Greetings Jump Start Super Summer Institute Participants:

What an exciting time this is for technical education in Louisiana.

Jump Start and its mission to prepare students for the Louisiana economy began to take root across the state during the 2014-2015 school year. Every school district in the state worked with local industry, post-secondary partners and economic development allies to form eleven regional Jump Start Teams. These regional teams are collaborating to provide career courses and workplace experiences to high school students, preparing them for college and certifying them for the career fields most likely to lead to high-wage jobs. The continuing work of the regional teams will ensure we fulfill the Jump Start vision that every student graduates high school with economic opportunity in hand and prepared for a productive adulthood.

In today's age, it's not college or career – it's college and career, a single mission to produce dynamic, disciplined adults.

The major accomplishments during the first year of Jump Start implementation include:

- 250 teachers trained at 2014 Super Summer Institute
- 47 BESE-approved Jump Start graduation pathways
- 100+ Jump Start Industry Credential Fact Sheets
- 800+ district and school administrators attended 2015 Jump Start Convention to discuss Jump Start best practices
- New Career Readiness courses and materials for middle and high school students

This year's Super Summer Institute is a continuation of our collective work to provide students the courses and industry credentials that will allow them to continue their education after high school and launch a career in Louisiana's thriving workforce.

At Super Summer Institute, secondary and post-secondary educators take the necessary steps to participate in certification trainings. Attendance at Super Summer Institute is evidence of your dedication to develop new technical skills and return to schools in 2015-2016 ready to prepare our students for credentialing opportunities that lead to a middle class career and wage. Working together at Super Summer Institute we will advance college and career education, along with workforce preparation in Louisiana.

Thank you to the conference partners in planning this event and South Louisiana Community College and Lafayette Parish School System for opening your campuses to host the institute.

And thank you, our attendees, for being a part of transforming career and technical education in Louisiana.

Sincerely,

John White

Superintendent

Louisiana Department of Education
