Famous Americans Unit Overview

SUMMATIVE UNIT ASSESSMENTS

CULMINATING WRITING TASK<sup>5</sup>

Assign each student a poem from Lives: Poems About Famous Americans selected by Lee Bennett Hopkins that has not been read in class. Focus on selecting poems about people researched for the extension task, such as Thomas Alva Edison (“American Wizard,” Lawrence Schimel) or Anne Sullivan and Helen Keller (“Till,” Tom Robert Shields).

Then ask students to respond to the following prompt: “Write a one-paragraph summary of the poem. In your summary, identify the main topic, describe the details and examples for the main topic, and identify a central message of the poem. Demonstrate command of proper grammar, usage, punctuation, and spelling, and use grade-appropriate words and phrases.”

Teacher Notes:

- Students are asked to summarize the poem and identify the main topic, describe the details and examples for the main topic, and identify a central message. (RL.2.1, RL.2.2, W.2.2) The completed writing should use words from the word display. (L.2.6)
- Students should write in complete sentences, using adjectives and adverbs properly. (L.2.1e, f) The writing should demonstrate grade-appropriate grammar and usage, capitalization, punctuation, and spelling. (L.2.1a-d, L.2.2c-e)
- Use teacher conferencing and small-group work to target student weaknesses and improve student writing ability. (W.2.5)
- If time allows, help students publish their summaries using technology. (W.2.6)

COLD-READ TASK<sup>6</sup>

Have students independently read “U.S. Presidents: Abraham Lincoln”<sup>7</sup> from ReadWorks.org and “Abe” by Alice Schertle from Lives: Poems About Famous Americans. (RI.2.10; RI.2.10; RF.2.4a, c) Then ask them to independently read and answer in writing a combination of multiple-choice and constructed-response questions<sup>8</sup> about the text. Sample questions:

1. To be humble means that you do not show off your riches or talents. “U.S. Presidents: Abraham Lincoln” says Abraham Lincoln had a “humble background.” What reasons does the author provide to show that Abraham Lincoln had a humble childhood? (RI.2.1; RI.2.8; L.2.2c, d; L.2.6)
2. According to “U.S. Presidents: Abraham Lincoln,” what was important to Lincoln as a child? (RI.2.1; RI.2.2; L.2.1a, b, d, e, f; L.2.2c, d; L.2.6)
3. In “U.S. Presidents: Abraham Lincoln,” what does it mean that “books were scarce on the frontier”? (RI.2.1, RI.2.4, L.2.4a)
  - a. Books were useful.
  - b. Books were expensive.
  - c. Books were hard to find.
  - d. Books were valuable to people.
4. What does the author of “U.S. Presidents: Abraham Lincoln” want us to know about Abraham Lincoln? (RI.2.2; RI.2.6; L.2.1a, b, d, e, f; L.2.2c, d; L.2.6)
5. Complete a Biography Chart for Abraham Lincoln using information from either text. (RI.2.1, RI.2.2, W.2.8)

Abraham Lincoln	Answer	Evidence
What is the person’s birth date and date of death?
What is the greatest problem or challenge this person experienced?
How did this person help others during and after his/her lifetime?
Why is this person famous?
What is an important point in this person’s life?

<sup>6</sup> Cold-Read Task: Students read texts and answer a series of multiple-choice and constructed-response questions. While the text(s) relate to the unit focus, the text(s) have not been taught during the unit. Note: This is a comprehension text. Measurement of student reading ability and mastery of specific reading foundational standards (e.g., decoding, fluency, etc.) should be monitored throughout the unit, particularly during small-group instruction.

<sup>7</sup> <http://www.readworks.org/passages/us-presidents-abraham-lincoln>. Note: The Lexile level of the ReadWorks.org text is toward the middle of the grades 2-3 band. Depending on the time of year this assessment is given, some students are likely going to need additional support reading this text. Read aloud the text for those students.

<sup>8</sup> Ensure that students have access to the complete texts as they are testing.

6. Part A. What words and phrases repeat in “Abe”? (RL.2.1, RL.2.4)

Part B. Even though some words and phrases repeat, they don’t repeat in the same way. What changes in the repetition, and what meaning does that change reveal? (RL.2.1, RL.2.2, RL.2.5)

- a. Lincoln is the president in the second stanza, which means he is powerful.
- b. Lincoln goes from using an axe to using his hands, which means he is strong.
- c. Lincoln is young in the first stanza and old in the second stanza, which means he has become smarter.
- d. Lincoln goes from splitting things apart to bringing them together, which means he helps the nation.

7. How did Abraham Lincoln respond to the challenges he faced? What does his response reveal about Lincoln? Complete the following chart. One example is provided for you. (RL.2.1, RL.2.3, RI.2.1, RI.2.8, RI.2.9, W.2.8, L.2.6)

Challenge	Lincoln’s Response	Characteristic
No time for education	Learned to read and write on his own	Smart

8. “Never giving up” is a common idea in several texts of this unit. How did Abraham Lincoln never give up? (RI.2.1; RI.2.8; RI.2.9; L.2.1a, b, d, e, f; L.2.2c, d; L.2.6)

EXTENSION TASK<sup>9</sup>

Have students work in small groups to respond to the following prompt: “Investigate the life of a famous American. What events led to this person becoming famous? Should this person be considered heroic? Write a poem about the life of the famous American you researched. Model your poem after the poems in Lives: Poems About Famous Americans selected by Lee Bennett Hopkins. Add a picture to your poem. Read your poem to the class once it is finished and answer any audience questions.” (W.2.3)

Use the following process with students:

1. Divide the class into small groups of two or three students. (SL.2.1a)
2. Define the word hero. (RI.2.4)
3. Work with students to summarize the lives of the famous Americans studied throughout the unit. (RI.2.1, RI.2.2) Create a class chart similar to the following and determine whether the famous American should or should not be considered heroic based on his/her actions. (RI.2.3)

Who is the famous American?	What actions or events led to this person becoming famous?	Is this person heroic? Why or why not?
Susan B. Anthony
Eleanor Roosevelt
Amelia Earhart
Marian Anderson
Mary McLeod Bethune
Jackie Robinson
Rosa Parks
Martin Luther King Jr.

4. Read aloud the entries from 50 American Heroes Every Kid Should Meet for those listed on the chart above. Ask students to determine whether the additional information supports their evaluations of heroism.

<sup>9</sup> Extension Task: Students connect and extend their knowledge learned through texts in the unit to engage in shared research or shared writing. The research extension task extends the concepts studied in the set so students can gain more information about concepts or topics that interest them. The writing extension task either connects several of the texts together or is a narrative task related to the unit focus.

5. Ask groups to select a famous American to investigate from a list of choices. (Encourage student selections by reading aloud portions of the entries in 50 American Heroes Every Kid Should Meet.) Possible people to consider: George Washington Carver, Davy Crockett, Ruby Bridges, Thomas Alva Edison, Pocahontas, Martin Luther King Jr., Helen Keller, Ben Franklin, Sarah Breedlove Walker (Madam C. J. Walker), or other people included in 50 American Heroes Every Kid Should Meet.
6. Have groups read an additional text about the person they are investigating. (Teacher Note: Groups may read the texts independently or as a small group, depending on their ability.) Sample texts:
  - George Washington Carver: Teacher, Scientist, and Inventor, Lori Mortensen
  - A Picture Book of Davy Crockett, David Adler
  - The Story of Ruby Bridges, Robert Coles
  - A Picture of Book of Thomas Alva Edison, David Adler
  - Pocahontas, Shannon Zemlicka
  - Teammates, Peter Golenbock
  - Martin Luther King, Jr. and the March on Washington, Frances Ruffin
  - What's the Big Idea, Ben Franklin?, Jean Fritz
  - Helen Keller: Courageous Advocate, Scott Welvaert
  - Vision of Beauty: The Story of Sarah Breedlove Walker, Kathryn Lasky
7. While they are reading, prompt groups to take notes about the person's life. (Where are they from? What makes the person famous? What actions did this person take in response to the various events? Is this person heroic? Why or why not? What should we remember about this person? What can we learn from their experiences?) (W.2.7, W.2.8)
8. Model for students how a poem from Lives: Poems About Famous Americans is constructed, emphasizing how the poem draws on and describes events in the person's life. What is the point or message of the poem? How do the chosen details support the message of the poem?
9. Compose a poem using shared writing<sup>10</sup> and the analyzed model from Lives: Poems About Famous Americans. Demonstrate with students the process of creating a poem while also demonstrating written conventions.
10. Ask each group to compose their own poem using the notes they took from their reading and add an illustration to their poem to enhance the content. (SL.2.5) If time allows, help groups publish their poems using technology. (W.2.6)
11. Once the groups are done, have them read the poem to the class, demonstrating fluency. (RF.2.4b, SL.2.4)
12. Following the reading of each poem, conduct a class discussion in which students ask questions of the presenters to find out more information about the person studied. Add the person to the class chart created in step 3 and work as a class to determine whether the person should be considered a hero or not. (SL.2.1b, c; SL.2.3)

<sup>10</sup> <http://www.louisianabelieves.com/resources/classroom-support-toolbox/teacher-support-toolbox/lesson-assessment-planning-resources/whole-class>

13. Combine the poems into a class book. Place the book in a classroom library for students to read independently. (RF.2.3a-f; RF.2.4a, c)

Teacher Notes:

- Students are asked to describe the connection between a series of events and write a narrative poem modeled after the structure and language of Lives: Poems About Famous Americans. (W.2.3, W.2.7) They are also asked to present their narrative poem to the class.
- The completed writing should include a visual element to support the written text and use words from the word display. (SL.2.5, L.2.6) Students should write in complete sentences, using adjectives and adverbs properly. (L.2.1e, f) The writing should demonstrate grade-appropriate grammar and usage, capitalization, punctuation, and spelling. (L.2.1a-d; L.2.2a, c-e)
- Use teacher conferencing and small-group work to target student weaknesses and improve student writing ability. (W.2.5)

INSTRUCTIONAL FRAMEWORK

In English language arts (ELA), students must learn to read, understand, and write and speak about grade-level texts independently. In grades K-2 specifically, reading foundations, writing, and language development are essential. This instruction alone, though, is not sufficient for promoting complex thinking and deep comprehension of text. Students must also be engaged in whole-class lessons with complex read-aloud and grade-level texts. To do this, teachers must select appropriate texts and use those texts so students meet the standards, as demonstrated through ongoing assessments. To support students in developing independence with reading and communicating about complex texts, teachers should incorporate the following interconnected components into their instruction.

Whole-Class Instruction

This time is for grade-level instruction. Regardless of a student's reading level, exposure to complex texts supports language and comprehension development necessary for continual reading growth. This plan presents sample whole-class tasks to represent how standards might be met at this grade level.

Small-Group Reading

This time is for supporting student needs that cannot be met during whole-class instruction. Teachers might provide:

1. instruction for students learning to read based on their specific needs and using texts at their reading level;
2. instruction for different learners using grade-level texts to support whole-class instruction;
3. extension for proficient readers using challenging texts.

Small-Group Writing

Most writing instruction is likely to occur during whole-class time. This time is for supporting student needs that cannot be met during whole-class instruction. Teachers might provide:

1. instruction for students learning to write based on their specific developmental needs;
2. instruction for different learners to support whole-class instruction and meet grade-level writing standards;
3. extension for proficient writers.

Independent Reading

This time is for increasing the volume and range of reading that cannot be achieved through other instruction but is necessary for student growth. Teachers can:

1. support growing reading ability by allowing students to read books at their reading level;
2. encourage reading enjoyment and build reading stamina and perseverance by allowing students to select their own texts in addition to teacher-selected texts.

TEXT SEQUENCE AND SAMPLE WHOLE-CLASS TASKS

NOTES ABOUT THE LESSONS: Throughout this unit, students will build knowledge about vocabulary and notable historical figures. Students will progressively build knowledge using the following tools.

- Vocabulary Display: The class creates a display for the vocabulary words learned in the unit. Focus on selecting words related to the unit focus and words that have multiple meanings or are part of a word family. Students work with the teacher to define the word and create visual depictions of the various connections between words in the texts. Begin in Lesson 1.
- Famous Americans Learning Log: Students create and maintain an interactive notebook<sup>12</sup> that contains a section for famous Americans studied in the unit. For each famous American, students complete the following. Begin in Lesson 1.
  1. Biography Chart: On a three-column graphic organizer, students summarize biographical information and main life events for each person studied in the unit. Students build skill in asking and answering who, what, when, where, how, and why questions to demonstrate understanding of a text.
  2. General notes and written responses about the people studied in the unit.
- Class Timeline: The class creates a timeline to connect the lives of the various individuals studied in the unit. A similar task is suggested in Domain 12 Read-Aloud Anthology from Core Knowledge Grade 2 Listening and Learning Strand. Begin in Lesson 1.

LESSON 1:<sup>13</sup> “Susan B. Anthony: An Advocate for Women’s Rights” is a biography, which includes details about the life and contributions of Susan B. Anthony. TEXT FOCUS: This text provides opportunities for students to read and understand a complex text with teacher support. Students will closely examine the vocabulary. Students will identify the main purpose of a biography, as the teacher explains that many will be read throughout the unit. Students will identify the main causes for which Anthony fought and use this text to identify characteristics of a person that would make the person “famous,” including words, thoughts, and actions. Students will keep a journal of famous Americans throughout the unit. MODEL TASKS

<sup>13</sup> Note: One lesson does not equal one day. Teachers should determine how long to take on a given lesson. This will depend on each unique class.
