1) Eliminate school leader bonuses; (2) Postpone elective building improvements; (3) Reduce and/or consolidate specials; (4) Eliminate bonuses and some or all stipends for teachers; (5) Reduce the ratio of faculty to students; (6) Assess all contracts for criticality.

FPC.41.1. The GHLA Director of Finance fulfills the role and requirements as the Lead School Business Administrator. For the purpose of the application, these positions are synonymous.

Appendix 8. The existing GHLA general liability policy ($1,000,000 per occurrence / $3,000,000 aggregate) and the GHA umbrella policy are the insurance policies that will cover GHLC. The reviewer's distinction between "existing" and "proposed" operations is legally incorrect in the context of a multi-campus operator.

HSA.2.1, 2.3, 2.4, 2.5, 4.1, 4.2, 4.3, 4.4 Great Hearts Lake Charles disputes these findings. Louisiana charter schools are not required by law or policy to offer Jump Start 2.0 pathways and do not require a BESE waiver to decline to offer them.

HSA.2.6. Equitable access to the TOPS University Diploma is guaranteed for all students. For students with disabilities, the IEP team develops an Individual Graduation Plan (IGP) in collaboration with parents that outlines an individualized course of study and the instructional adaptations and special education services needed to earn required credits and pass EOC exams, with a focus on post-secondary transition planning. For English Learners, the ILP accounts for language acquisition time within the student's course of study; where elective courses are not needed for graduation, they may be replaced with English language acquisition courses. For economically disadvantaged students, Great Hearts provides financial assistance covering AP exam fees, Dual Enrollment costs, and other college credit expenses, and college counselors work closely with students to identify grants and financial aid opportunities for college and summer study.

HSA.2.2, Appendix 9, 10. Great Hearts Lake Charles disputes these findings. The application explicitly asks for course offerings "at the proposed school by grade level for the first five years of operation". GHLC will not operate high school grades in the first five years of operation. Given the frequent changes in law and policy dictating high school requirements, it is impossible to provide an accurate course list at this date. This stated, GHLC will replicate the successful high school curriculum used at Great Hearts' schools across the country, including the curricula currently implemented in the Great Hearts' charter school in Baton Rouge, which is approved by both East Baton Rouge Parish School System and the Louisiana Department of Education.

HSA.3.1. All AP, Dual enrollment, and ACT preparation offerings are selected because they match with the philosophy of education embodied in the Great Hearts curriculum documents, while providing students opportunities to become successful in their university education.

HSA.5.1. GHLC will not offer work-based learning program options and is not required to do so under LA state statutes nor policy.

HSA.6.1. GHA will identify students at risk of dropping out by tracking daily attendance data, course grades and failures, and discipline referrals.
