

Working with Sounds

Silly Sentences

Silly sentences all start with the same beginning sound; this is called alliteration. Here are some examples of sentences you can read to your student. Ask them to listen for the beginning sound and have them create some silly sentences on their own.

- Sally sells seashells by the seashore.
- Dirty dog digs down deep.
- Billy bounced a blue ball.
- Carrie cooked cupcakes in the kitchen.