Connecting the Pieces: Using Standards with Infants & Toddlers 	This 2 hour session will take a closer look at the Louisiana Birth to Five Early Learning Development Standards as they relate to infants and toddlers. Participants will learn how to use the standards to plan and identify developmentally appropriate experiences, while also considering the multiple influences on children’s development. Participants will leave with more confidence in using standards to develop learning outcomes for children and to connect standards to their current curriculum and assessment tools.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts

Taking a Closer Look at Early Childhood Development & Learning: A Standards-Based Approach 	This 2 hour session will provide early childhood educators with a foundational understanding of early childhood development and learning and the Louisiana Early Learning and Development Standards (ELDS). Information will be presented related to theories of early childhood development and learning, developmentally appropriate practices, and the purpose, structure, and uses of the Louisiana ELDS. Educators will learn why this information is key to their work as early care and education providers and will practice putting their newly acquired knowledge into practice through hands-on activities that can be easily transferred into practical applications within their classrooms.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>

MODULE 1B Curriculum

Training Title	Description	Materials
The Big Three of School Readiness: Standards, Curriculum, and Assessment 	This 2-hour training module includes experiences for trainees to understand how activities should be planned by a teacher. The module uses videos of the development of a physical skill, riding tricycles, to illustrate the concept of sequence and scaffolding. A second video shows a teacher interacting with children in a way that develops math skills to illustrate how to take advantage of children’s interest and to include supporting activities in the curriculum. One activity supports participants’ understanding of alignment. The module includes an opportunity for participants to use the concepts and create a plan they can use in their classroom.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts

MODULE 1C Assessment

Training Title	Description	Materials
Using Assessment to Support Development and Learning 	This 2 hour interactive hands-on training module will support teachers to use formative assessment to support curriculum planning. Participants will engage in hands-on experiences and reflective discussions to identify how they are currently using child and group assessments in their work. Participants will analyze a recent Class Profile Report from GOLD® to complete a self-reflection exercise and identify potential areas for growth and focus for group and individual planning. They will use assessment data to critique their learning environment, instructional materials, and strategies for creating small groups to individualize each child’s learning opportunities.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts _____
Using Assessment to Guide Children’s Learning and Development 	This 2 hour session will guide the defining of assessment and provide a description of what observation-based assessment means. Participants will review the ages and stages of development, using both the Louisiana ELDS and TS GOLD® color bands. Participants will discuss when and how to conduct observations, how to use Tier 1 curricula to aid assessment, and how to use observation data to make curriculum adaptations with supplemental activities. Finally, participants will discuss how to evaluate development with reliability. This instruction will lead to teacher action and changes for improved practice and learning.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts _____

MODULE 2A Understanding Principles of Child Development

Training Title	Description	Materials
Providing Engaged Instructional Support for Learning: Focus on Language and Early Literacy 	This 2-hour interactive training module supports teachers to effectively use language and early literacy activities to increase instructional support for preschool children. Participants will engage in hands-on experiences and reflective discussions to identify how they are currently addressing early literacy in their work. Participants will analyze a demonstration read aloud and follow-up shared writing activities for evidence of indicators of Instructional Support as defined by the PreK Classroom Observation Scoring System (CLASS®). They will be invited to use strategies presented in this session to plan their own lessons to incorporate concept development, quality of feedback, and language modeling into read aloud and shared writing.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts
Providing Engaged Support for Learning: Focus on Toddler Language and Emergent Literacy 	Sharing books with toddlers offers a prime opportunity for increasing children’s higher order thinking and language learning. Unlike for older preschool children, the primary focus of early literacy for toddlers is on language development and the construction of meaning. This 2 hour-interactive training module is designed to improve the quality of teachers’ interactions with children as measured by the Engaged Support for Learning domain of the Toddler CLASS® that focuses on Facilitation of Development and Learning, Quality of Feedback, and Language Modeling.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts
Early Brain Development: Nurtured by Language, Impaired by Trauma 	This 2-hour training module will focus on early brain development and the effects that trauma can cause on the brain in early childhood. Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACES) 	Early childhood is a critical period in brain development, creating a foundation for development throughout life. This two-hour module explores how Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) and toxic stress can jeopardize that foundation by overwhelming physiological stress systems, potentially altering brain structure and development. Participants will learn how ACEs have been found to be linked to lifelong challenges, as well as early prevention and intervention strategies that can significantly improve outcomes. This module will cover evidence-based strategies that can prevent ACEs by supporting individuals, families, and communities. Early Childhood Educators will also have opportunities to engage with strategies that build resilience in the classroom.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Training Manual ● Handouts
Managing Writing Development Among Teachers that Impacts Children’s Writing Development 	This 2-hour training module is designed to assist school administrators and center directors in increasing understanding of the stages of writing development. Writing development is part of overall literacy development. This module encourages administrators to provide professional development in writing that augments teachers’ knowledge of language interactions, the importance of being read to, and shared reading.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Training Manual ● Handouts

Early childhood educators will learn helpful strategies to manage instructional time and routines within their classroom environment. This session will also outline components focused on how teachers can maximize students’ interest, engagement, and ability to learn through lessons and activities that are provided.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts

Talk to Me, Baby! Early Language Support for Infants

This 2-hour interactive training module will provide participants with high-level early language support in infant classrooms, through a deeper understanding of the Infant CLASS® tool and high-quality teacher-child interactions. Training participants will practice realistic strategies for implementing self-talk, imitating and initiating sounds or words; modeling turn-taking, and effectively using toys for expansion and extension of language. This training will also show how early language support strategies connect other Infant CLASS® dimensions, to support overall infant learning and care in both younger and older infants.

Addressing Diverse Learning Styles to Meet Children's Needs 	This 1-hour interactive training module supports teachers in differentiating interactions to meet a child's needs. This module will train and educate participants to identify and use modifications with children. Individual children learn and develop in different ways. As educators we need to be equipped to help them succeed in the most beneficial way. This training will show teachers how to view children through the lens of individuality, give them different ways to identify if children need accommodations, and demonstrate practical ways to use and understand accommodations to help children succeed.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Presentation Slides • Training Manual • Handouts

MODULE 3A: Planning a safe and healthy learning environment

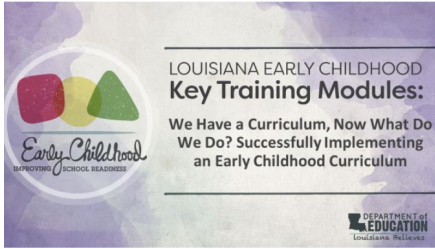

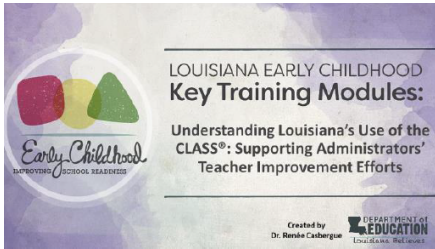

Training Title	Description	Materials
A Class Act! Set The Stage! 	This 2-hour module creates an awareness of the important role that the physical environment in the early childhood classroom plays in regards to student behavior and the process of teaching and learning. The environment comprises the setting itself (including materials and equipment), the people within the setting, and any learning experiences, routines, and schedules established within the setting. Using the standards as a basis for planning learning objectives and how those objectives can be carried out in interest areas is emphasized. Intentional planning and teaching can aid teachers in organizing developmentally appropriate activities that will allow children to learn and grow at their own pace. On-going assessment will guide further instruction. A carefully planned physical environment can help a program achieve its goals. Intentional teaching is, not only, important for the aspects of instruction and assessment, but is also equally important to the planning of the environment.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Training Manual ● Handouts
Outdoor Play & Learning Module 	The purpose of this 2.5-hour module is to provide child care directors and staff with evidence-based best practices that foster outdoor play and early child development. Physical activity in early childhood is critical for both physical and mental development. An important context for physical activity is within the early childhood education (ECE) settings, as nationwide around 80% of young children attend these settings. Outdoor play provides an opportunity for physical activity, but also assists in facilitating academic lessons, and improving child mental health. However, recent reports among Louisiana ECE centers suggest early learning centers only meet 39% of best practices for outdoor play, including policy, environment, playtime, and professional education metrics. This training provides a pre-assessment, outdoor playtime considerations and requirements, education and professional development topics, and physical activity state licensing requirements.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts

Focusing on Families: The Importance of Family Engagement in High Quality Early Childhood Programs 	Strong collaborative relationships with families are essential in high-quality early childhood programs. This session will introduce the role and highlight the importance of family engagement. Content presented will focus on the characteristics of families in the 21st century and explore how to actively engage them in the development and learning of their children. Participants will learn strategies to build relationships with families, actively engage them in programmatic decisions and classroom activities, and support them in their role as their child’s first and most important teacher by providing them with ways to facilitate their child’s learning and development at home.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts <hr/>

MODULE 3C: Managing an Effective Program

Training Title	Description	Materials
Teamwork 	This 2-hour, interactive session is about building and leading an effective team, including developing an environment that supports staff and the instructional needs of teachers. The workshop focuses on the importance of the trainees reflecting on the concepts of building and leading a team, and the environment in which that occurs, by brainstorming and giving their thoughts first. Then some answers to the question are given by the instructor so that comparisons may be made and a full definition of each concept emerges. At the end, we look at the differences between empowerment and delegation, teacher development, and characteristics of adult learners.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts <hr/>
Managing Effective Program Operations 	This module explores how effective communication is a key component to the operations of early learning program. Without good communication, programs do not run smoothly. Good communication enhances the goal of creating an environment that is conducive to high quality. The use of systems, policies, and procedures helps accomplish this through: classroom management utilizing systems for planning, record keeping, and reporting, leadership and coaching utilizing individualized staff development plans as an important component, well-planned staff meetings held on a regular basis and designed to generate constructive employee interaction, and teacher training as a part of staff development necessitating planning and budget considerations.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Presentation Slides ● Trainer Manual ● Handouts <hr/>
