Session Descriptions:

Session 1: Literacy Best Practices from Screener to Core: Participants will disseminate student data from a literacy screener to determine the need for a diagnostic assessment. Participants will also analyze the diagnostic data to make instructional decisions inside of their core ELA block, as well as discuss implications for intervention. This session's outcome is to help teachers and leaders make instructional decisions for students who are struggling to access and show mastery inside of their High Quality Instructional Materials without support. This session will target 3rd and 4th grade teachers, coaches, and leaders, but these best practices can be used at any grade level.

Session 2: Using Screener Data to Support Literacy Growth: Participants will learn general guidelines for using literacy screener data, including setting goals for student growth, and monitoring growth over time. This session will also review the various measures and how they relate to Scarborough's reading rope, as well as how instructional resources align to the different indicators. This session's outcome is to help teachers and leaders understand what the indicators of the literacy screener look like and how to develop student proficiency within their High Quality Instructional Materials. This session will target teachers, coaches, and leaders in grades K-3, but can be useful for any grade level.

Session 3: Best Practices in Comprehension and Fluency: Participants will learn how to address comprehension and fluency through High Quality Instructional Materials. Participants will also learn how to track progress in both fluency and comprehension. This session's outcome is to help teachers and leaders become familiar with the components of comprehension and fluency, as well as how to target these components inside of core and small group instruction. This session is recommended for teachers, coaches, and leaders in grades 3-12.
