Message from the State Superintendent

Dear Colleagues,

For the second time this school year, Louisiana had the honor of welcoming U.S. Secretary of Education Linda McMahon.

She first visited in August to launch her Returning Education to the States Tour, highlighting our state-led efforts to improve academic outcomes. She returned last week for one of the first stops on her new History Rocks! Trail to Independence Tour, focused on elevating civics education ahead of America's 250th anniversary.

Governor Landry and members of the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education joined us at Sophie B. Wright High School in New Orleans for a civics-themed celebration and student game show. The day continued with a special ceremony at The National WWII Museum, where Louisiana students were honored for academic achievement, leadership, and service.

Louisiana continues to set a national standard for how states can elevate civics education. We've adopted the Freedom Framework for K-12 social studies, implemented a required high school civics exam, created a civics diploma endorsement, and launched Celebrate Freedom Week. This spring, all Louisiana graduates will receive a special America 250 diploma seal to mark our nation's semiquincentennial.

Thank you for the work you do each day to make this possible. Together, we'll keep moving Louisiana forward.

Dr. Cade Brumley
State Superintendent of Education
