2020 Census Self-Response Weekly Highlights

Terrebonne's Got Talent

The Terrebonne Parish Consolidated Government Complete Count Committee, known as CountDaBayou.org, hosted a talent contest for the community to showcase their talents while helping to promote the importance of the census. Residents submitted their videos to www.countdabayou.org. The videos are posted on Facebook and the three videos with the most “likes” will be featured on Terrebonne Parish Television.

Monroe has Census Outreach Down to a 'T'

The City of Monroe, Louisiana is making sure residents see reminders of the Census all over town. One recent week, several of the city's code enforcement officers donned “Monroe Counts” Census t-shirts and distributed materials to promote the census in the low-response census tracts. Local restaurant staff also wore “Monroe Counts” t-shirts during lunch shifts to promote the 2020 Census, while 2020 Census materials were shared with residents in local library branches that recently reopened.

Jefferson Parish Residents are Census 'Fans'

Jefferson Parish officials handed out 2020 Census promotional materials at all Covid-19 testing sites throughout the Parish to help ensure a complete census count. Fans and flyers were available in both English and Spanish and were distributed to encourage self-responses. Testing locations are scattered throughout the parish, including the Alario Center in Westwego, the Hispanic Apostolate and the Johnny Bright Playground Gym in Metairie, the Woodmere Park/Gym and the Evening Star Baptist Church in Harvey, Terrytown Golden Age Center in Terrytown, and the New Hope Community Baptist Church in Kenner.
