Suggested Timeline: 15 Days

Stage 3: Learning Plan Overview
Lesson Two: Is this Career for You? 10 days	Day 2: The teacher will review PT 1 and the PT 1 rubric. Students will review the list of potential careers and evaluate occupations across similar job zones. Students will determine if there are any themes between occupations and job zones. Students will develop a list of criteria and constraints to evaluate the list of potential careers. Students will begin to conduct labor market research on a chosen career. Day 1 and 2: The teacher will review PT 1 and the PT 1 rubric. Students will complete labor market research on the career of interest. Students will write a one-page report on the career of interest. Students will present their career of interest and report to the class. Day 3 and 4: The teacher will review PT 1 and the PT 1 rubric. Students will research active job postings for the career of interest and identify one open position from a local or regional employer. Students will research and select a resume template and cover letter template. Students will develop a cover letter and resume for the open position. Days 5 and 6: The teacher will review PT 1 and the PT 1 rubric. Students will create an online survey to seek feedback on their cover letter and resume. Students will send the survey to 5 to 10 individuals to complete. Students will collect the feedback data and present the data for evaluation. Students will incorporate peer feedback and make updates to their cover letter and resume. After students make updates to their resume and cover letter, students will work independently to create a LinkedIn profile. The profile should include their career aspirations and any pertinent information about themselves like their employment history, professional associations, student organizations, out-of-school activities, and any leadership roles or formal roles within organizations that they have held. Days 7, 8, and 9: The teacher will review PT 1 and the PT 1 rubric. Students will be tasked to become a job recruiter for their chosen career and job posting. Students will develop a video commercial describing their labor market research about the field and the open position that they researched including the level of education, salary and benefits, and other company or job factors that are appealing. Students will develop opportunities for their peers to provide feedback and incorporate their feedback during the development process. Day 10: Students will share their recruitment commercials with the class.
Lesson Three: Individual Graduation Plan 3 days	Days 1: The teacher will introduce PT 2 and the PT 2 rubric. Students will have the opportunity to ask questions. Students will review and build on their person and career goal statements to create an individual graduation plan. Days 2: Students will complete PT 2 and identify the type of secondary and postsecondary coursework that is required for middle- and high-skill occupations that they are interested in pursuing. Students will engage their parents and/or guardians to complete the individual graduation plan. Day 3: Students will present their individual graduation plan to the class.
